MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 5th April 1897.

No. 82 Marine.—The following notification of the Government of India is republished for general information.

A. D. MCARTHUR, Col., R.E.,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1360S.R., dated the 24th March 1896.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department.

UNDER the provisions of sections 65 and 89 of the Merchant Shipping Act (57 and 58 Vic., chap. 60) the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the forms referred to in the Memorandum of the Board of Trade and General Order of Her Majesty's Commissioners of Customs set forth below shall be adopted in British India for the registry of British ships under the said Act, with effect from the 1st April 1897.

A supply of the forms can be obtained on application at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay from the Port Officer, and at any other port from the officer appointed by the local Government to be a Registrar of British Ships at that port.

(1) Memorandum of the Board of Trade, dated July 1896, No. 547.

IT has been thought expedient to make alterations in certain of the forms used in connection with the registry of British ships The forms so altered have, in accordance with section 65 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, been prescribed by the Commissioners of Customs with the consent of the Board of Trade, and public notice of the alterations has been given by the Commissioners in the United Kingdom.

As the section quoted above requires the prescribed forms to be used by all Registrars of Shipping, and as section 89 of the Act provides that the Governor of each British Possession shall occupy the place of the Commissioners of Customs in matters relating to the registry of ships, it is necessary that notices, somewhat similar to those issued in the United Kingdom by the Commissioners of Customs, should be issued in the British Possessions.

A copy of the Notice issued by the Commissioners, and a copy of their General Order ($\frac{19}{1896}$) upon the subject are enclosed, and it is suggested that in framing similar notices and instructions in British Possessions the 1st January 1897 would be a convenient date for bringing the new forms into use.

No alteration involving any question of principle affecting the registry of ships has been made, the old forms and the new being practically the same. It would, therefore, be advisable that any notice of the kind proposed should be so framed as not to invalidate any old form which may be inadvertently used after the date upon which the new forms come into use.

Copies of the new forms Nos. 1 to 18*a* are enclosed, and a supply of these forms for use can be obtained on application in the usual manner.

(2) General Order No. $\frac{19}{1896}$, dated 5th May 1896, by the Commissioners of Customs, referred to above.

They have, also with the consent of the Board of Trade, approved of the revision of the Forms specified in Part I, Schedule of the above Act.

Form No. 1. Certificate of Survey.

Form No. 1, Certificate of Survey, and No. 18*a*, Provisional Certificate, which are not in use by Officers of this Department, will be obtained, kept, and issued by the Board of Trade.

Whereas by Order in Council made in pursuance of the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, and dated the fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, Her Majesty, on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, was pleased to direct that on and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, the Regulations for preventing Collisions at Sea contained in an Order in Council dated the ninth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and the additions by an Order in Council dated the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, made thereto, should be annulled, and that there should be substituted therefor the new Regulations contained in the first schedule to the said first-named Order in Council, and that the same should from and after the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, apply to ships of the countries mentioned in the said second schedule thereto, whether within British jurisdiction or not.

SCHEDULE REFERRED TO IN THIS ORDER.

Regulations for preventing Collisions at Sea.

Article 1.—In the following rules every steam ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing ship; and every steam ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

Rules concerning Lights.

Article 2.—The lights mentioned in the following Articles numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers, from sunset to sunrise.

Article 3.—A seagoing steam ship when under way shall carry:—

(a) On or in front of the foremast, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the ship exceeds 20 feet, then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz., from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles.

(b) On the starboard side a green light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.

(c) On the port side a red light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.

(d) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Article 4.—A steam ship, when towing another ship shall, in addition to her side lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 3 feet apart, so as to distinguish her from other steam ships. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position, as the white light which other steam ships are required to carry.

Article 5 (a).—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, which from any accident is not under command, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and, if a steam ship, in place of that light, three red lights in globular lanterns, each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in a vertical line one over the other not less than three feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere at a distance of at least two miles; and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three black balls or shapes, each two feet in diameter.

(b) A ship, whether a steam ship or sailing ship employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and if a steam ship, in place of that light, three lights in globular lanterns each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in vertical line over one another, not less than 6 feet apart; the highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character that the red lights shall be visible at the same distance as the white light. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than six feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three shapes not less than two feet in diameter, of which the top and bottom shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c) The ships referred to in this Article, when not making any way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other ships as signals that the ship showing them is not under command, and cannot therefore get out of the way. The signals to be made by ships in distress and requiring assistance are contained in Article 27.

Article 6.—A sailing ship under way or being towed shall carry the same lights as are provided by Article 3 for a steam ship under way, with the exception of the white light, which she shall never carry.

Article 7.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the green and red side lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 8.—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, when at anchor, shall carry, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light, in a globular lantern of not less than 8 inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least one mile.

Article 9.—A pilot vessel, when engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall not carry the light required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed fifteen minutes.

A pilot vessel, when not engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other ships.

Article 10.—Open boats and fishing vessels of less than 20 tons net registered tonnage, when under way and when not having their nets, trawls, dredges, or lines in the water, shall not be obliged to carry the coloured side lights; but every such boat and vessel shall in lieu thereof have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on the one side, and a red glass on the other side, and on approaching to or being approached by another vessel such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

The following portion of this Article applies only to fishing vessels and boats when in the sea off the coast of Europe lying north of Cape Finisterre :—

(a) All fishing vessels and fishing boats of 20 tons net registered tonnage, or upwards, when under way and when not required by the following regulations in this Article to carry and show the lights therein named shall carry and show the same lights as other vessels under way.

(b) All vessels when engaged in fishing with drift nets shall exibit two white lights from any part of the vessel where they can be best seen. Such lights shall be placed so that the vertical distance between them shall be not less than 6 feet and not more than 10 feet; and so that the horizontal distance between them measured in a line with the keel of the vessel shall be not less than 5 feet and not more than 10 feet. The lower of these two lights shall be the more forward, and both of them shall be of such a character, and contained in lanterns of such construction as to show all round the horizon, on a dark night with a clear atmosphere, for a distance of not less than three miles.

(c) A vessel employed in line fishing with her lines out shall carry the same lights as a vessel when engaged in fishing with drift nets.

(d) If a vessel when fishing becomes stationary in consequence of her gear getting fast to a rock or other obstruction, she shall show the light and make the fog signal for a vessel at anchor.

(e) Fishing vessels and open boats may at any time use a flare-up in addition to the lights which they are by this Article required, to carry and show. All flare-up lights exhibited by a vessel when trawling dredging, or fishing with any kind of drag net shall be shown at the after part of the vessel, expecting that if the vessel is hanging by the stern to her trawl, dredge, or drag net, they shall be exhibited from the bow.

(f) Every fishing vessel and every open boat when at anchor between sunset and sunrise shall exhibit a white light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

(g) In fog, mist, or falling snow, a drift net vessel attached to her nets and a vessel when trawling, dredging or fishing with any kind of drag net, and a vessel employed in line fishing with her lines out, shall at intervals of not more than two minutes make a blast with her fog horn and ring her bell alternately.

Article 11. A ship which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned ship a white light or a flare-up light.

Sound signals for fog, &c.

Article 12. A steam ship shall be provided with a steam whistle or other efficient steam sound signal, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstructions, and with an efficient fog horn to be sounded by a bellows or other mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing ship shall be provided with a similar fog horn and bell.

In fog, mist, or falling snow, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows; that is to say,—

(a) A steam ship under way shall make with her steam whistle, or other steam sound signal, at intervals of not more than two minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A sailing ship under way shall make with her fog horn, at intervals of not more than two minutes, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(c) A steam ship and a sailing ship, when not under way, shall at intervals of not more than two minutes ring the bell.

Speed of ships to be moderate in fog, &c.

Article 13. Every ship, whether a sailing ship or steam ship, shall, in a fog, mist, or falling snow, go at a moderate speed.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Article 14. When two sailing ships are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz.:—

(a) A ship which is running free shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled.

(b) A ship which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free with the wind on different sides, the ship which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free with the wind on the same side, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

(e) A ship which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other ship.

Article 15. If two ships under steam are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where ships are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two ships which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

* In all cases where the Regulations require a bell to be used, a drum will be substituted on board Turkish vessels.

The only cases to which it does apply are, when each of the two ships is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words, to cases in which, by day, each ship sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line with her own; and by night, to cases in which each ship is in such a position as to see both the side lights of the other.

It does not apply by day to cases in which a ship sees another ahead crossing her own course or by night to cases where the red light of one ship is opposed to the red light of the other or where the green light of one ship is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

Article 16. If two ships under steam are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 17. If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship and the other a steam ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

Article 18. Every steam ship, when approaching another ship, so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed or stop and reverse, if necessary.

Article 19. In taking any course authorised or required by these regulations, a steam ship under way may indicate that course to any other ship which she has in sight by the following signals on her steam whistle, viz.—

One short blast to mean "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean "I am going full speed astern."

The use of these signals is optional, but if they are used the course of the ship must be in accordance with the signal made.

Article 20. Notwithstanding anything contained in any preceding Article, every ship, whether a sailing ship or a steam ship, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken ship.

Article 21. In narrow channels every steam ship shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such ship.

Article 22.—Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course.

Article 23. In obeying and construing these rules due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No ship under any circumstances to neglect proper precautions.

Article 24. Nothing in these rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 25. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland navigation.

Special lights for Squadrons and Convoys.

Article 26. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for ships sailing under convoy.

Article 27. When a ship is in distress and requires assistance from other ships or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, that is to say:

In the day time—

1. A gun fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by N C;
3. The distant signal, consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball, or anything resembling a ball.

At night—

1. A gun fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flames on the ship (as from a burning tar barrel, oil barrel, &c.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals.

A vessel is "under way" within the meaning of these Rules, when she is not at anchor, or made fast to the shore or aground.

Rules concerning Lights, &c.

The word "visible" in these Rules, when applied to lights, shall mean visible on a dark night with clear atmosphere.

Article 1.—The Rules concerning lights shall be complied with in all weathers from sunset to sunrise and during such time no other lights which may be mistaken for the prescribed lights shall be exhibited.

Article 2.—A steam vessel when under way shall carry—

(a) On or in front of the foremast, or if a vessel without a foremast, then in the fore part of the vessel, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the vessel exceeds 20 feet, then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, so, however, that the light need not be carried at a greater height above the hull than 40 feet, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the vessel, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 5 miles.

(b) On the starboard side a green light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(c) On the port side a red light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(d) The said green and red side-lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

(e) A steam vessel when under way may carry an additional white light similar in construction to the light mentioned in subdivision (a). These two lights shall be so placed in line with the keel that one shall be at least 15 feet higher than the other, and in such a position with reference to each other that the lower light shall be forward of the upper one. The vertical distance between these lights shall be less than the horizontal distance.

Article 3.—A steam vessel when towing another vessel shall, in addition to her side-lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and when towing more than one vessel shall carry an additional bright white light 6 feet above or below such lights, if the length of the tow, measuring from the stern of the towing vessel to the stern of the last vessel towed exceeds 600 feet. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), except the additional light, which may be carried at a height of not less than 14 feet above the hull.

Such steam vessel may carry a small white light abaft the funnel or aftermast for the vessel towed to steer by, but such light shall not be visible forward of the beam.

Article 4 (a).—A vessel which from any accident is not under command shall carry at the same height as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), where they can best be seen, and, if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light two red lights, in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 2 miles, and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, two black balls or shapes each 2 feet in diameter.

(b) A vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable shall carry in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), and if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light, three lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart. The highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least 2 miles. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, three shapes not less than 2 feet in diameter, of which the highest and lowest shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c) The vessels referred to in this Article, when not making way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other vessels as signal that the vessel showing them is not under command and cannot therefore get out of the way.

These signals are not signals of vessels in distress and requiring assistance. Such signals are contained in Article 31.

Article 5.—A sailing vessel under way, and any vessel being towed, shall carry the same lights as are prescribed by Article 2 for a steam vessel under way, with the exception of the white lights mentioned therein which they shall never carry.

Article 6.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels under way during bad weather, the green and red side-lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept at hand lighted and ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side, nor, if practicable, more than 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 7.—Steam vessels of less than 40, and vessels under oars or sails of less than 20, tons gross tonnage, respectively, and rowing boats, when underway, shall not be obliged to carry the lights mentioned in Article 2 (a) (b) and (c), but if they do not carry them, they shall be provided with the following lights:—

1. Steam vessels of less than 40 tons shall carry:

(a) In the fore part of the vessel, or on or in front of the funnel where it can best be seen, and at a height above the gunwale of not less than 9 feet, a bright white light constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (a), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(b) Green and red side-lights constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (b) and (c), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile, or a combined lantern showing a green light and a red light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides. Such lantern shall be carried not less than 3 feet below the white light.

2. Small steamboats, such as are carried by sea-going vessels, may carry the white light at a less height than 9 feet above the gunwale, but it shall be carried above the combined lantern, mentioned in subdivision 1 (b).

3. Vessels under oars or sails, of less than 20 tons, shall have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on one side and a red glass on the other, which, on the approach of or two other vessels, shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

4. Rowing boats, whether under oars, or sail, shall have ready at hand a lantern showing a white light, which shall be temporarily exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision.

The vessels referred to in this Article shall not be obliged to carry the lights prescribed by Article 4 (a) and Article 11, last paragraph.

Article 8.—Pilot vessels, when engaged on their station on pilotage duty shall not show the lights required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed 15 minutes.

On the near approach of or to other vessels they shall have their side-lights lighted, ready for use, and shall flash or show them at short intervals, to indicate the direction in which they are heading, but the green light shall not be shown on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

A pilot-vessel of such a class as to be obliged to go alongside of a vessel to put a pilot on board, may show the white light instead of carrying it at the masthead, and may, instead of the coloured lights above mentioned, have at hand ready for use a lantern with a green glass on the one side and a red glass on the other, to be used as prescribed above.

Pilot vessels, when not engaged on their station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other vessels of their tonnage.

*Article 9.

Article 10.—A vessel which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned vessel a white light or a flare-up light.

The white light required to be shown by this Article may be fixed and carried in a lantern, but in such case the lantern shall be so constructed, fitted, and screened that it shall throw an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 12 points of the compass, viz., for 6 points from right aft on each side of the vessel, so as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile. Such light shall be carried as nearly as practicable on the same level as the side-lights.

Article 11.—A vessel under 150 feet in lenght, when at anchor, shall carry forward, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light in a lantern so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 1 mile.

A vessel of 150 feet or upwards in length, when at anchor, shall carry in the forward part of the vessel, at a height of not less than 20, and not exceeding 40 feet above the hull, one such light and at or near the stern of the vessel, and at such a height that it shall be not less than 15 feet lower than the forward light, another such light.

The length of a vessel shall be deemed to be the length appearing in her certificate of registry.

A vessel aground in or near a fairway shall carry the above light or lights and the two red lights prescribed by Article 4 (a).

Article 12.—Every vessel may, if necessary in order to attract attention, in addition to the lights which she is by these Rules required to carry, show a flare-up light or use any detonating signal that cannot be mistaken for a distress signal.

Article 13.—Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for vessels sailing under convoy, or with the exhibition of recognition signals adopted by shipowners, which have been authorized by their respective Governments and duly registered and published.

* This Article will deal with regulations affecting fishing boats, and will be the subject of another Order, which will be submitted to Her Majesty for approval at a later date.

Article 14.—A steam vessel proceeding under sail only, but having her funnel up, shall carry in daytime, forward, where it can best be seen, one black ball or shape 2 feet in diameter.

Sound-Signals for Fog, etc.

Article 15.—All signals prescribed by this Article for vessels under way shall be given;

1. By "steam vessels" on the whistle or siren.
2. By "sailing vessels and vessels towed" on the fog-horn.

The words "prolonged blast" used in this Article, shall mean a blast of from 4 to 6 seconds' duration.

A steam vessel shall be provided with an efficient whistle or siren, sounded by steam or some substitute for steam, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstruction, and with an efficient fog-horn, to be sounded by mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing vessel of 20 tons gross tonnage or upwards shall be provided with a similar fog-horn and bell.

In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain storms, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows, viz.:—

(a) A steam vessel having way upon her, shall sound, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A steam vessel under way, but stopped and having no way upon her, shall sound at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, 2 prolonged blasts, with an interval of about 1 second between them.

(c) A sailing vessel under way shall sound, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(d) A vessel, when at anchor, shall, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, ring the bell rapidly for about 5 seconds.

(e) A vessel, when towing a vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, and a vessel under way, which is unable to get out of the way of an approaching vessel through being not under command, or unable to manœuvre as required by these Rules, shall, instead of the signals prescribed in sub-divisions (a) and (c) of the Article, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, sound three blasts in succession, viz., one prolonged blast followed by two short blasts. A vessel towed may give this signal and she shall not give any other.

Sailing-vessels and boats of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to give the above-mentioned signals, but if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound-signal at intervals of not more than 1 minute.

Speed of Ships to be Moderate in Fog, etc.

Article 16.—Every vessel shall, in a fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms, go at a moderate speed having careful regard to the existing circumstances and conditions.

A steam vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam, the fog-signal of a vessel the position of which is not ascertained, shall, so far as the circumstances of the case admit, stop her engines, and then navigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Preliminary—Risk of Collision.

Risk of collision can, when circumstances permit, be ascertained by carefully watching the compass bearing of an approaching vessel. If the bearing does not appreciably change, such risk should be deemed to exist.

Article 17.—When two sailing vessels are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz:—

(a) A vessel which is running free shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled.

(b) A vessel which is close hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free, with the wind on different sides, the vessel which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free, with the wind on the same side, the vessel which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is to leeward.

(e) A vessel which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other vessel.

Article 18.—When two steam vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two vessels which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

* In all cases where the Rules require a bell to be used, a drum may be substituted on board Turkish vessels, or a gong where such articles are used on board shall sea-going vessels.

The only cases to which it does apply are when each of the two vessels is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words to cases in which, by day, each vessel sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own; and, by night, to cases in which each vessel is in such a position as to see both the side-lights of the other.

It does not apply, by day, to cases in which a vessel sees another ahead crossing her own course; or by night to cases where the red light of one vessel is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one vessel is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen any where but ahead.

Article 19.—When two steam vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 20.—When a steam vessel and a sailing vessel are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam vessel shall keep out of the way of the sailing vessel.

Article 21.—Where by any of the Rules one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed.

Note.—When, in consequence of thick weather or other causes, such vessel finds herself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way vessel alone, she also shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision. (See articles 27 and 29.)

Article 22.—Every vessel which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other.

Article 23.—Every steam vessel, which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall on approaching her, if necessary, slacken her speed or stop or reverse.

Article 24.—Notwithstanding anything contained in these Rules, every vessel, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel.

Every vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction more than two points abaft, her beam, i.e., in such a position, with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking, that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's side-lights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel; and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of these Rules, or relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

As by day the overtaking vessel cannot always know with certainty whether she is forwarded of or abaft this direction from the other vessel, she should, if in doubt, assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.

Article 25.—In narrow channels every steam vessel shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of fair-way or mid channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

Article 26.—Sailing vessels under way shall keep out of the way of sailing vessels or boats fishing with nets or lines, or trawls. This Rule shall not give to any vessel or boat engaged in fishing the right of obstructing a fairway used by vessels other than fishing-vessels or boats.

Article 27.—In obeying and construing these Rules, due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

Sound Signals for Vessels in Sight of one another.

Article 28.—The words "short blast" used in this Article shall mean a blast of about one seconds duration

When vessels are in sight of one another, a steam vessel under way, in taking any course authorized or required by these Rules, shall indicate that course by the following signals on her whistle or siren, viz.:—

One short blast to mean, "I am directing my course to starboard."
Two short blasts to mean, "I am directing my course to port."
Three short blasts to mean, "My engines are going full speed astern."

No Vessel under any Circumstances to neglect proper Precautions.

Article 29.—Nothing in these Rules shall exonerate any vessel, or the owner, or master, or crew, thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 30.—Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland waters.

SCHEDULE II.

Distress Signals.

Article 31.—When a vessel is in distress and requires assistance from other vessels or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together or separately, viz. :—

In the day time—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by N C;
3. The distance signal, consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball or anything resembling a ball;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

A night—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flames on the vessel (as from a burning tar-barrel, oil-barrel, etc.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in June. The examination will be conducted either at the College or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements in regard to the place and hour of examination with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned :—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principals for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principals not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

N. B.—The attention of candidates is drawn to the alteration in rule 2 (3). In future no candidate is to apply direct to the Principal for permission to attend the examination, but must send his application through an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who will decide whether the candidate is to be admitted.

The Principal will attend to no application received direct.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made); packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross-references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product, even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal 8vo. pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G.; Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI); but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the Vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

ESTATES PARTITION BILL.

THE following Preliminary Report of the Select Committee, together with the Bill as amended by them, is, by order of the President, published for general information for the purpose of eliciting opinions thereon:—

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE.

WE, the Members of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill to amend the law relating to the partition of estates, have the honour to submit the following preliminary report. As we have made numerous alterations in the Bill, we recommend that it be re-published in the Gazette for the purpose of eliciting opinions upon it.

Papers Nos. 1 to 5.

1. We have considered the marginally-noted reports on the Bill.

2. Section 2.—As regards the completion under the Act of 1876 of partition proceedings commenced under that Act before the Bill becomes law, we have provided that the proceedings may be carried on under that Act if an order has been made under section 63, instead of when the later stage has been reached of publishing a notification under that section. We have also provided that the proceedings shall not be carried on under the Act of 1876, but shall be completed under the Bill, if all the proprietors so desire.

We have added a clause providing that where in any case the Collector has, before the Bill becomes law, directed that an application for partition be admitted, section 11 of the Act of 1876 shall apply instead of clause (a) of section 11 of the Bill. This addition makes it clear that the new limit of Rs. 20 will not have effect in such cases.

The usual clauses have been added, saving the past operation of the Act of 1876 and providing for references to that Act or former laws being construed as references to the Bill.

3. Section 3.—We have struck out the definition of "amin" as being unnecessary, and removed that word wherever it occurred in the Bill.

We have struck out the definition of "Lieutenant-Governor" as being unnecessary.

The definitions of "tenure," "permanent tenure" and "holding," contained in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, have been incorporated by reference.

Clause (e) of the first definition of "assets" contained in section 3 of the Bill as introduced has been removed as being superfluous. There is no such clause in the present law.

In clause (f) [formerly clause (g)] of the same definition the word "trees" has been inserted, trees being sometimes a sufficiently important source of profit to deserve express mention.

4. Section 7.—This section is new. It reproduces section 12 of the Estates Partition Act, 1876, with two amendments, namely, (1) a provision that the section will only apply where the private arrangement has been formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors, and (2) a clause declaring that no objection to the partition of an estate on the ground that the lands have been divided by private arrangement shall be admitted unless it is presented before the Collector records a proceeding declaring the estate to be under partition. We see no sufficient cause for the omission of this section from the Bill as introduced.

5. Section 9 (=Section 4 of Bill as introduced).—The first portion of section 4 of the Bill as introduced has been omitted, and the wording of the rest of the section revised, in order to avoid conflict with section 2 of the Bill as now amended.

6. Section 11 (= Section 10 of Bill as introduced).—In this section has been inserted for greater clearness a formal saving of the clauses of section 2 of the Bill which admit of partitions pending under the Act of 1876 being carried on under that Act.

The section has been applied to all estates, whether permanently settled or not.

The limit of Rs. 100 has been reduced to Rs. 20.

The form of the proviso to section 10 of the Bill as introduced has been changed in order to secure greater clearness.

7. Section 12 (=Section 11 of Bill as introduced).—The words "or to proceed with a partition undertaken on such an application" are added. They assimilate the section more closely to section 13 of the Act.

8. Section 14 (=Section 13 of Bill as introduced).—We have provided that if a sale for arrears of revenue is set aside the partition proceedings shall be revived.

9. Section 16 (=Section 15 of Bill as introduced).—We have removed the words which required that an agent presenting an application for partition should have personal knowledge of the facts. Proprietors will often find it convenient to have applications presented by pleaders who can have no personal knowledge of the facts contained in them.

10. Section 17 (=Section 16 of Bill as introduced).—The opening clause of this section is altered so as to require the statement of particulars known to or ascertainable by an agent presenting an application, as well as the applicant himself.

In clause (d) we have required a statement of—

(1) the name and address of every proprietor of any other estate holding land in common with the proprietors of the parent estate, and

(2) the name of the post office of the area within which each of such other proprietors resides.

11. Section 18 (= Section 17 of Bill as introduced).—We have provided that the verification of the application, rent-roll and specification shall be made by the applicant himself or by duly authorised agent having personal knowledge of the facts.

12. Section 20 (= Section 19 of Bill as introduced).—We have provided that the notification of an application shall invite objectors to state their objections on or before the day specified in the notification, the words "or before" being new. The amendment assimilates the section to the section which next follows.

13. Section 27 (= Section 26 of Bill as introduced).—This section has been altered so as to show that the application must be made to the Collector, and not to the Court.

14. Section 29 (=Section 28 of Bill as introduced).—Sub-section (2) has been amplified, and sub-section (3) added, in order to assimilate the section more nearly to section 32 of the Act.

15. Section 32 (1) [=Section 31 (1) of Bill as introduced].—The words "and unless, for reasons to be recorded by him in writing, he considers it inexpedient to do so" have been struck out, because we consider that when all the recorded proprietors wish to stop the proceedings the Collector should always accede to their wishes.

16. Section 33 (1) [=Section 32 (1) of Bill as introduced].—The words "whether or not from information which was not before the Commissioner at the time the partition was ordered" have been struck out as being surplusage. The words which confined the Commissioner's power to cases in which no petition had been presented to the Collector have also been struck out.

17. Section 34 (=Section 33 of Bill as introduced).—This section has been simplified by the omission of unnecessary details.

18. Section 36 (=Section 35 of Bill as introduced).—The words requiring that the costs of making a partition should be levied during the progress of the partition have been struck out, it being unnecessary to specify the period of realisation so precisely.

19. Section 37 (=Section 36 of Bill as introduced).—The direction that the costs of making a partition shall be apportioned on the proprietors of the several shares in proportion to their shares, which is contained in section 40 of the Act, has been restored.

20. Section 38 (= Section 37 of Bill as introduced).—The words "as prescribed by rules made by the Board," at the end of this section, have been struck out as surplusage.

21. Section 40 (= Section 39 of Bill as introduced).—The second paragraph of section 43 of the Act (imposing a limit on the amount of a Deputy Collector's salary chargeable as part of the cost of partitions), which was omitted from the Bill as introduced, has been restored, it having been brought to our notice that the paragraph represents a compromise which was accepted when section 43 of the Act was agreed to in Council.

22. Section 41 (= Section 40 of Bill as introduced).—This section has been recast. The principal amendments made are as follow:—

(1) The words "except as provided in section 42" are substituted for the words "except as hereinafter otherwise provided" in sub-section (1), a specific reference being more convenient than a general reference.

(2) The new sub-sections (2) to (5) restore sections 46 and 47 of the Act of 1876, though in somewhat different language. The words requiring that the fees should be levied during the progress of the partition have been omitted from the new sub-section (5), just as the similar words in section 36 of the Bill have been omitted.

(3) In the new sub-section (6) the word "financial" has been inserted before "year."

23. Section 42 (= Section 41 of Bill as introduced).—The alterations (which are all printed in italics) are made merely for securing greater precision.

24. Sections 43 to 49, Chapter VI (= Chapter V of the Bill as introduced).—We have recast this Chapter. The Bill, as introduced, provided for the making of a complete survey and the preparation of a record-of-rights, including the determination of the status of all tenants and the decision of all disputes by the Deputy Collector, whose decisions were to be deemed to be correct until the contrary was proved and were to be appealable only to the Revenue authorities.

Under the Bill for amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act, which is now before the Council, Revenue Officers are to be deprived of the power of deciding disputes as to possession, right and title, and their orders are not to have the force and effect of decrees of a Civil Court. We think that still less should powers to decide disputes be given them in partition proceedings.

The determination and recording of the status of tenants are not necessary for the purpose of apportioning the revenue of estates under partition, and for this reason, and because the proprietors unanimously object to complicating the proceedings by recording the rights of the tenants, we have omitted the status of tenants from the particulars which the Deputy Collector is to record in making a survey.

We have provided that the Deputy Collector shall make a survey showing the area of land held by each tenant and prepare a record of existing rents (i) as stated by the landlord, (ii) as stated by the tenant, and (iii) as taken for the purposes of the partition. We have also provided that a copy of extracts relating to their holdings containing these particulars shall be given to the tenants. We think these extracts will sufficiently protect them against the risk of having the partition proceedings made use of to their detriment. We have attached no special evidential value to the entries made by the Deputy Collector in the survey papers and record of existing rents. They may be referred to by the Courts as evidence of the contemporaneous admissions or allegations of the parties as to the amount of the rent at the time the record was prepared, and as evidence of what was the Deputy Collector's opinion as to the amount of the rent, and no more. We do not think it necessary for the purposes of the partition, or desirable on general grounds, to empower the Deputy Collector to decide any disputes relating to rent or status in the course of partition proceedings, and have modified the Chapter accordingly. The precise amendments made in the Chapter are as follow:—

(1) Section 43 (= Section 42 of Bill as introduced).—The words "so far as they are applicable" are new, and are inserted because some of the powers exerciseable under Chapter X of the Tenancy Act, such as the power of settling rents, cannot be exercised under this Bill.

(2) Section 44 (= Section 48 of Bill as introduced).—The words "shall, subject to the provisions of section 48" are substituted in this section for the words "shall, except in the cases mentioned in section 48, and may, if so directed by the Collector in any case so mentioned," and the words "unless the Collector otherwise directs" are inserted in section 48. The object of these amendments is simply to secure greater precision.

(3) The words "record of existing rents" are substituted in section 44 and other sections of Chapter VI for the words "record-of-rights."

(4) Section 45 (= Section 44 of Bill as introduced).—Clause (b) has been amplified.

Clause (c) of section 44 of the Bill as introduced has been omitted.

The revised section requires the Deputy Collector to record the rent payable:—

(i) as stated by the landlord;
(ii) as stated by the tenant; and
(iii) as taken by the Deputy Collector for the purposes of the partition.

(5) Section 46 (=Section 45 of Bill as introduced).—Sub-section (1) is altered so as to cover the attestation of the survey papers as well as the record of existing rents.

In sub-section (2) the word "persons" is substituted for "parties."

In sub-section (3) the Deputy Collector is required to note the statements of the persons interested, before passing his order, and it is provided that the said order must declare what entry shall be accepted for the purposes of the partition.

(6) Section 47 (= Section 46 of Bill as introduced).—It is provided that the survey papers shall be dealt with in the same way as the record of existing rents, that is to say, that they must be published in such manner as the Board may by rule prescribe and extracts thereof given to landlords and tenants.

Sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 46, and section 47, of the Bill as introduced have been omitted.

(7) Section 48.—The words "and that no injustice would be done to the tenants," in clause (b) of section 48 of the Bill as introduced, and sub-section (3) of that section, are omitted as being too indefinite.

The other amendments made are verbal.

(8) Section 49.—The survey papers are mentioned, as well as the record of existing rents.

The reference to appeals is omitted because the Bill as introduced contemplated appeals from decisions by the Deputy Collector on disputed points, and we do not propose to give him power to decide any disputes.

25. Section 50.—This section has been brought into accord with section 507 of the Code of Civil Procedure (applied by section 51 of the Bill), which provides that arbitrators shall be nominated by the parties. It is also provided that the Deputy Collector shall make the partition himself, when the proprietors or the arbitrators fail to do so.

26. Section 54.—We have provided that partitions made by proprietors or arbitrators shall be subject to the approval of the Collector and the confirmation of the Commissioner, instead of being subject to the approval of the Deputy Collector, to the confirmation of the Collector, and to the orders of the Commissioner and the Board.

27. Section 56.—Sections 56 and 57 of the Bill as introduced have been combined, and the preliminary proceedings of the Deputy Collector simplified.

We have required the Deputy Collector to specify in the paper of partition the area of the lands included in each separate estate.

28. Section 58 of the Bill as introduced has been transposed and now appears (with amendments) as section 80.

29. Section 63 (=Section 65 of Bill as introduced).—This section declares the respective rights of proprietors when a dwelling-house belonging to one is situated on land allotted in the course of partition to another. We have carefully and exhaustively considered the question whether a section on the same lines should be introduced into the Bill dealing with buildings other than dwelling-houses, and have come to the conclusion that it would be inexpedient to do so.

30. Section 64 (=Section 66 of Bill as introduced).—We have restored this section to the form in which it stands in the Act, making it discretional with the Deputy Collector to apply the last preceding section to gardens, etc. We have struck out the words "sir land," as we think it inexpedient to allow the section to be applied to land of that description.

31. Section 67 (=Section 69 of Bill as introduced).—The reference to Government stock has been omitted.

32. Section 72 (=Section 74 of Bill as introduced).—We have struck out the proviso to sub-section (2), as being unnecessary.

33. Section 76 (=Section 77 of Bill as introduced).—We have altered this section so as to make it apply only where the lands of an estate have been divided by private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors. There is a similar restriction in the corresponding sections of the present Act.

34. Section 76 (=Section 78 of Bill as introduced).—The alterations here made are necessitated by the change made in section 75 and the insertion of section 7.

35. Section 79 (=Section 81 of Bill as introduced).—We have added reservoirs to the list of works which are to be deemed to be attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made.

36. Section 80 (=Section 58 of Bill as introduced).—Following the principles of Chapter VI, we have provided that notice shall be served on the tenants, and their objections heard, before a tenure or holding is split up for the purposes of a partition. The apportionment made by the Deputy Collector will not be binding on the tenants or landlords concerned, and will only be evidence of what, in the Deputy Collector's opinion, the fair apportionment should be.

37. Section 81 (=Section 82 of Bill as introduced).—We have substituted "land which is claimed to be held rent-free and for which no rent is actually paid" for "land which is actually held rent-free." The former phrase appears to be a more correct description of what is intended.

38. Section 87 (=Section 88 of Bill as introduced).—We have substituted "after due notice to the parties interested" for "after giving special notice to any parties claiming such land, other than the proprietors of the parent estate."

39. Section 89 (=Section 90 of Bill as introduced).—We have required the service of a notice through the Collector on all the parties, instead of the publication of a notification.

40 Sections 100 and 101 (=Sections 101 and 102 of Bill as introduced).—We have reduced the period of twelve years to six years in each of these sections.

41. Section 110 (=Section 111 of Bill as introduced.).—Clause (b) of section 111 of the Bill as introduced has been struck out, because we do not empower the Deputy Collector to decide disputes.

Clause (e) has been struck out in consequence of the change made in section 54.

Clauses (b) and (c) of section 110 of the present Bill contain amendments which are necessitated by changes made in Chapter VI of the Bill.

An appeal to the Collector has been allowed against orders made by the Deputy Collector—

(1) refusing to allow recorded proprietors to make a partition privately among themselves or by arbitration, or

(2) directing that a tenure or holding be split up and that the rent thereof be apportioned.

42. Section 111 (=Section 112 of Bill as introduced).—Clauses (d) and (e) are altered to follow the amendments made in sections 49 and 54.

43. Section 113 (=Section 114 of Bill as introduced).—We have struck out the clause which directed that applications for the exercise of the Board's power of revision should be accompanied by a certificate from the Commissioner.

Clause (b) is altered to follow the amendment made in section 49.

44. Section 115 (= Section 116 of Bill as introduced).—We have restored section 146 of the Act, giving powers of revision to the Collector and the Commissioner as well as the Board.

45. Section 118 (= Section 119 of Bill as introduced).—The reference to Chapter VI (=Chapter V of the Bill as introduced) has been struck out of clause (b). It is not considered necessary to bar the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts in the case of orders made under Chapter VI as now amended.

In the same clause we have excepted section 80 from the list of clauses orders under which are withdrawn from the cognizance of the Civil Courts.

46. Section 120 (= Section 121 of Bill as introduced).—The power of the Board to make rules is made discretionary, instead of compulsory.

Other alterations have been made to adapt the section to the earlier sections of the Bill as now amended.

47. Section 122 of the Bill as introduced has been struck out, the clauses under which the section gave power to the Lieutenant-Governor to make rules having been removed.

48. Some minor alterations have been made in the Bill which it is unnecessary to mention in detail.

49. As stated in the opening clause of this report, we think the Bill should be re-published before being further proceeded with.

I sign the report, subject to this reservation that I am opposed to the limit of Rs. 20 in section 11 of the Bill, and I reserve to myself the right of introducing amendments on this point.

ESHAN CHUNDRA MITTRA.

I SIGN the report subject to one reservation. I am opposed to any restrictions being imposed to a perfected butwara, (i. e.) to say complete separation of joint lands in an estate and complete separation of joint liability for the payment of Government revenue and cesses. The restriction in 1876 was coupled with the concession to redeem, and it appears that under the operation of the clause in the Act of 1876 only the amount 13 hundred and odd rupees of the annual Government revenue has been redeemed in the course of 20 years, while more than 2,000 estates paying Government revenue of not more than a rupee have been wipedoff the register of estates. I stated the general grounds on which I based my objections to this limit question, when the Partition Bill was referred to the Select Committee. Since then I had an opportunity of examining the figures; and it appears that with the original limit of Rs. 100, at least 142,280 out of 180,416 estates in the whole of the territories under His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, including Chittagong, would have been excluded from perfected partition if that limit were to stand. I say at least; for under the wording of the section and the operation of the other provisions of the law, estates paying more than Rs. 200 Government revenue up to any amount would have been excluded under some circumstances, and also all estates paying Rs. 200 a year as Government revenue. I have not examined these figures, nor is it necessary to do so, as Government now propose to reduce the limit to Rs. 20.

I could not get the figures for estates paying Rs. 20 and less as Government revenue; but we have before us the figures of estates paying not more than Rs. 40 and not less than Rs. 10 Government revenue in a year for all Bengal, excepting Chittagong, where there are 28,712 estates or tenures paying small amounts of Government revenue.

The number of these estates between Rs. 40 and Rs. 10 Government revenue is 43,548. The 20 rupee limit excludes all estates paying Government revenue up to Rs. 40. It therefore excludes all these estates, in number 43,548, as also all estates paying Government revenue of Rs. 10 or less, the number of which is 52,018. The total number of estates that come to be thus excluded are 43,548+52,018=95,566 out of a total number of estates 148,624 in Bengal, excluding Chittagong. There are some little discrepancies in the two rets of figures that have been placed before us, but the discrepancies are so small that they do not affect the result of the calculation and the argument based on such calculation. Thus, with a 20-rupee limit, at least 63 per cent. of the estates will be excluded from a perfected partition. I say at least; for while a 20-rupee limit excludes absolutely all estates paying Rs. 40 as Government revenue per annum, it may exclude estates paying more than Rs. 40 per annum. The figures do not enable me to determine the effect of a 10-rupee limit as regards whole Bengal, but we have the figures of estates paying Rs. 10 and less, and thus we can determine the effect of a 5-rupee limit. Even this small limit excludes from partition 52,018 estates out of the total number of 148,624, or in other words 35 per cent. Judging by the figures of the districts of Patna, Gaya, Shahabad, Champaran, Monghyr and Cuttack, it would appear that even a low limit of Rs. 2-8 annas would exclude 4,614 out of a total number of 39,810 in these districts, or in other words 11·6 per cent; but from a statement which has been placed in our hands today, I find that even with a rupee and four annas limit, 12 per cent. of the estates in the 13 districts where partition is very common, would be excluded from a perfected partition; for out of the total number of estates, 105,341 in these 13 districts, the number of estates which pay a yearly revenue of Rs. 2-8 and less is 12,660.

If administration purposes require it and redemption were allowed, even to a maximum of Rs. 2-8, at least 12,600 estates in these 13 districts could be at once wiped out of the revenue registers. The amount of Government revenue per annum to be written off, would not, taking an average, exceed Rs. 15,000, and more than the capital that would be needed to get annually Rs. 15,000 as a profit, could be easily got from the proprietors as price thereof.

I think the proprietors of estates would be too glad to redeem, at even 40 years' purchase, to free themselves from the troubles incident to the punctual payment of Government revenue

There can be no loss to Government if the redemption money be properly invested. As a matter of fact, the amount received during the last 20 years as redemption money under the operation of section 11 of the Act has not been so invested. This was probably owing to the smallness of the amount received, the total amount not exceeding 35 thousand rupees in twenty years.

There is no fear of any risk to the land revenue of Bengal if, apart from the general question of redemption, the limit of redemption under the batwara laws would be somewhat raised; for in the past 20 years, since which section 11 of the Act has been in operation, only the small amount of 13 hundred and odd of Government revenue has been redeemed, and at this rate it will take 1,600 years to reach even the moderate figure of a lakh of Government revenue out of 3 crores, 92 lakhs.

The present limit therefore at least for the time being serves all practical purposes, and it will be a considerable hardship to the poorer class of proprietors, who will be chiefly affected if the limit were to be any way raised.

As regards increased expenditure to Land Administration, judging by the figures of expenditure on District Land Administration as given in our Provincial budgets, the increase appears to be merely nominal. I wanted for a statement of this increase, and in reply I learnt that the tauzi establishment in the Muzaffarpur district had to be strengthened. But this may be due as much to the increase of estates as to the opening of separate accounts. I speak of this matter from memory, subject to correction, as I have mislaid the correspondence on the point.

It would have been of some purpose as bearing on this point if we had before us a statement of the increase of Civil and Criminal Proceedings, all owing to this cause, that is to the great multiplicity of estates. Such a statement is not in the papers before us.

CHAPTER II.

RIGHT TO CLAIM PARTITION.

[1876, s. 8.] 4(1). Subject to the provisions of this Act, every recorded proprietor of a joint undivided estate who is in actual possession of the interest in respect of which he is so recorded shall be entitled to claim a partition of the said estate and the separation therefrom and assignment to him as a separate estate of land representing the interest of which he is in such possession.

Who entitled to claim partition.

(2) Any two or more of such recorded proprietors may claim that land representing the interests of all such claimants be formed into one separate estate to be held by them as a joint undivided estate; and every provision of this Act which applies to an applicant for partition shall apply to any two or more persons making any such claim.

[1876, s. 9 (a), (b), (c).] 5. (1) If the interest of any recorded proprietor who is entitled to claim partition is an undivided share in an estate held in common tenancy, he shall be entitled to have assigned to him as his separate estate land of which the assets shall bear the same proportion to the assets of the parent estate as his undivided share in the parent estate bears to the entire parent estate.

Partition according to interest.

(2) If the interest of such recorded proprietor is the proprietary right over specific mauzas or lands forming part of the parent estate and held by him in severalty, he shall be entitled to have assigned to him as his separate estate the said mauzas or lands.

(3) If the interest of such recorded proprietor consists of an undivided share held in common tenancy in specific mauzas or tracts forming part of the parent estate, but not extending over the whole area of the parent estate, he shall be entitled to have assigned to him as his separate estate land, situated within such specific mauzas or tracts, of which the assets shall bear the same proportion to the assets of such specific mauzas or tracts as his undivided share in such specific mauzas or tracts bears to the entire mauzas or tracts:

Provided that, if the interest of such recorded proprietor consists of such an undivided share in more than one mauza or tract, he shall not be entitled to have land assigned to him in every such mauza or tract, but the Collector may assign to him as his separate estate land situated in any one or more of the said mauzas or tracts, subject to the condition that the assets of such land are in proportion to the aggregate of the interests which he holds in all such mauzas or tracts.

[New.] (4) If the interest of such recorded proprietor consists partly of land held in severalty, and partly of an undivided share either in the whole estate or in specific land held in common tenancy, he shall be entitled to have the portion of the common land falling by partition to his share added to the land held by him in severalty, and the estate thus formed shall be assigned to him as his separate estate, so that the assets shall bear the same proportion to the assets of the whole estate as his interest in all the land and undivided shares held by him bears to the aggregate interests of all the proprietors.

[1876, s. 9 (d).] (5) If the interest of such recorded proprietor is of more than one of the kinds specified in the preceding sub-sections, land shall be assigned to him as far as possible in accordance with the principles therein laid down.

[New.] 6. Whenever any land is held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates not being under partition, any one or more of such proprietors may, without applying for partition of their several estates inter se, apply for separation of the land held by them in common, and for the allotment of the proper shares of such land to each of their separate estates, the land-revenue of those estates remaining unaltered; and such application shall be dealt with as far as may be in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Separation of land held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates, when the estates are not under partition.

[1876, s. 12, modified.] 7. (1) Where the lands of an estate have been divided by private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors, and each proprietor has, in pursuance of such arrangement, taken possession of separate lands to be held in severalty as representing his interest in the estate, no partition of the estate shall be made under this Act except—

(a) on the joint application of all the proprietors, or

(b) in pursuance of a decree or order of a Civil Court.

(2) No objection to the partition of an estate under this Act on the ground that the lands have been divided by private arrangement shall be admitted unless it is presented before the Collector records a proceeding under section 28 declaring the estate to be under partition.

Partition of lands under Act where a partition has been made by private arrangement.

1876, s. 10.] 8. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, no person having a proprietary interest in an estate for the term of his life only shall be entitled to claim partition under this Act.

Tenants for life not entitled to claim partition.

(Chapter III.—Security of the Land Revenue.—Sections 9—12.)

CHAPTER III.

SECURITY OF THE LAND-REVENUE.

[1876, s. 5 modified.]

Future partitions not to relieve land from liability for total land-revenue, unless made as provided in this Act.

9. No partition of an estate made after the commencement of this Act shall relieve any land from liability to the Government for the total demand of land-revenue assessed upon the estate of which the land forms part, unless the partition is made as herein provided.

[1876, s. 6, modified.]

Amount of land-revenue to be assessed on each separate estate.

10. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, the amount of land-revenue assessed on each separate estate shall bear the same proportion to the whole amount of land-revenue for which the parent estate was liable as the assets of such separate estate bear to the whole assets of the parent estate.

[1876, s. 11, modified.]

Restrictions on partition of estate with reference to land-revenue.

11. Subject to clauses (b) and (c) of section 2 of this Act, no partition of an estate shall be made, and no application for the partition of an estate shall be admitted,—

(a) if the annual amount of land-revenue for which the separate estate of any of the proprietors would, after partition, be liable would not exceed twenty rupees, or

(b) if the Collector considers that for any reason any of the separate estates would be likely to prove an insufficient security for the payment of the land-revenue which would be separately charged upon it.

Execution of decree for partition.

11A. (1) Any Civil Court which has made a decree for the partition or for the separate possession of a share of an undivided estate paying land-revenue to the Government may, notwithstanding anything in section 265 of the Code of Civil Procedure, cause the decree to be executed in the manner prescribed in section 396 of that Code; and, if it does so, the joint and several liability of the entire estate for the whole of the land-revenue chargeable upon it shall not be prejudiced or affected. XIV of 1882.

(2) If any decree is sent to the Collector for execution under section 265 of the said Code, the execution thereof shall be subject to the restrictions imposed by section 11 of this Act.

[1876, s. 13, modified.]

Power to refuse partition which would result in formation of estates scattered so as to endanger the safety of the land-revenue.

12. The Collector may refuse to admit an application for the formation of land held in severalty into a separate estate, or to proceed with a partition undertaken on such an application, or to admit or proceed with any other application for partition, if, in consequence of the land being intermingled with that held by other proprietors, the result of the partition would be to form out of a compact estate one or more estates consisting of scattered parcels of land in such a way as, in the opinion of the Collector, to endanger the safety of the land-revenue:

(a) a partition may be allowed in any such case if the recorded proprietors agree to such a distribution of land as would make the estates formed by the partition reasonably compact;

(b) nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the partition into separate estates of any parent estate which before such partition is not compact and consists only of scattered parcels of land.

Interest alienated with special condition as to liability for land-revenue.

13. No proprietor who has alienated any portion of his interest in an estate, or in any specific land of an estate, by private contract, with the condition that the transferee shall be liable in respect of the interest acquired by him to pay a specified amount or a specified share of the land-revenue for which the estate is liable (such amount or share being other than the proportionate amount or the proportionate share for which such transferred interest if formed into a separate estate would be liable under section 10), and no proprietor who has derived his title from any proprietor who has made any alienation as aforesaid, shall be entitled to claim a separation under this Act of the interest which he continues to hold in the estate; and no such transferee as aforesaid, and no person deriving his title from such a transferee, shall be entitled to claim a separation of the interest which has been so acquired:

Provided that a separation of such interests may be made if the parties concerned agree—

(a) to waive the conditions of the contract as regards the proportion of land-revenue for which the transferor and transferee or their representatives respectively are liable, and

(b) to hold the estates which may be allotted to them respectively by the partition subject to the payment of such amount of land-revenue as may be assessed upon them respectively under this Act.

Sale, for arrears of land-revenue, of an estate which is under partition.

14. If any estate has been declared to be under partition as provided in section 28, any arrears of land-revenue accruing due thereon before the date specified in the notice issued under section 93 may be realized by sale of the estate as if the same had not been declared to be under partition; and, if such sale takes place, the partition proceedings shall cease from the date thereof, but shall be revived if the sale is set aside.

Sale, for arrears of land-revenue, of share in an estate which is under partition.

15. Nothing contained in section 14 shall be deemed to affect the provisions of section 10, section 11, section 12, section 13 or section 14 of Act XI of 1859 (an Act to improve the law relating to sales of land for arrears of revenue in the Lower Provinces under the Bengal Presidency), or any similar law for the time being in force, in respect to the opening of separate accounts for different shares in an estate and the protection afforded to such shares thereby:

Provided that, if any share in any estate is sold for its own arrears of land-revenue while such estate is under partition in accordance with the provisions of this Act, such share shall be sold subject to the partition proceedings, which shall proceed as if no such sale had taken place; and the purchaser of the share sold may, from the date of such sale, exercise all the rights which the proprietor whose share he has purchased might have exercised, and shall be subject to all the liabilities to which such proprietor would have been subject in respect of the partition proceedings.

CHAPTER IV.

INITIATION AND DISCONTINUANCE OF PARTITION PROCEEDINGS.

[1876, s. 17, and s. 52, para. 1.]

Application for partition how to be made.

16. Every application for partition shall be made in writing to the Collector of the district on the revenue-roll of which the estate is borne, and shall be presented by the applicant himself or by a duly authorized agent.

[1876, s. 18, modified.]

(d) the name and address of every proprietor, whether recorded or unrecorded, of such estate, the name and address of every proprietor of any other estate holding land in common with the proprietors of the parent estate, and the name of the post office of the area within which each of the said proprietors resides.

(e) the character and extent of the interest of which each proprietor of the parent estate is in possession;

(g) such further particulars, if any, as may be prescribed by rules made by the Board.

[1876, ss. 19, 52 modified.]

Application to be accompanied by copy of rent-roll and by specification of previous measurements and record-of-rights.

18. (1) Every such application shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (4) of this section, be accompanied by a copy of the rent-roll of the estate, and by a specification referring to the papers of every measurement and record-of-rights which has respectively been made of and prepared for the estate by any officer appointed in that behalf by the Government or other competent authority and of which the person verifying the application under sub-section (2) has knowledge.

(2) The said application, rent-roll and specification shall be verified at the foot of the application, by the applicant, or by a duly authorised agent having personal knowledge of the facts stated therein, in the manner following, or to the like effect:—

"I, A. B., declare that the particulars contained in this application and in the rent-roll and specification accompanying it are correct to the best of my knowledge and belief."

(3) If the said application, rent-roll or specification contains any entry which the person making the verification knows or believes to be false, or does not believe to be true, such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he gave false evidence.

(4) If the person presenting the application is unable to produce a rent-roll as required by sub-section (1) of this section, he shall state the reason of such inability, and the name and address of the person who has in his possession the information necessary for the preparation of such rent-roll; and the Collector may, if he thinks fit, require such person to produce such rent-roll.

[1876, s. 20.] 19. If any such application does not in the opinion of the Collector fulfil the requirements of the foregoing sections of this Chapter, he may either reject it or return it for amendment.

Procedure if application is not in order.

[1876, s. 21.] 20. If in the opinion of the Collector the application fulfils the said requirements, and if there appears to him to be no objection to making the partition, he shall—

Notification and notice of application.

(a) publish a notification of the application in the manner prescribed by section 103, and also by causing copies to be posted up at the Court of the Judge of the district and at the Court of every Munsif and Sub-divisional Officer within whose jurisdiction, and at every police-station within the jurisdiction of which, any land appertaining to the estate is known to be situated;

(b) by such notification invite any person claiming any proprietary right in the estate, who may object to the partition, to state his objection, either in person or by duly authorized agent, on or before a day to be specified in the notification, not being less than thirty or more than sixty days from the date of the publication of the notification on the estate; and [1876, s. 22.] (c) serve a notice of the application on such of the recorded proprietors of the estate as have not joined in the application, and on any unrecorded proprietor who has been named in the application.

Power to reject application on receipt of objection.

the notification published under section 20, or at any subsequent time if it shall then seem fit to the Collector to admit such objection, and the Collector, on consideration of the objection, is of opinion that there is good and sufficient reason for rejecting the application, he may reject the same, and if he does so shall record the grounds of such rejection.

Procedure when objection raises any question of right or title or of extent of interest.

22. If any such objection raises any question of right or title or of extent of interest as between any applicant and any other person claiming to be a proprietor of the parent estate, and if it appears to the Collector that such question has not been already determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the Collector may hold such inquiry into the objection as he may deem necessary, and, if he be satisfied that the applicant is in possession of the extent of the interest for the separation of which he has applied, may, instead of rejecting the application as provided in section 21,

(a) direct that the partition proceedings shall proceed for the purpose of forming and assigning to the applicant a separate estate in accordance with the extent of interest claimed by him in the parent estate; or (b) direct that such proceedings be postponed for four months.

[1876, s. 25.]

Resumption of proceedings after postponement.

23. At the expiration of the said four months the Collector shall resume the proceedings, unless the person who has made the objection, or some other person,—

(a) has obtained an order from a Civil Court directing that such proceedings be stayed, or

(b) shows that a suit has been instituted before a Civil Court to try some question of such a nature as to lead the Collector to think the proceedings ought to be stayed until the question has been finally decided or until the proceedings in such Court in respect thereof shall have terminated.

[1876, s. 26.]

Suits instituted after four months not to affect or stay proceedings for partition.

24. No suit instituted in a Civil Court, after the lapse of four months after the Collector has—

(a) made a direction under clause (a) or clause (b) of section 22, or

(b) recorded a proceeding under section 28, by any person claiming any right or title in or to a parent estate, shall avail to affect or stay the progress of any proceedings which may have been taken under this Act for the partition of the estate.

[1876, s. 27.]

Decree made while partition proceedings are in progress.

25. (1) Every decree affecting a parent estate made by a Civil Court after the estate has been declared under section 28 to be under partition, but before the date specified in the notice served under section 93—

(a) shall be made in recognition of the proceedings in progress under this Act for the partition of the estate, and

(b) shall be framed in such manner that the decree may be applied to, and carried out in reference to, the separate estates which the Collector in his proceeding under section 28 has ordered to be formed out of the parent estate.

(2) If the effect of any such decree be to declare any person or body of persons to be entitled to any extent of interest in the parent estate in excess of the extent of interest which the Collector in the said proceeding has declared to be held by such person or body of persons, the decree shall specify, separately in respect of every proprietor or body of proprietors of whose interests the Collector has separately specified the extent in the said proceeding, the proportion of such excess which such person or body of persons is entitled to recover from every such proprietor or body of proprietors; and every person or body of persons so entitled to recover any extent of interest from any such proprietor or body of proprietors shall, for the purposes of the partition proceedings, be deemed to have the same rights, and to be subject to the same liabilities, as a person who has acquired such extent of interest from a proprietor or body of proprietors by private purchase after an estate has been brought under partition under section 28 and on the date on which the decree was passed; and such person or body of persons may apply, as in this Act provided, for the separation and assignment to him or them of the lands representing the extent of interest so acquired; and such application shall be dealt with as provided in section 29.

[1876, s. 28.] 26. (1) Every decree affecting a parent estate made by a Civil Court after the date specified in the notice served under section 93, in a suit which was instituted as mentioned in section 24,—

Decree made after partition proceedings completed.

(a) shall be made in recognition of the partition proceedings, and

(b) shall be framed so as to give effect to the division of the parent estate into separate estates which has been ordered by the Collector, and so as not to disturb such division.

(2) If the effect of any such decree be to declare any person or body of persons to have been entitled to any extent of interest in the parent estate in excess of the extent of interest which is represented by the separate estate assigned to such person or body of persons by the Collector in the partition proceedings, the decree shall specify, separately in respect of the proprietor or joint proprietors of every separate estate formed by the partition, the proportion of such excess of interest which such person or body of persons is entitled to recover from such proprietor or joint proprietors; and every person or body of persons so entitled to recover any extent of interest from the proprietor or joint proprietors of a separate estate shall be entitled to recover such extent of interest out of the separate estate which has been assigned to such proprietor or joint proprietors, and out of such separate estate only;

and the decree shall be executed by placing the person or persons so entitled in the position of a recorded joint proprietor or recorded joint proprietors of such separate estate, holding the same as a joint undivided estate in common tenancy with the proprietor or joint proprietors to whom such separate estate was assigned by the Collector in the partition proceedings, the extent of the interest of the joint proprietors respectively in such estate being such as is declared in the decree.

[1876, ss. 29 and 30.]

Power of Civil Court to order partition on application being made to Collector.

27. (1) A Civil Court may at any time direct the Collector, upon an application being made to him in accordance with sections 16, 17 and 18,—

(a) to assign to any person land representing a specified interest in any estate, or in any specified village or tract of land in an estate, to be held by such person as a separate estate, or

(b) to divide off from any estate any specified land or villages, and to assign it or them to any person to be held as a separate estate:

Provided that no Civil Court shall in any such case—

(i) specify the amount of land-revenue for which any separate estate which it may direct to be formed under the provisions of this section shall be liable, or

(ii) direct the Collector to carry out a partition otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(2) The Collector shall assess the land-revenue on every such separate estate in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

1876, s. 31.]

Admission of application for partition, and procedure thereupon.

28. If no objection be made, within the time specified in the notification published under section 20, to an application for partition, or when all objections have been disposed of, and if the Collector has no reason to believe that any obstacle exists to his making the partition as applied for, he shall direct that the application be admitted, and shall record a proceeding—

(a) declaring the estate to be under partition for the purpose of forming and assigning to the applicant a separate estate;

(b) declaring the extent of interest in the parent estate which he finds to be held by the applicant or joint applicants; or, if more than one separate application for separation has been admitted, the extent of interest in the parent estate which he finds to be held by every separate applicant or body of joint applicants, respectively;

(c) declaring the extent of interest which remains to any recorded proprietor or body of recorded proprietors who are not applicants;

(d) ordering that land proportionate to the interest so declared to be held by each applicant, or body of joint applicants respectively, shall be formed into a separate estate, to be assigned to such applicant or body of joint applicants; and

(e) ordering that land proportionate to the interest so declared to remain to any recorded proprietor or body of recorded proprietors who are not applicants shall be left forming a separate estate;

[New.] and shall at the same time issue a notice* to each of the proprietors by registered post letter informing him that the application for partition has been admitted and that the partition will be proceeded with, and requiring him to register his name and address and to appoint an agent to accept service of process and to make any appearance or application or do any act required or authorized to be made or done by a party to a partition under this Act.

[1876, s. 32, modified.]

Subsequent application for separation of another share.

29. (1) At any time after the Collector has recorded a proceeding under section 28, and before the Deputy Collector has partitioned the land into separate estates under section 56, any recorded proprietor in the estate, other than the original applicant, may apply for the separation of his share.

(2) The Collector may reject or admit any such application; and if he admits it may order either that proceedings for effecting such separation shall be carried on simultaneously with the previous proceedings or that compliance with the application be postponed until such previous proceedings have been completed and the shares separated in accordance therewith.

(3) When the consideration of any application which has been postponed under sub-section (2) is resumed, the papers of the previous proceedings aforesaid may be used so far as they are applicable.

[1876, s. 33, modified.]

Power of Collector to refer application for partition to Deputy Collector.

30. The Collector may refer any application for partition to any Deputy Collector for the purpose of making inquiries and doing any other thing authorised or required by this Chapter:

Provided that every order—

(a) rejecting an application under section 21,

(b) directing, under section 22, that partition proceedings shall proceed or shall be postponed,

(Chapter IV.—Initiation and Discontinuance of Partition Proceedings.—Sections 31-33. Chapter V.—Establishments and Costs.—Section 34.)

(c) directing, under section 28, that an application for partition be admitted,

(d) made under section 29, or

(e) appointing a Deputy Collector under section 31, and every proceeding recorded under section 28, shall be made and recorded, respectively, by the Collector and not by any Deputy Collector.

[1876, s. 34.] Power of Collector to appoint Deputy Collector to carry out partition.

31. As soon as the Collector has declared an estate to be under partition as provided in section 28, he may appoint a Deputy Colector to carry out the partition and all or any of the proceedings necessary thereto.

[1876, s. 35, modified.] Power to strike partition case off the file, on petition of parties. Recovery of costs.

32. (1) If, at any time after an order has been passed for making a partition of a parent estate, all the recorded proprietors of the estate present a petition to the effect that they do not wish the partition to proceed, the Collector may, after such enquiry as he considers necessary, strike the partition case off the file, and at the same time require the proprietors to pay all costs incurred in and about the partition.

(2) Any such costs which have not already been levied as provided in section 36 shall be levied in proportion to the shares of the respective proprietors.

[1876, s. 36, modified.] Power of Commissioner to strike partition case off the file. Recovery of costs.

33. (1) If, at any time after an order has been passed for making a partition, it appears to the Commissioner that any sufficient reason exists why the partition should not be proceeded with, he may, on the report of the Collector or otherwise, after issuing a notice calling on the persons interested to show cause why the partition case should not be struck off the file, and after considering any objections which may be made, order the partition case to be struck off the file.

(2) All costs which have not already been levied as provided in section 36 shall thereupon be levied in proportion to the shares of the respective proprietors.

CHAPTER V.

ESTABLISHMENTS AND COSTS.

[1876, s. 37.] Power to appoint establishments and prescribe scale of remuneration.

34. The Deputy Collector, with the approval of the Collector, and subject to any rules made in that behalf by the Board, may appoint such persons as may be needed for the purposes of any proceedings under this Act and prescribe the scale of their remuneration.

(Chapter V.—Establishments and Costs.—Sections 35—39.)

[1876, s. 38.] Power to appoint special establishment.

35. In any district or division in which partitions are so numerous or extensive as to render necessary the appointment of a special establishment in the office of the Collector or of the Commissioner, the Collector or the Commissioner, as the case may be, with the previous sanction of the Board, may appoint such establishment.

[1876, s. 39, modified.] Estimating and levy of cost of partition.

36. (1) As soon as possible after an estate has been declared to be under partition as provided in section 28, the Collector shall estimate the cost of making the partition; and the amount shall be levied from the proprietors in such instalments and at such times as may be fixed by rules made by the Board.

(2) If the amount first estimated is found insufficient, supplementary estimates may be made from time to time, and the required amount may be levied as provided in sub-section (1).

[1876, s. 40, modified.] Apportionment of cost of partition.

37. The cost of making a partition shall be apportioned on the proprietors of the several shares in proportion to their shares:

Provided that whenever it appears to the Collector that any partition proceedings have been unnecessarily delayed and the cost of the partition enhanced, by obstacles vexatiously put in the way of the completion of the proceedings by one or more of the proprietors, or by want of due diligence on the part of one or more of the proprietors in carrying out any requisition made upon him or them, the Collector may direct that such portion of the cost as he may think proper, in excess of the amount proportionate to the share or shares of such proprietor or proprietors, shall be paid by him or them.

1876, s. 41, modified.] Power of Deputy Collector to declare cost of local inquiry and by whom it is to be paid.

38. Whenever any local inquiry is held by the Deputy Collector or any other officer, in consequence of an objection raised by any person to any record of measurements, rent-roll or other information which has been laid before the Deputy Collector, the Deputy Collector may declare the cost which has been incurred by such inquiry, and may direct that the entire cost so declared—

(a) shall be paid by the person making the objection, or by any one of the proprietors, or

(b) shall be paid, in such proportions as the Deputy Collector thinks fit, by the said person and the proprietors or any of them, or

(c) shall be deemed to be a part of the cost of the partition.

[1876, s. 42.] On completion of partition, total cost to be declared and account adjusted.

39. (1) Upon the completion of a partition, the Collector shall make an order declaring the total cost thereof.

(Chapter V.—Establishments and Costs.—Sections 40, 41.)

(2) The account shall then be adjusted, either by returning to the proprietors any sums which they may have paid in excess of the total cost, or, if necessary, by levying from them, in the manner provided in section 107, any sums remaining due.

[1876, s. 43.]

40. (1) Whenever it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the work required to be done in connection with partitions under this Act in any district is so great that it would, if concentrated in the hands of one or more Deputy Collectors, fully occupy the time of such one or more Deputy Collectors, he may make an order directing that the salary of such one or more Deputy Collectors, as the case may be, shall be recovered from the proprietors of estates under partition in such district, as part of the costs of such partitions.

Power to direct that salary of Deputy Collector, and cost of special establishment, be recovered as part of costs of partitions.

(2) For the purposes of sub-section (1) the salary of a Deputy Collector shall be deemed to be the amount of salary which is drawn by a Deputy Collector of the lowest grade.

[Now.]

(3) Whenever it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the said work in any district is so great as to occupy a considerable portion, though not the whole, of the time of a Deputy Collector, or whenever a special establishment is appointed under section 35, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that a portion of the salary of such Deputy Collector or the whole of the cost of such special establishment shall be recovered from the proprietors of estates under partition in such district, as part of the costs of such partitions.

[1876, ss. 45, 46, 47, modified.]

41. (1) The Lieutenant-Governor may direct that in any district a Fund, to be called the "Estates Partition Fund," shall be formed, into which all sums levied from the proprietors of estates in such district in respect of partitions of their estates shall be paid and from which all costs of making partitions of estates in such district shall, except as provided in section 42, be defrayed.

Estates Partition Fund.

(2) When the formation of an Estates Partition Fund has been directed in any district, the charges leviable in that district from the proprietors of any estate under partition may, notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing sections of this Chapter, be levied according to a general scale of fees to be fixed by the Board.

(3) Such scale of fees shall be fixed, as nearly as may be, so that the receipts and expenditure of the said Fund shall balance one another, and shall be revised from time to time by the Board so as to secure compliance with this condition.

(4) The said fees shall be apportioned, and the proportionate amount thereof due from any proprietor or proprietors may be increased, in the manner and under the circumstances mentioned in section 37.

(Chapter V.—Establishments and Costs.—Section 42. Chapter VI.—Proceedings up to the Determination of the Partition.—Sections 43, 44.)

(5) The said fees shall be levied from the proprietors in such instalments and at such times as may be fixed in accordance with any rules which the Board may make in this behalf.

[1876, s. 48.] (6) An abstract of the Estates Partiton Fund of each district, made up to the end of each financial year, shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and posted up at the office of the Collector of the district.

[1876, s. 50, modified.]

Order by Civil Court for payment by parties of costs of partition.

42. (1) Whenever any Civil Court makes a decree awarding or declaring any proprietary right in an estate, and requires the Collector to make a partition of the estate, the Court shall, subject to the provisions of sections 37 and 38, at the same time direct either—

(a) that the party or parties who has or have withheld the right so decreed shall defray the whole of the costs of the partition or the whole of the fees payable in respect of the partition under section 41, or

(b) that the said costs or fees shall be defrayed by all or any of the parties to the suit in which the decree was made, in such proportions as the Court may, upon a consideration of the particular circumstances of the case, deem equitable.

(2) Copies of all orders passed under sub-section (1) shall be transmitted to the Collector for his guidance, together with the precept which the Court issues to him requiring him to divide the estate; and the Collector shall levy the said costs or fees from the parties, in accordance with the order, in the same manner and by the same means as if the levy of such costs or fees had been ordered by himself.

CHAPTER VI.

PROCEEDINGS UP TO THE DETERMINATION OF THE PARTITION.

[New.]

Powers of Deputy Collector in making a partition.

43. Every Deputy Collector making a partition shall, as regards the estate under partition, have so far as they are applicable all the powers exerciseable by a Survey Officer under the Bengal Survey Act, 1875, and by a Revenue Officer employed in preparing a record-of-rights under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Ben. V of 1875.

[New.]

Deputy Collector when to make survey and prepare record of existing rents.

44. As soon as the Collector has recorded a proceeding under section 28, declaring an estate to be under partition, the Deputy Collector shall, subject to the provisions of section 48, make a survey and prepare a record of existing rents of all lands included in the estate.

(Chapter VI.—Proceedings up to the Determination of the Partition.—Sections 45—46).

[Act VIII of 1885, s. 102, adapted.]

Particulars to be recorded.

45. In making a survey and preparing a record of existing rents under section 44, the Deputy Collector shall ascertain and record the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the name of each proprietor, landlord and tenant of the estate, and of every owner of revenue-free land and occupier of rent-free land therein;

(b) the situation, area and boundaries of the land owned or occupied by each of the said persons, and the character and extent of the interest held by each, and the area of all other land in the estate which is not held by tenants;

(c) the rent then payable for all rent-paying lands—

(i) as stated by the landlord;

(ii) as stated by the tenant; and

(iii) as taken by the Deputy Collector for the purposes of the partition; and

(d) the assets, if any, of all other lands; and shall be guided by such rules as the Board may make under section 120, clause (l).

[New.]

Attestation of survey papers and record of existing rents.

46. (1) When the Deputy Collector has made a survey and prepared a record of existing rents under section 44, he shall issue a notice, in a form to be prescribed by the Board, fixing a day on which he will be present in the village, or at a convenient place within limits of distance to be fixed by general or special order of the Board, for the purpose of attesting the survey papers and record of existing rents.

(2) On the date fixed by the notice, or on any other date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the entries made in the record of existing rents under section 45, or such of them as the Board may by rule prescribe, shall be read out, and corrected or added to, as may appear necessary, in the presence of such of the interested persons as are in attendance.

(3) If the correctness of any entry is disputed, the Deputy Collector shall note the statements of the persons aforesaid and shall, after making such local enquiry, if any, as he thinks fit, pass a summary order declaring what entry shall be accepted for the purposes of the partition.

(4) If the correctness of any measurement is called in question and a fresh measurement is demanded, the Deputy Collector may require the costs of the re-measurement to be deposited.

(5) If the re-measurement shows the original measurement to have been inaccurate, the amount deposited shall be refunded to the objector.

(Chapter VI.—Proceedings up to the Determination of the Partition.—Sections 47—49.)

[Act VIII of 1885, s. 105, adapted.]

Publication of survey papers and record of existing rents.

47. When the survey papers and the record of existing rents have been attested as provided in section 46, the Deputy Collector shall cause a copy thereof to be locally published in such manner and for such period as the Board may by rule prescribe, and there shall be furnished to each landlord and tenant a copy of such of the entries relating to his estate, tenure or holding, as the case may be, as the Board may by rule prescribe.

[New]

Power of Deputy Collector to accept previous survey, record-of-rights, measurements or rent-rolls, instead of making a new survey and a record of existing rents.

48. If at any time a survey of the estate under partition or any part thereof has been made or a record-of-rights prepared by an officer appointed in that behalf under the orders of the Government, or if any measurement papers and rent-rolls are filed under section 18, or at any time before a survey has been begun under section 44, and if the correctness of such measurement papers and rent-rolls is admitted in writing by all the proprietors, and is verified by the Deputy Collector after testing on the spot, and if the Deputy Collector is satisfied that the land-revenue would not be endangered, the Deputy Collector may, unless the Collector otherwise directs, and after making any correction which may appear necessary, accept the papers of such survey, or the said record-of-rights, measurement papers or rent-rolls, instead of making a new survey and preparing a record of existing ents under section 44.

[1876, s. 63, modified.]

Record of order, fixing of day for determining partition, publication of notification, and service of notice.

49. After the publication of the survey papers and record of existing rents under section 47, the Deputy Collector shall record an order stating that the said record of rents has been adopted for the purposes of the partition, and shall—

(a) fix a day on which to determine the partition of the lands into the several separate estates,

(b) publish a notification calling on all the proprietors to be present on the day so fixed, such day being not less than thirty or more than sixty days after the publication of the notification in his office, and

(c) serve a similar notice collectively on the proprietors of each of the adjoining estates, inviting them to appear and file their objections, if any, if they dispute the possession of any land of the estate under partition.

(Chapter VII.—Partition by Amicable Arrangement or by Arbitration.—Sections 50—54.)

CHAPTER VII.

PARTITION BY AMICABLE ARRANGEMENT OR BY ARBITRATION.

[1876, s. 64.]

Power to allow partition to be made by proprietors themselves or by arbitrators.

50. (1) If all the recorded proprietors present, on or before the day fixed under section 49, a petition requesting to be allowed to make the partition on the basis of the papers adopted by the Deputy Collector under Chapter VI,—

(a) privately among themselves, or the Deputy Collector may grant the request.

(2) If, after such request has been granted, the proprietors or the arbitrators fail to make the partition within such time as may be fixed by the Deputy Collector in that behalf, the Deputy Collector shall make the partition himself.

Procedure on reference to arbitration.

51. When a partition has been referred to arbitration, the proceedings shall, except as hereinafter otherwise expressly provided, be conducted in accordance with the provisions of sections 506 to 522 (both inclusive) of the Code of Civil Procedure, so far as they are applicable. XIV of 1882.

[1876, ss. 66 and 70.]

Arbitrators to deliver a partition paper.

52. (1) The arbitrator or arbitrators shall, within a period to be fixed by the Deputy Collector, which period may be further extended by him, deliver to the Deputy Collector a full and complete paper of partition, in such form as the Board may, by rule, prescribe.

(2) If default is made in complying with sub-section (1), the Deputy Collector may withdraw the case from arbitration and may make the partition himself.

[1876, s. 67.]

Remuneration of arbitrators.

53. (1) The arbitrator or arbitrators, on delivering the paper of partition as aforesaid, shall be entitled to reasonable fees for his or their services.

(2) The amount of such fees shall be fixed, with the approval of the Commissioner, by the Deputy Collector who made the reference to arbitration, and shall be deemed to form part of the costs of making the partition.

[1876, s 68.]

Approval of Deputy Collector and other authorities.

54. Every partition made under this Chapter by proprietors or by an arbitrator or arbitrators shall be subject to the approval of the Collector and the confirmation of the Commissioner:

Provided that no such partition shall be disallowed except—

(a) on the ground of fraud, or

(b) on the ground that the partition cannot be confirmed without endangering the safety of the land-revenue.

(Chapter VII.—Partition by Amicable Arrangement or by Arbitration.—Section 55. Chapter VIII.—Making of Partitions by the Deputy Collector, and Approval thereof by the Collector.—Section 56.)

[1876, s. 69.] Assessment of land-revenue.

55. When a partition has been made under this Chapter, the land-revenue on each separate estate into which the parent estate is divided by such partition shall be assessed by the Collector in the manner prescribed by section 10.

CHAPTER VIII.

MAKING OF PARTITIONS BY THE DEPUTY COLLECTOR, AND APPROVAL THEREOF BY THE COLLECTOR.

[1876, ss. 71, 74, 77, modified.] Procedure where no petition presented under section 50.

56. (1) If no petition is presented under section 50, the Deputy Collector shall, on the day fixed under section 49, or on any subsequent day or days to which the hearing may be postponed by notice posted at his office,—

(i) consult all proprietors who are present, and

(ii) hear, and, after such enquiry as he may consider necessary, dispose of, any objections which they may urge.

(2) The Deputy Collector shall then proceed to determine how the lands of the parent estate shall be partitioned into the separate estates, and all matters arising out of such partition; and shall cause to be prepared—

(a) a paper of partition, in a form prescribed by rules made by the Board, specifying in detail—

(i) the lands which he has included in each separate estate, and the area of such lands,

(ii) the rental of such lands, and the other assets, if any, of each separate estate,

(iii) the name or names of the recorded proprietor or proprietors of each separate estate,

(iv) any stipulations which may have been made regarding places of worship, tanks or other matters mentioned in Chapter IX, and

(v) the amount of land-revenue to be assessed on each separate estate in the manner prescribed by section 10; and

(b) a map showing the lands which fall within each separate estate and the boundaries of such lands.

(3) In making the partition the Deputy Collector shall be guided by the provisions of Chapter IX, and shall make the partition in the manner which, in his opinion, is on the whole most in accordance with those provisions and most equitable and convenient to all parties concerned.

(Chapter VIII.—Making of Partitions by the Deputy Collector, and Approval thereof by the Collector.—Sections 57—59.)

[1876, s. 75, modified.]

Submission of case to Collector; his duties.

57. (1) The partition, as made under this Chapter, shall be submitted for the sanction of the Collector, and he shall by notice fix a day for the consideration of the same, not being less than fifteen days after the publication of the said notice in his office, and, after hearing and disposing of any objection which may be preferred, shall pass such orders as he may think proper—

(a) approving the partition, with or without amendments, or

(b) making a new partition, or

(c) returning the papers to the Deputy Collector for amendment of the partition, or for making a new partition, with such directions as to the Collector may seem fit in regard to the issue of a notice to appear to the proprietors or any of them who are specially interested.

[New.] (2) If the papers are returned to the Deputy Collector, the Collector shall, on their re-submission, proceed again to consider the partition as provided in sub-section (1) of this section.

[1876, s. 79, modified.]

Duties of Deputy Collector when partition has been approved by Collector, or when Collector makes a new partition.

58. (1) When the partition has been approved by the Collector, the Deputy Collector shall, after making such alterations as may be necessary in the partition paper or map, or preparing a new partition paper or map, in accordance with the orders passed by the Collector,

(a) cause to be prepared a separate extract of the portion of the partition paper which relates to each separate estate;

(b) cause to be tendered to any recorded proprietor of a separate estate, or any authorized agent of such proprietor, who may be in attendance at the Deputy Collector's office, the extract which relates to such separate estate; and

(c) publish a notification at his office calling upon every proprietor to whom or to whose agent an extract from the partition paper has not been tendered as aforesaid, to take out of the Deputy Collector's office the extract of the portion of the partition paper relating to his separate estate.

(2) If the circumstances of the partition so require, an extract of the map prepared by the Deputy Collector, or a copy of such map, shall be annexed to every separate extract from the partition paper mentioned in sub-section (1).

(3) The Deputy Collector shall also proceed in the manner hereinbefore provided when the Collector makes a new partition.

[1876, s. 82.]

Proprietor not appearing on fixed day not entitled to make objection.

59. No proprietor who has failed to appear before the Deputy Collector in person or by agent on a day fixed, under section 49 or section 56, for the partition of the lands into the several separate estates, and no proprietor who has failed so to appear before the Collector on a day fixed under section 57, shall be entitled at any subsequent time to make any objection to the orders which may be passed on such days respectively.

[1876, ss. 84, 86, modified.]

Submission of the papers to the Commissioner after approval of the partition by the Collector.

60. When a partition has been approved by the Collector, or when he has made a new partition, and after the tender of extracts and the publication of a notification as provided in section 58, the Collector—shall cause a notice to be served on each of the recorded proprietors, stating that the papers will be submitted at once for confirmation of the partition by the Commissioner, and that any appeals or objections must be presented to the Commissioner, or to the Collector for transmission to the Commissioner, within thirty days from the date of the service of the said notice; and shall, after the issue of such notice, forward to the Commissioner all papers relating to the partition.

CHAPTER IX.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES FOR MAKING PARTITIONS.

Lands held in common tenancy.

[1876, s. 87.]

Separate estates to be made compact.

61. Each separate estate shall be made a compact as is compatible with the primary object of making an equitable partition among the proprietors and with the provisions of this Chapter.

[1876, s. 88.]

Circumstances to be considered in making partitions.

62. In selecting the villages or land to be assigned to each separate estate formed out of a parent estate which has been held in common tenancy, the Collector shall take into consideration the advantages or disadvantages arising from—

(a) situation;

(b) the vicinity of roads, railways or navigable rivers or canals;

(c) the nature and quality of the soil and produce;

(d) the quantity of cultivable and uncultivable waste land;

(e) the facilities for irrigation;

(f) the state of embankments and watercourses; and

(g) liability to accretion and diluvion; and any other circumstances affecting the value of the land.

(Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Sections 63—67.)

[1876, s. 89.] 63. (1) If a dwelling-house belonging to one proprietor is situated on any land which it may be necessary to include in the separate estate of another proprietor, the owner of the house may retain occupation thereof, with the buildings and grounds immediately attached thereto, upon agreeing to pay rent annually in perpetuity for the land occupied by the house, buildings and grounds to the proprietor of the separate estate in which such land is included.

Rights when dwelling-house belonging to one proprietor is situated on land to be allotted to another proprietor.

(2) The limits of the land so occupied and the rent to be paid for it shall be fixed by the Deputy Collector, and shall be stated in the paper of partition.

(3) In every such case a defined pathway shall, as far as possible, be secured to the owner of the house, leading from the house to some portion of the separate estate allotted to him.

[1876, s. 90.] 64. Whenever the Deputy Collector thinks fit, he may apply the provisions of section 63 to gardens, orchards, land planted with bamboos, and any other land which in his opinion is of special value to the proprietor in whose occupation it is found to be, in consequence of improvements made by such proprietor or of the particular use to which such land is put.

Power to apply section 63 to gardens, etc.

[1876, s. 91, modified.] 65. The rent fixed in perpetuity on any land by the Deputy Collector under section 63 or section 64 shall be deemed, for the purposes of the partition, to be the assets of such land.

Rent for land fixed under section 63 or 64 deemed to be the assets of the land.

[1876, s. 92.] 66. When the dwelling-house of one proprietor, with the buildings and grounds immediately attached thereto, has been included in the separate estate of another proprietor, and the rent to be paid in perpetuity for the land occupied thereby has been fixed by the Deputy Collector and stated in the paper of partition,

Redemption of rent fixed under section 63.

the first-mentioned proprietor may apply to the Deputy Collector for permission to redeem the rent so fixed, and the Deputy Collector shall give such permission unless he is of opinion that the redemption would endanger the safety of the land-revenue for the payment of which the separate estate in which such dwelling-house, buildings and grounds have been included will be liable.

[1876 s. 93.] 67. (1) If the Deputy Collector gives permission as aforesaid, he shall certify the amount payable by the applicant in redemption of the rent.

Amount payable in redemption of rent.

(2) Such amount shall be ten per centum above the sum which would be required to produce, in interest at four per centum per annum, an annual sum equal to the said rent.

(Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Sections 68—72.)

[1876, s. 94.] 68. The amount certified under section 67 may be paid to the Deputy Collector at any time before, but not after, possession is, under section 93, given to the several proprietors of the separate estates allotted to them.

Such amount when payable.

[1876, s. 95.] 69. On receipt of such payment, the Deputy Collector shall give notice to the proprietor in whose separate estate the land is situ—

Notice of payment to be given, and land to be held rent-free.

(a) that such payment has been made ;

(b) that the sum will be paid to him or to his authorized agent on application ; and

(c) that, from the date on which possession as aforesaid is given, the proprietor who has redeemed the rent of such land will be entitled to hold the land as a rent-free tenure secured against the proprietor to whom the notice is given and against any auction-purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue, including the Government; and from such date the land shall be so held as a rent-free tenure.

[1876, s. 96. 70. The Deputy Collector shall at the same time give notice to the Collector of the district of the creation of such tenure, and the Collector shall thereupon cause such tenure to be specially registered in the manner provided by section 42 of Act XI of 1859 (an Act to improve the law relating to sales of land for arrears of revenue in the Lower Provinces under the Bengal Presidency) or by any similar law for the time being in force.

Collector to register the rent-free tenure.

[1876, s. 97.] 71. When two or more of the separate estates consist of the same proportions of the parent estate, the Deputy Collector may, if he thinks proper, direct the parties entitled thereto respectively to draw lots in his presence for the equal separate estates which have been formed by assignment of land,

Drawing of lots for equal shares.

unless the recorded proprietors of the equal shares agree among themselves as to the allotment of the equal separate estates and present a petition to that effect, or unless for any other reason the Deputy Collector, with the sanction of the Collector, thinks proper to assign the equal separate estates to the proprietors of the equal shares without causing lots to be drawn.

[1876, s. 98.] 72. (1) When the aggregate of two or more shares equals one other share, or equals the aggregate of two or more other shares, the Deputy Collector, with the sanction of the Collector, may cause such aggregate shares to be treated as one share for the purpose of Order and method of drawing lots when aggregate of two or more shares equals one other share, or equals the aggregate of two or more other shares.

(Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Section 72.)

determining by lots as aforesaid which portion of the parent estate shall be assigned to each proprietor as his separate estate; and may decide which shares shall be formed into one aggregate share for the purpose of causing such lots to be drawn; and may cause lots to be drawn in like manner as often as he thinks proper for such purpose.

(2) After lots have been drawn once (or more than once if necessary) as aforesaid, the Deputy Collector shall proceed to divide the portion of the parent estate which has fallen by lot to each aggregate share, among the proprietors of the different shares which were formed into such aggregate share for the purpose of drawing lots, and shall assign to every such proprietor his separate estate within such portion in such position as the Deputy Collector may think proper.

Illustrations.

I.—The partition of a parent estate is being made into the following shares: —

8 annas.	3 annas.
4 annas.	1 anna.

For the purposes of drawing lots, the 4 annas, 3 annas and 1 anna shares may be taken together, and considered to be an aggregate 8 annas share.

The Deputy Collector will divide the parent estate into two halves of equal value, and will then cause lots to be drawn, in order to determine which of the two halves shall be assigned to the proprietor of the integral 8 annas share, and which shall be divided among the proprietors of the 4 annas, 3 annas and 1 anna shares.

Subsequently, if necessary, the Deputy Collector may again cause lots to be drawn by the proprietor of the 4 annas share on the one hand and the proprietors on the other hand of the aggregate share made up by taking together the 3 annas share and the 1 anna share.

II.—The partition is being made of a parent estate into the following shares:—

6 annas.	3 annas.
4 annas.	2 annas.
	1 anna.

Two tracts in the estate may first be marked off, the value of each being equivalent to a 6 annas share; and then, for the purpose of drawing lots in respect of the assignment of these two tracts, the 4 annas share and the 2 annas share may be taken together as an aggregate 6 annas share, and lots may be drawn between the proprietor of the aggregate 6 annas share so formed on the one hand, and the proprietor of the integral 6 annas share on the other.

One of the two 6 annas tracts having thus been finally assigned to the proprietor of the integral 6 annas share, the Deputy Collector will proceed to assign the rest of the estate among the remaining sharers; and he may again, for the purpose of causing lots to be drawn, mark off two tracts, the value of each of which shall be equivalent to 5 annas of the parent estate, and may cause lots to be drawn for these two tracts between the proprietors of the 4 annas share and the 1 anna share taken together as an aggregate 5 annas share on the one hand, and the proprietors of the 3 annas share and the 2 annas share taken together as another 5 annas share on the other.

Finally, their separate estates will be assigned to the proprietor of the 4 annas share and of the 1 anna share respectively, within the tract which fell to them jointly by lot; and their separate estates will be assigned to the proprietors of the 3 annas share and of the 2 annas share respectively within the tract which fell to them jointly by lot.

(Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Sections 73—75.)

[1876, s. 99.] 73. The Deputy Collector may, by notice, require any proprietor, in respect of whose share lots are to be drawn as provided in section 71 or section 72, to attend at the office of the Deputy Collector in person or by authorized agent, at a time to be fixed by the Deputy Collector, for the purpose of drawing lots;

Deputy Collector may require proprietors to attend or appoint agent for the purpose of drawing lots and may similarly require the proprietors of any shares which he may have ordered to be formed into an aggregate share for the purpose of drawing lots, jointly to appoint an agent to draw lots on their joint behalf; and if at the time fixed for drawing such lots, such proprietors have failed to agree to any such joint appointment, or fail to cause the attendance of an agent authorized to act jointly for all such proprietors, all such proprietors shall be deemed to have failed to comply with the Deputy Collector's requisition.

[1876, s. 100.] 74. If any proprietor or proprietors fail to comply with a requisition of the Deputy Collector under section 73, the Deputy Collector may appoint a person to draw lots on behalf of such proprietor or proprietors.

In default, Deputy Collector may appoint a person to draw lots.

Lands held in severalty.

[1876, s. 101.] 75. (1) When the lands of an estate have been divided by private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors, and each proprietor is, in pursuance of such arrangement, in possession of separate lands held in severalty as representing his interest in the estate, the joint application presented under section 7 may be to the effect—

Partition according to separate possession, and apportionment of land-revenue.

(a) that a partition of the estate be made by assigning to each proprietor or to two or more proprietors jointly, as his or their separate estate or estates, the lands of which they are in separate possession in pursuance of such arrangement, and

(b) that each separate estate so formed be made liable for such portion of the entire land-revenue of the parent estate as was paid by the proprietor or proprietors thereof under the private arrangement aforesaid.

[1876, s. 102, in part.] (2) The Deputy Collector who is appointed to carry out the partition in accordance with such application shall satisfy himself that the assets of each separate estate which it is proposed to form will be sufficient to secure the payment of the annual amount of land-revenue for which it is proposed to make such separate estate liable.

[1876, s. 104, modified.] (3) If the Deputy Collector is not satisfied that the assets of each such separate estate will be sufficient as aforesaid, or that, with reference to the circumstances of the case, the partition of the land and the assessment of the land-revenue thereon may be made in the manner proposed without endangering the safety of the land revenue, he shall reject the application, unless all the recorded proprietors agree that the land-revenue for which the parent estates is liable shall be apporticned among the separate estates so to be formed in such a manner that the safety of the total amount of the land-revenue shall not be endangered.

[1876 s. 106, modified.]

Lands of which each proprietor is in possession to be allotted to him.

76. Whenever the Deputy Collector who is appointed to carry out a partition finds that, in pursuance of a private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors of an estate, the proprietors respectively, or any of the proprietors, are in possession of separate parcels of land held in severalty as representing portions only of their respective interests in the parent estate, while other land of the parent estate is held in common tenancy between such proprietors, then, notwithstanding anything contained in section 7, a joint application shall not be required, and the Deputy Collector shall allot to the separate estate of each proprietor the land of which such proprietor is found to be in possession in severalty in accordance with such private arrangement.

Explanation.—Land held in the occupation of the several proprietors of an estate as sir, khamar or nij-jote, or under any other similar denomination, shall not be deemed to be land held in severalty as representing portions of their respective interests in the parent estate within the meaning of this section, which applies only to cases in which there has been a bonâ fide division, by private arrangement among the proprietors, of land held by tenants.

Collector may cause transfer of lands agreed to by parties.

77. Notwithstanding anything in section 76, the Collector may cause any transfer of land agreed to by the parties to be made from the possession of one proprietor to that of another.

Lands held in common tenancy and Lands held in severalty.

Places of worship, etc.

78. Places of worship, burning-grounds and burial-grounds which have been held in common previous to the partition of an estate, and land of which the proceeds have been assigned by the proprietors jointly for religious, charitable or public purposes, shall continue to be held in common unless the proprietors otherwise agree among themselves, in which case they shall state in writing the agreement into which they have entered, and the Deputy Collector shall enter a note of the agreement in the paper of partition.

Tanks, wells, water-courses, reservoirs and embankments.

79. (1) Tanks, wells, water-courses, reservoirs and embankments shall be deemed to be attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made.

(Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Sections 80—82.)

(3) In cases in which, from the extent, situation or construction of any such works, it is found necessary that they should remain the joint property of the proprietors of two or more separate estates, the paper of partition shall specify, as far as the circumstances admit, the extent to which the proprietors of each of such estates may make use of the same, and the proportion of the charges for repairs to be borne by them respectively.

[New.]

Splitting up of tenure or holding and apportionment of rent thereof.

80. (1) No tenure or holding shall be split up for the purposes of a partition unless it is reasonably necessary to do so in order to effect an equitable partition.

(2) If a tenure or holding be split up as aforesaid, the total existing rent thereof, as ascertained under Chapter VI, shall not be altered, but shall be apportioned among the several parts into which the tenure or holding is divided.

(3) When it is proposed to split up a tenure or holding and apportion the rent thereof as aforesaid, the Deputy Collector shall cause a notice to be served on the tenants concerned and, after hearing their objections, if any, may order that the tenure or holding be split up and that the rent thereof be apportioned as aforesaid.

(4) The Deputy Collector shall notify such apportionment to the tenants concerned.

Land held rent-free not to be divided, except with consent of recorded proprietors.

81. When the Deputy Collector finds in a parent estate land which is claimed to be held rent-free and for which no rent is actually paid (whether the proprietors of the estate do or do not claim a right to receive rent from the land), he shall not make any division or assignment of such land among the separate estates, but shall specify in the partition papers and proceedings that such land is left appertaining jointly to all the separate estates which are formed out of the parent estate, in the proportion which each separate estate bears to the parent estate:

Provided that such land or any of it may be allotted among the different separate estates with the consent of all the recorded proprietors of the parent estate.

[1876, s. 111, modified.]

Land held at fixed rent on permanent intermediate tenure.

82. (1) When the Deputy Collector finds in a parent estate any land which is held at a fixed rent on a patni or other permanent intermediate tenure created by all the recorded proprietors of the estate or admitted by them to have been so created, he may either—

(a) assign such land and the assets thereof entirely to one or more of the separate estates formed out of the parent estate; or

(b) leave such land unassigned to any separate estate, and specify in the partition paper and proceedings that the land is left appertaining jointly to all the separate estates which are formed out of the parent estate in the proportion which each separate estate bears to the parent estate.

(Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions—Sections 83, 84.)

(2) In the event of such land being so left unassigned, the Deputy Collector shall assign to each separate estate such share of the rent of the tenure as bears the same proportion to the entire rent of the tenure as the separate estate bears to the parent estate.

(3) In dealing with a tenure under this section, the Deputy Collector shall take into consideration the extent of the land comprised in the tenure, and all other circumstances of the case.

Land held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates how to be dealt with when one estate is under partition.

83. When any land is held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates, one of which is under partition in accordance with the provisions of this Act, the Deputy Collector shall first allot to the estate under partition a portion of such common land of which the assets are in proportion to the interest which the proprietors of such estate hold in the said common land; and all the provisions of this Act in respect of the allotment, between the shareholders in one estate, of land which is held jointly by such shareholders, shall, as far as possible, apply to the allotment of the proportionate share of such common land to the estate under partition; and, in respect of the service of notices, the hearing of objections, and all other procedure in view to such allotment, the proprietors of the estate under partition, and all other proprietors of estates who have an interest in the said common land, shall be deemed to be joint proprietors of a parent estate consisting only of the land so held in common:

Provided that all costs of any division of lands so held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates shall be deemed to be costs of making the partition of the estate which is under partition, and shall be leviable, as provided by this Act, from the proprietors of such estate; and the proprietors of any other estate having an interest in such lands shall not be required to bear any portion of such costs.

When proprietors of other estates may be required to pay a portion of the costs of making a division under section 83.

84. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 83, if it appears to the Collector that the proceedings for any such division have been unnecessarily delayed and the cost of such division enhanced, by obstacles vexatiously put in the way of the completion of such division by any proprietor of any estate other than that under partition, or by want of due diligence on the part of any such proprietor in carrying out any requisition made upon him, the Collector may direct that such sum as he shall think fit shall be levied from every such proprietor who is responsible for such delay or additional cost; and every sum so levied shall be taken in diminution of the amount payable by the proprietors of the estate under partition as costs of such partition.

(Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Sections 85—87)

[1876, s. 114.] 85. Every allotment made under section 83 shall be submitted for the approval of the Collector, who may confirm, amend or reject the same, and, if he rejects it, may make or direct to be made another allotment.

Allotment made under section 83 to be submitted to the Collector.

[1876, s. 115.] 86. When any allotment made under section 83 has been approved by the Collector, the land so allotted shall be dealt with in every respect as if it were held in common tenancy by such of the proprietors of the estate under partition as were found to hold interests in the common land.

Land so allotted how to be dealt with.

[1876, s. 116, modified.] 87. (1) If a dispute or doubt is found to exist as to whether any land forms part of a parent estate, the Deputy Collector shall, after due notice to the parties interested, enquire into the fact of possession, and shall report his conclusions to the Collector; and thereupon the Collector shall dispose of the matter as follows:—

Procedure when dispute or doubt exists as to whether any land forms part of a parent estate.

(a) he may order that the partition case be struck off the file, if such an order appears to him advisable, and whether the possession of the disputed land is with the proprietors of the parent estate or otherwise; or

(b) he may order that the partition shall proceed, and that the disputed land be treated as part of the estate under partition, if the possession of such land is with the proprietors of the parent estate and the claim of the other parties to the right in such land appears to him untenable; or

(c) he may order that the partition shall proceed, but that the disputed land shall not be treated as part of the estate under partition, if the possession of such land is with the other parties and the claim of the proprietors of the parent estate to the right in such land appears to him untenable:

Provided as follows:—

(i) if a claim to land alleged to be in dispute is filed after the Deputy Collector proceeds under section 56 to determine how the lands of the parent estate shall be partitioned into the separate estates, the claim shall not be enquired into under this section unless the delay on the part of the claimant is explained to the satisfaction of the Deputy Collector;

(ii) no partition shall be made in any case mentioned in this section if such partition would involve the assignment to any separate estate of such a quantity of the disputed land that the removal of such land from such estate at any subsequent time would, in the opinion of the Collector, endanger the safety of the land-revenue for which such estate would be liable after the partition.

(2) If a partition case is struck off the file under clause (a) of this section, no fresh application for partition shall be admitted unless and until the applicant shows that the dispute or doubt aforesaid has been decided by a Court of competent jurisdiction, or has been amicably settled; but, if a fresh application is admitted, the proceedings shall be revived from the point at which they were interrupted.

[1876, s. 117] 88. If, after a partition has been completed in pursuance of an order passed by the Collector under section 87, clause (b), the proprietor of any separate estate is dispossessed by a decree of a Court of competent jurisdiction of any land which has been assigned to his estate by the partition, Procedure when partition completed in pursuance of order under section 87, clause (b), and proprietor of an estate dispossessed of any land by decree.

the partition shall not be disturbed, but such proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietors of the other separate estates formed by the partition such compensation as may be fair and equitable, having regard to the reduction in the proportionate value of his separate estate which is caused by such dispossession; and such compensation may be recovered in a Court of competent jurisdiction from the proprietors of those separate estates on which a proportionate share of the total loss caused by the dispossession does not fall.

CHAPTER X.

PROCEDURE BEFORE THE COMMISSIONER UP TO THE COMPLETION OF A PARTITION.

[1876, ss. 119, 120, modified.] 89. (1) If it appears to the Commissioner that the proceedings of the Collector should be amended, or if an appeal or objection is presented within the time allowed by section 60, the Commissioner shall, by order, fix a day (not being less than thirty days from the date of such order) for hearing and disposing of the case, and shall cause notice of such day to be served through the Collector on all the parties.

Procedure if proceedings require amendment or if appeal or objection presented.

(2) On the day so fixed, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing of the case may extend or is postponed by a notice posted up in his own office, the Commissioner shall, after hearing and disposing of all appeals and objections, and calling for any further information which he may consider necessary, either confirm the partition as approved or made by the Collector, with or without amendments, or return the papers of the partition to the Collector for any amendments which the Commissioner may think proper to be made.

(3) If the papers are returned to the Collector for amendment, the Collector shall proceed to make the required amendments or to cause them to be made in the same manner as if he had himself passed such orders on a partition submitted to him for approval by a Deputy Collector, and shall thereafter return the papers to the Commissioner, who may then confirm the partition.

(Chapter X.—Procedure before the Commissioner up to the Completion of a Partition.—Sections 90—93.)

[1876, s. 118.] 90. If it does not appear to the Commissioner that the proceedings of the Collector require amendment, or if no appeal or objection is presented within the time allowed by section 60, the Commissioner may proceed to consider the case without issuing any notice, and may confirm the partition as approved or made by the Collector.

Procedure in other cases.

[1876, s. 121.] 91. The Commissioner may, before confirming a partition, return the papers for amendment or enquiry as often as he thinks fit, and as often as he so returns them the procedure prescribed in the foregoing sections of this chapter shall be applicable.

Commissioner may return the papers for amendment or enquiry as often as he thinks fit.

[1876, s. 122, modified.] 92. (1) After the expiration of not less than sixty days from the date of the order of the Commissioner confirming a partition, or if an appeal has been preferred to the Board, or if any proceedings in respect of the partition be pending before the Board, then on receipt of the final order of the Board, if such order does not set aside but maintains, with or without amendments, the partition as confirmed by the Commissioner, the Collector shall cause to be published at his office, and at some conspicuous place in each of the estates separately constituted by the order of the Commissioner or the Board, as the case may be, a notice that the partition has been confirmed or sanctioned by the Commissioner or the Board, with or without amendments, as the case may be.

(2) If the partition as so confirmed or sanctioned involves any amendments which may conveniently be made on any extracts of the partition paper or on any maps which have been prepared and delivered to recorded proprietors under section 58, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served on every recorded proprietor whose estate is affected by such amendments, requiring him to produce such extracts and maps in order that such amendments may be noted on them; and, if the alterations made in the partition as so confirmed or sanctioned be such as to make it desirable to prepare fresh extracts or maps as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause such fresh extracts or maps to be prepared; and shall cause a notice to be served on each proprietor declaring the extract and map which was delivered under section 58 to be cancelled, and requiring him to take out of the Collector's office the fresh extract or map which has been prepared.

Procedure by Collector on receipt of Commissioner's order confirming, or Board's order sanctioning, a partition.

[1876, s. 123.] 93. (1) The Collector shall then proceed to give the several proprietors possession of the separate estates allotted to them, and, if necessary, may require the assistance of the Magistrate in giving such possession; and shall cause to be served on every recorded proprietor of a separate estate a notice—

(a) informing him that from the date specified in such notice the separate estate assigned to him, as described in the extract from the partition paper prepared and delivered or tendered to him

(2) The date specified in such notice shall be not more than three months after the proprietors have been given possession of their respective separate estates as provided in sub-section (1).

[1876, s. 124.] 94. From the date specified in such notice, each separate estate shall be borne on the revenue roll and General Register of the Collector as a distinct estate separately liable for the amount of land-revenue assessed upon it under this Act, and shall be so liable whether or not the proprietor has entered into a separate engagement for the payment of the amount of land-revenue so assessed upon the estate.

Each separate estate to be borne on the revenue roll and General Register as separately liable for the land-revenue assessed upon it.

[1876, s. 125.] 95. (1) The Collector may direct the erection of such boundary marks as he thinks proper, to distinguish the lands of each separate estate; and the cost of such boundary marks shall be deemed to be costs of the partition.

Boundary marks.

(2) Boundary marks so erected shall be assigned to zamindars, or to zamindars jointly with tenure-holders, for preservation, as provided in the second clause of section 29 of the Bengal Survey Act, 1875; and, after they have been so assigned, the provisions of sections 19, 20 and 52 to 57 (both inclusive) of the said Act shall apply in the case of such boundary marks.

Short title and commencement.

2. For clause (a) of section 30 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, the following shall be substituted, namely:— VIII of 1885.

"(a) that the rate of rent paid by the raiyat is below the prevailing rate paid by occupancy-raiyats for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the same village or in such neighbouring areas as may appear fairly comparable with the village lands, and that there is no sufficient reason for his holding at so low a rate."

Amendment of Act VIII, 1885, section 31.

3. After clause (d) of section 31 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"(e) if the holding is held at a lump rental, the determination of the rent to be paid may be made by ascertaining the different classes of land comprised within the holding, and applying to the area of each class the prevailing rate paid on that class within the village or other neighbouring area which may appear to be fairly comparable."

Insertion of sections 31A and 31B in Act VIII, 1885.

4. After section 31 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

(Sections 5-7 : new section 101.—Record-of-Rights.) and with similar advantages are held within any area, the highest of such rates at which and at rates higher than which a larger portion of those lands is held than is held at lower rates may be taken to be the prevailing rate.

"(2) The Local Government may, by a like notification, withdraw sub-section (1) from any district or part of a district to which it has been extended as aforesaid.

"31B. When the prevailing rate has once been determined by a Revenue Officer under Chapter X or by a Civil Court in any suit under this Act, it shall not be liable to enhancement save on the ground and to the extent specified in section 30, clause (b), and section 32."

"(5) When in a suit under this section the landlord or tenant is unable to indicate any particular land as held in excess, the rent to be added on account of the excess area may be calculated at the average rate of rent paid on all the lands of the holding after deducting the excess area, or may be calculated at the prevailing rate or rates, if any, paid by raiyats for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the same village or in such neighbouring areas as may appear fairly comparable with the village lands."

"110. (1) An appeal, if presented within two months from the date of the order appealed against, shall lie from every order of a Revenue Officer passed under this Chapter prior to the final publication of the record-of-rights or Settlement Rent Roll; and such appeal shall lie to such superior Revenue authority as the Local Government may by rule prescribe:

"Provided that no appeal shall lie in respect of any matter which has been brought before a Civil Court under section 111A.

(Section 7 : new sections 111, 111A.—Supplemental Provisions.)

"(2) The Board of Revenue may, on application, or of its own motion, direct the revision of any record-of-rights or Settlement Rent Roll, or of any portion thereof, at any time within two years of the date of final publication, but not so as to affect any revision made by a Civil Court under section 111A :

"Provided that no such direction shall be made until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

[Act VIII, 1885, s. 111, in part.]

Stay of proceedings in Civil Court during preparation of record-of-rights or Settlement Rent Roll.

"111. When an order has been made under section 101, directing the preparation of a record-of-rights, or when the preparation of a Settlement Rent Roll has been undertaken in pursuance of such an order, a Civil Court shall not, until the expiry of the period of three months after the final publication of the record-of-rights or Settlement Rent Roll, as the case may be, entertain a suit or application for the alteration of the rent or the determination of the status of any tenant in the area to which the record-of-rights or Rent Roll applies.

Limitation of jurisdiction of Civil Courts in matters relating to rent.

"111A. (1) Any person aggrieved by an entry of a rent settled, in a Settlement Rent Roll finally published under this Chapter, may institute a suit in the Civil Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the possession of the land to which the entry relates.

"(2) Such suit must be instituted within three months from the final publication of the Settlement Rent Roll, or, if an appeal has been presented to a Revenue authority under section 110, then within three months from the disposal of such appeal.

"(e) that the tenant belongs to a class different from that to which he is shown as belonging in the record-of-rights or Settlement Rent Roll;

"(f) if the land is not comprised in an area, estate or tenure in respect of which a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made, that a rent different from that shown in the Settlement Rent Roll has been fixed by a contract which is legally binding on the parties and has been brought to the notice of the officer preparing the Settlement Rent Roll, and that such officer has not postponed the operation of the settled rent under the provisions of section 111D or has wrongly fixed the date from which it is to take effect.

"(4) If it appears to the Court that the entry of rent settled is incorrect, it shall, in case (a) or case (c) mentioned in sub-section (3), declare that no rent is payable, and shall in any other case determine a fair rent.

(Section 7 : new sections 111B-112.—Supplemental Provisions.)

"(5) When the Court has declared under sub-section (4) that no rent is payable, the entry to the contrary effect in the record-of-rights or Settlement Rent Roll shall be deemed to be cancelled.

"(6) In determining a fair rent under sub-section (4), the Court shall be guided by the rents of the other tenures or holdings of the same class comprised in the same record-of-rights or Settlement Rent Roll as ascertained or settled under this Chapter. [Cf. Act VIII, 1885, s. 108 (5), proviso.]

"(7) Any rent determined by the Court under sub-section (4) shall be deemed to have been duly settled under this Chapter in place of the rent entered in the record-of-rights or Settlement Rent Roll.

"(8) Save as provided in this section, no suit shall be brought in any Civil Court in respect of the settlement of any rent under this Chapter.

"111B. No suit shall be brought in any Civil Court in respect of any order directing the preparation of a record-of-rights under this Chapter, or in respect of the framing, publication, signing or attestation of such a record or of any part of it, or, save as provided in section 111A, for the alteration of any entry of a settled rent in such a record : [Act XVII, 1887, s. 158, (iv) to (vi).]

Limitation of jurisdiction of Civil Courts in matters, other than rent, relating to record-of-rights.

"Provided that any person who is dissatisfied with any entry in or omission from a record-of-rights framed under this Chapter, which concerns a right of which he is in possession, may institute a suit for declaration of his right under Chapter VI of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. [Act XVII 1887, s. 45.] I of 1877.

"111C. All rents shown as settled in a Settlement Rent Roll finally published under this Chapter, or settled under section 110 or section 111A, shall be deemed to have been correctly settled and to be fair and equitable rents within the meaning of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE aims and objects of this Bill are—

(1) to clear up doubts and difficulties of procedure which have arisen in the course of experience in the working of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885;

(2) to facilitate the settlement of rents when undertaken on a large scale, either for the purpose of settling land-revenue or on the application of private individuals;

(3) to amend the substantive law relating to the enhancement and reduction of rents, so as to make the provisions of the law workable, and to give effect to the intention of its authors, regarding certain points on which, owing to want of sufficient clearness in the wording of the law, or to the interpretations put on it by the Civil Courts, it has been found in practice to be inoperative.

2. As to point (1), the intention of the framers of the Tenancy Act, as explained in Council by Sir Steuart Bayley, when presenting the report of the Select Committee, clearly was that all disputes affecting the record-of-rights or fixation of rents were to be formally and finally decided by the Revenue Officer, subject only to appeal to the Special Judge, and to a second appeal to the High Court in certain specified cases. Entries in the record, which were not disputed up to the time of final publication of the record, were to be presumed to be correct till the contrary was proved. If a dispute as to any entry in, or omission from, the record arose, it was to be decided by the Revenue Officer, and his decision was to have the force and effect of a decree. So that every entry in the record as finally published was to have attached to it either (a) the presumption of correctness, or (b) the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court. Objections might be made at any time during the publication of the draft record, which the Revenue Officer was to summarily hear and consider, and disputes raised at any time before the final publication of the record were to be heard and decided. The distinction between an objection and a dispute was not, however, clearly defined, and the result has been that the Civil Courts have in some cases held that the Revenue Officer is bound to hear, as civil suits, trifling objections which can be adequately disposed of summarily, to the satisfaction of the parties, without the expense and delay entailed by the formal procedure of a civil suit. On the other hand, where Revenue Officers have heard and decided disputes, following the procedure of the Civil Procedure Code, in which cases it was intended that their decisions should, subject to appeal to the Special Judge, be res judicata between the parties, the Civil Courts have in some cases held that their decisions, though not appealed against, were not res judicata, that no finality attached to them, and that it was open to the parties to re-open the questions decided in the ordinary Civil Courts.

3. Further, the Courts have held, where a survey is ordered to be made, and a record-of-rights prepared, of a particular estate or local area, and a dispute arises as to whether certain lands formed part of that estate or local area, that the Revenue Officer has no jurisdiction to hear and decide the dispute, and that when a dispute arises as to whether land claimed rent-free was properly so held or not, the Revenue Officer has no authority to hear and decide the dispute; and, again, that when a dispute arises as between one landlord and another landlord, or one tenant and another tenant, regarding the ownership or occupation of land, the Revenue Officer has no authority to hear and decide the dispute. It has, in short, been held that the Revenue Officer can only hear and decide a dispute between a landlord and tenant, when the relationship of landlord and tenant is proved or admitted to exist.

The effect of these decisions is to curtail to a very great extent the powers of the Revenue Officer to decide disputes arising out of his proceedings, to leave gaps in the record-of-rights, and to drive the parties to litigation after the Revenue Officer has left the ground, even as regards matters which he has nominally decided.

4. That this was not the intention of the framers of the Act is shown by the following extract from Sir Steuart Bayley's speech in Council, in presenting the Report of the Select Committee on the Tenancy Bill as passed:—

"Under the scheme, therefore, as sketched out in the original Bill, it will be observed (1) that the Revenue Officer, in recording rights, could not decide any disputes which might arise, and consequently his record could be of very little value; (2) that the Settlement Officer, though he could decide whatever disputes came before him, could only deal in a preliminary sort of way with a large class of disputes, which might afterwards be tried out by a regular suit in a Civil Court; (3) that though no settlement can in the nature of things be undertaken without the previous preparation of a record-of-rights, the two processes were unconnected in the Bill, and were treated as essentially separate and distinct.

"I need not take you through the successive steps by which the procedure was altered, first in the Bill No. II of last year, a description of which will be found in paragraphs 71 to 77 of our Preliminary Report, and then in the Bill of this year, as explained in paragraph 42 of our Final Report. It will be sufficient if I explain to you the final result of our discussions as embodied in the Bill now before you. First, then, we have amalgamated the two processes. It was obvious that on a Revenue Officer beginning to record rights, he would find himself face to face with numerous cases in which, on one side or the other, the status of the raiyat, the area of the holding, the amount of the rent payable, were the subject of dispute. Unless he could deal with these disputes his record would be of little value, and it was obviously absurd to empower one officer to settle questions of status and area, and then to send in another to settle questions of rent.

"It seemed equally unreasonable to empower a Revenue Officer, with all the parties and witnesses before him, to decide disputes, and then to allow the whole matter to be re-opened de novo and fought out from the very beginning in a Civil Court. At the same time we wished in no way to diminish the security which parties now have in the decision of their cases by the most competent Courts, and in the right of appeal to the highest Court in the country.

"What we have done, then, has been to give the Revenue Officer, in the first instance, power to settle all disputes that may come before him. Where no dispute arises, he will record what he finds, he will not alter rents, and his entries will only have a presumptive value in cases afterwards brought before the Courts; where a dispute arises, he will decide it, on the same grounds, by the same rules, and with the same procedure, as a Civil Court. His decision will be liable to appeal like that of the ordinary Civil Court to a Special Judge, who may or may not be the Judge of the district, and will be subject to a further special appeal to the High Court. In appeal, the High Court may settle a new rent, but in so doing is to be guided by the other rents shown in the rent-roll. In other words, there can be no second appeal to the High Court merely on the ground that the rent has been pitched too high or too low, but if a second appeal is preferred, as it may be on the ground that the Special Judge, owing to some error on a point of law, has, for example, found the holding to comprise more land or less land than it actually does comprise, or has given the raiyat a wrong status, and if the appellant succeeds, the High Court can, without altering the rates, reduce or increase the rent, as the case may be.

"The decision of the Revenue Officer in disputed cases, subject to these appeals, will have the effect of a judgment of the Civil Court, and will be res judicata, thus barring a fresh suit for enhancement for 15 years."

5. It is clear that the decisions of the Civil Courts above referred to in paragraphs 2 and 3 are not in accord with the intention of the framers of the Act expressed in the preceding extract, and it is thought that if the decisions of Revenue Officers are not, subject to appeal to the Special Judge, to have finality on all questions that come before them, it is desirable to relieve them altogether of the duty of deciding disputes as civil suits, and to confine them, in the first place, to the preparation of a record of existing facts, rents and status. This record will be prepared, after careful investigation, under such rules as the Local Government may prescribe. It will be published in draft; objections made to any entry in or omissions from it will be carefully considered and disposed of under such rules as may be prescribed by Government; then it will be finally published and the presumption of correctness will be attached to entries made in it. If the parties afterwards wish to dispute the correctness of any entry or omission, they can do so in the Civil Courts, restrictions on resort to the Courts being imposed only in the case where the entry relates to a rent settled.

6. As to the second object mentioned in paragraph 1 above, section 107 of the Act provides that in all proceedings for the settlement of rents under Chapter X, the Revenue Officer shall, subject to rules made by the Local Government, adopt the procedure laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure for the trial of suits. This implies that each individual case must (subject to modifications made by the Government rules for joinder of tenants holding under the same landlord in the same village) be dealt with separately, a separate record being made, and evidence being separately recorded in each case. When a settlement of rents is being made on a great scale, as is necessary when a settlement of revenue is being made of a large area or in a large private estate, it is apparent that to make the rent of each individual tenant the subject of a separate suit must involve great waste of time and money. If an enhancement or reduction of rent is claimed on the ground of rise or fall of prices since the rents were last fixed, it is obvious that the alteration in prices, if once established for a local area, would affect all tenants in that local area whose rents were last settled at the same time, and it would involve unnecessary waste of time and money to record the evidence over again and allow it to be disputed afresh in each individual case.

7. It has always been recognised that Government officers, in settling rents for the purpose of ascertaining the assets on which revenue is to be based in temporarily-settled estates, should have more discretion in the matter of altering rents than was allowable to private individuals in suits in the Civil Courts. The Bengal Government, however, in 1885, with a view to showing that they claimed nothing in the way of enhanced rents in their own estates, or in estates under settlement of revenue, which they were not prepared to concede to private landlords, consented to have the same rules and the same procedure applied to their own estates as were proposed for fixation of rent in private estates; but apparently the difference was not sufficiently considered, between the difficulties of a settlement of rents on a great scale and a settlement of rent of individual tenants by a Revenue Officer or Civil Court. In individual cases it is easy to follow the procedure of the Civil Procedure Code, but where hundreds of thousands of tenants' rents have to be settled, it is most difficult, if not impossible, to follow the Civil Procedure Code, and to complete the proceedings within a reasonable time at a reasonable expenditure. It is not now, however, proposed to differentiate between the settlement of rents in Government and that in private estates. The procedure proposed for settlement of rents in Government estates and in areas under settlement of revenue will, as heretofore, be open to private landlords, if they wish to have recourse to it.

8. What is proposed is a procedure which will facilitate settlement of rents on a large scale without unnecessary expense, and without materially altering the substantive provisions of the Act regulating enhancement or reduction of rents.

9. The endless variety of local conditions in a vast Province like Bengal, containing, as it does, in one place or another, every form of land-tenure known in India, from the primitive system of Chota Nagpur and Angul analogous to that of the Central Provinces on one side, to the Bihar system analogous to that of the North Western Provinces in another, to the highly complex and intricate system prevailing in Chittagong and Backergunge in a third direction, and to the raiyatwari system prevailing in Government estates analogous to the Madras and Bombay systems, in other directions, is so great, that no one system of settling rents will work well in all parts of the Province alike.

10. Hence it is thought desirable to make the method of settling rents more elastic than it is at present, and this has been provided for in the new section 104A inserted in the Bill. That section enables the Revenue Officer to settle rents by compromise, with the assent of the parties, when satisfied that the rents agreed upon are fair and equitable, or to propose rents which, if accepted, may be settled as fair, or to frame a Table of Rates where the conditions are such as to render this practicable, and to apply the rates to areas resulting from survey, or to maintain the existing rents, or to enhance or reduce them on the grounds specified in the Tenancy Act.

11. The system of framing Tables of Rates was abandoned when the Tenancy Act was being passed, because it was thought to be generally impracticable; but it was admitted at the time that there were some areas in which it was practicable to frame Tables of Rates. It is believed that this is the case in parts of Orissa, to which province the Tenancy Act was not extended when passed. The provisions of the Bill for framing Tables of Rates follow to a large extent the proposals of the Rent Commission and those of the Bill of 1884. The other provisions for settling rents are in accordance with the present law, with some modifications noticed below.

12. An important change is proposed in procedure, namely, to transfer the control and supervision of Revenue Officers, when preparing the record-of rights and fixing the amount of the rents, to the Revenue authorities in the first instance. This is subject, however, to the provisos that entries relating to possession, status, title, &c.. in the record-of-rights may be called in question in the Civil Courts, as they are to have only presumptive correctness (see the new section 103B), and that entries of rent settled, in the Settlement Rent Roll, may be also called in question in the same Courts on certain specified grounds noted in the margin. If the Civil Court finds that any such entry is incorrect, it shall itself specify what correction is to be made, and shall not refer the matter back to the Revenue Officer (see the new section 111A). The Bill, therefore, enlarges, rather than curtails, the powers of the Civil Courts. Questions of status, title, &c., which under the Act were intended to be finally decided by the Revenue Officer subject to appeal to the Special Judge, are now to be explicitly left for final decision to the Civil Courts. As to questions of rent settled, there was under the Act an appeal from the Revenue Officer to the Special Judge, but no appeal from the Special Judge to the High Court. The Bill transfers the right of appeal on these questions, in the first instance, from the Revenue Officer to the confirming Revenue authorities, but even as regards rents settled does not altogether exclude resort to the Civil Courts, for it gives them jurisdiction, which they had not under the Act, in the large class of cases referred to in the margin.

(a) that the land is not subject to the payment of rent;

(b) that the land, although entered in the record-of-rights as being held rent-free, is subject to the payment of rent;

(c) that the relation of landlord and tenant does not exist;

(d) that land has been wrongly recorded as part of a particular estate or tenancy, or wrongly omitted from the lands of an estate or tenancy;

(e) that the tenant belongs to a class different from that to which he is shown as belonging in the record-of-rights or Settlement Rent-Roll;

(f) if the land is not comprised in an area, estate or tenure in respect of which a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made, that a rent different from that shown in the Settlement Rent Roll has been fixed by a contract which is legally binding on the parties, and has been brought to the notice of the officer preparing the Settlement Rent Roll, and that such officer has not postponed the operation of the settled rent under the provisions of section 111D, or has wrongly fixed the date from which it is to take effect.

13. On the question of settling rents, the Select Committee reporting on the Tenancy Bill as passed said—

"The questions whether a rent is open to settlement, and, if so, the amount at which it should be settled, are of a complex nature depending on two very different sets of considerations. They depend, in the first place, on issues relating to such matters as the existence of the tenancy, the extent of the land, the status of the tenant, the conditions under which he holds, &c., and possibly involving points of law which could not satisfactorily be decided without the security afforded by an ultimate appeal to the highest judicial authority. They depend, in the second place, on considerations of an economical nature, such as the state of prices prevailing at different periods, the effect of improvements, and so forth, which it is universally admitted cannot be adequately dealt with, either in the first instance or on appeal, except after local enquiry and by persons possessed of special technical knowledge. The problem before us has been how best to provide for the separation of these two elements, so that each may be dealt with, and finally dealt with, by those most competent to deal with it."

If for the reasons given above in paragraphs 2 to 5 it is desirable to withdraw the judicial procedure and appeal to the Special Judge so far as proceedings before the Revenue Officer for the decision of disputes are concerned, it is manifestly more so in the matter of settling rents, which, as the Select Committee remarked, "it is universally admitted cannot be adequately dealt with, either in the first instance or on appeal, except after local enquiry by persons possessed of special technical knowledge." The Revenue authorities are the best judges of economic facts, as the Select Committee held, and all that is now proposed is to restore to them their proper jurisdiction, while reserving all questions of right and title for the Courts. Provision is at the same time made (see section 9 of the Bill) for giving to the settlements of rents and decisions of disputes hitherto made by Revenue Officers under the law as it stands, that finality which, subject to appeal to the Special Judge, it was intended by the framers of the Act that they should have.

14. The third object of this Bill is to amend the substantive provisions of the law relating to the enhancement of rent, so as to make them workable on certain points on which they are now practically inoperative.

In suits and proceedings for enhancement of rent on the ground of prevailing rate, the Civil Courts and Revenue Officers are bound to confine their enquiries and comparisons of rates to the same village, and the definition of what is a prevailing rate is so vaguely worded that in practice it is found almost impossible to enhance rents on this ground. A revenue survey village in Bengal may contain 100 acres, or several thousand acres, or may consist of scattered blocks. It does not necessarily furnish a proper standard of comparison. As regards the meaning of the term "prevailing rate," there is only one decision of the High Court bearing on the subject, and that declares that a prevailing rate is not an average rate, but does not explain what it is. The view taken by the Special Judges generally has been that a prevailing rate is a uniform rate paid by a majority of the raiyats for lands of the same class in the village. This was the interpretation generally put on the term "prevailing rate" under Act X of 1859.

15. The effect of the wording of section 30 of the Act, as it stands, is to give a ground of enhancement which cannot be worked.

It is proposed to somewhat enlarge the area for comparison, while an attempt is made to define what is meant by "prevailing rate" (see sections 2 to 4 of the Bill). Whatever objections there may be to this ground of enhancement generally, it is universally admitted that when land is held at a pepper-corn rent by reason of fraud or collusion between the proprietor's amla and the raiyats, there is no other ground on which the zamindar can obtain an enhancement up to a reasonable rate except that of the "prevailing rate," and in such cases it is just that this ground of enhancement should be made a workable one. The intention of the amendments proposed in sections 30 and 31 of the Act, and of the new sections 31A and 31B, is to effect this object, without at the same time endangering the interests of the tenants by making an average rate a prevailing rate, thus rendering it possible to level all the lower rates up to such average rate while maintaining all the higher rates, however much in excess they may be of the average rate. As under the definition now proposed a prevailing rate will always be found where rates exist at all, and the effect of the new definition will be to greatly facilitate the enhancement of rents, and as rents are known to be already too high in certain districts, power is taken by Government to withhold the operation of the new definition from any district or part of a district. In order to guard against all the rates being levelled up to the maximum rate, by manipulation of new prevailing rates from time to time, it is provided in section 31B that a prevailing rate once determined shall not be liable to enhancement except on the ground of rise in prices.

16. It is also proposed to amend section 39 of the Act by repealing the words "prepared for any year subsequent to the passing of this Act" (see section 5 of the Bill). These words were not contained in the earlier editions of the Tenancy Bill, or in the Bill as it came in its final shape from the Select Committee, but were introduced into the Bill as passed, on the motion of Sir William Hunter, on the ground that there were no adequate safeguards for the accuracy of price-lists prepared for periods antecedent to the passing of the Tenancy Act. But though this may be so as a general rule, it is evident that there are cases in which adequate safeguards of the accuracy of price-lists, prepared for periods antecedent to the passing of the Tenancy Act, may and do exist, and in which the absence of the attachment of a presumption of correctness to lists carefully prepared causes serious injury and unnecessary inconvenience. Where, for example, a settlement of land-revenue or of rents is being made in large tracts, the Revenue Officer, after examination of traders' books of account, oral enquiry from witnesses on the spot, investigation of official price-current lists, jail registers, commissariat accounts, previous settlement records, and all other available sources of information, will, under the control of the Board of Revenue, be in a position to frame sufficiently correct price-lists for past periods, to which the presumption of correctness may, after local publication and disposal of objections, be safely attached.

17. It is reasonable that price-lists thus prepared should be capable of being used in evidence in all suits and proceedings for settlement of rent in such areas; but, under the law as it stands, all the information and evidence on which the Revenue Officer may have based his price-lists would, it is believed, have to be put on the record of each individual case, before an enhancement of could be based upon them. To remedy this state of things, it is proposed to repeal the words above quoted.

18. The Local Government may, it is thought, be trusted not to order the preparation or publication of price-lists for past periods where there are no sufficient materials for the preparation of such lists, or no adequate safeguards for their correctness. But where such materials do exist, and there are adequate safeguards for the correctness of the lists, there is no reason why Government should be debarred from ordering the preparation of them, or refusing to attach the presumption of correctness to them when prepared. To prepare price-lists for past periods, which would have no evidential value, would be useless, and, when lists have been prepared after careful local investigation and examination of all available sources of information, to require all the evidence and information on which they have been based to be reproduced on the record of each individual tenant's case, is unnecessary waste of time and money.

19. An addition is proposed to section 52 of the Act (see section 6 of the Bill). It has been held by some Special Judges, interpreting a decision of the High Court, that when additional rent is claimed on the ground of excess area, the landlord must indicate the precise plots or pieces of land acquired by the tenant in excess of the original holding, while section 52 itself does not provide for the assessment to rent of excess lands where there are no rates for lands of a similar description in the vicinity but lump rentals.

20. The section, as amended, indicates that it should not be always necessary, in order to prove excess area, to point out the particular plots that were acquired since the original letting, and provides a rule for assessment of such excess areas, when proved, where there are no rates in force. Where the original letting was at so much a bigha, and it is shown by measurement, by the same standard and under the same conditions, that the tenant is holding a larger number of bighas than he is paying rent for, it should not be necessary for the landlord to point out the particular plots which the tenant has acquired in excess of the original area comprised in his holding.

21. Minor amendments have been made, by section 7 of the Bill, in Chapter X of the Act, as amended by Bengal Act V of 1894. These are explained below.

22. Section 101, Explanation 2, and section 104, Explanation.—Doubts have been raised whether, when a proprietor has leased his estate to a farmer temporarily, he can apply for a survey and record-of-rights or settlement of raiyats' rents. The grounds of these doubts are that section 104(2) of the Act speaks only of the landlord applying, and that the farmer is the raiyat's immediate landlord. It is desirable that a proprietor should not be debarred from obtaining a record-of-rights or settlement of rents, merely because he has temporarily sub-let his estate. The Explanations make it clear that he is not so debarred.

23. Section 102, clause (b).—The enumeration of classes of tenants in section 102 (b) of the Act is defective. The words "settled raiyat" have been inserted. The term "occupancy-raiyat", used in the Act, does not cover "settled raiyats." An occupancy right may be acquired by a new comer by purchase, while the status of "settled raiyat" is acquired by cultivating any land in the village as raiyat for twelve years, or by inheritance from a raiyat who has done so.

Clause (c).—"One or more of the boundaries" is substituted for "boundaries," i.e., all the boundaries. It is sometimes unnecessary to encumber the record with all the four boundaries of all the fields, and, in such cases, it adds unnecessarily to the expense to do so.

Clause (e).—The words "at the time the record-of-rights is being prepared" have been added to make clear the meaning of the law, as doubts have been raised whether "the rent payable" means the rent payable in future or in the past, or at the time the record is being prepared.

Clause (i) is added to make it quite clear that the Revenue Officer has authority to ascertain and record whether land is held rent-free or not. He had this authority under the old law of settlement.

24. Section 103.—The words "one or more" have been inserted in this section. Under the section as it stands in the Act, all the proprietors or tenure-holders must apply, but there seems to be no reason why an obstructive co-sharer should have power to prevent other co-sharers from obtaining a survey and record-of-rights if they wish to do so, and are willing to deposit or give security for the expenses.

25. Section 104.—The Revenue Officer will not be bound, as at present, of his own motion, to settle a fair rent, when it appears that the tenant is holding land in excess of or less than that for which he is paying rent. It has been ruled by the High Court that it must so appear on legal evidence, and therefore the provision of the present law requiring the Revenue Officer to settle rents in private estates of his own motion, when it appears to him that the tenant is holding more or less land than he is paying rent for, is inoperative, unless application is made and evidence produced.

26. Section 110 of the Act, as amended by Bengal Act I of 1894 (section 111D in the Bill).—The following provisos have been added to section 110 of the Act as originally passed:—

(a) if the land is comprised in an area, estate or tenure in respect of which a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made, the rent settled shall, subject to the provisions of sections 191 and 192 of the Act, take effect from the expiration of the period of the current settlement or from such other date after the expiration of that period as may be fixed by the Revenue Officer;

(b) if the land is not comprised in an area, estate or tenure as aforesaid, and if the existing rent has been fixed by a contract binding between the parties for an unexpired term of years, the rent settled shall take effect from the expiration of that term, or from such other date after the expiration of that term as may be fixed by the Revenue Officer.

The justice and expediency of these provisos will be manifest. When a general settlement of rents is being made in a private estate, if the existing rent of particular tenants was settled by contract legally binding on the parties, the term of which has to run for a few years, there is no reason why a fair rent should not be settled for such tenants, while the Revenue Officer is on the spot, on the application of the parties, to take effect from the expiration of the term, or from a later date fixed by the Revenue Officer.

The same remark applies to settlement of rents for purposes of settlement of revenue. The existing rents having been ordinarily fixed for the period of settlement of revenue, there is no reason why they should be altered during the currency of that period, though proceedings for the preparation of a record-of-rights and the settlement of rents may have to be undertaken, for the purposes of settlement of revenue, a few years in advance of the expiration of the term of the current settlement of revenue.

27. Section 113.—Section 113 of the Act provides that a rent settled shall not be enhanced in the case of an occupancy-raiyat for 15 years and of a non-occupancy raiyat for five years, but there is nothing to prevent its being reduced within these periods respectively. The intention was to fix rents for the periods named, and it is obvious that the considerations in favour of preventing enhancements during these periods, apply with equal force to reductions of rents settled. The section has been amended so as to make it clear that reductions of the rents settled will not be permitted, during these periods, except on the ground of diminution of area or that specified in section 38 (a) of the Act.

28. Section 114.—A somewhat important change in this section is proposed. As the section now stands, the proportion of the costs of a survey and record-of-rights to be defrayed by each individual landlord or tenant must be recovered from him as an arrear of land-revenue under the Public Demands Recovery Act. It is practically impossible to carry out the provisions of the section as it stands. In Bihar, where there are small estates and a great number of co-sharer proprietors, the amount recoverable from each individual co-sharer is sometimes less than one anna. To issue a separate certificate against each one of the individual co-sharer landlords, under such circumstances, would only subject them to unnecessary expense, while endangering the realization of the costs of the proceedings. It is therefore proposed to hold the whole estate or tenure, in case of proprietors and tenure-holders, liable for the proprietors' and tenure-holders' shares of the costs respectively. Since doubts have been expressed as to whether the Revenue Officer has authority to record the names of holders of revenue-free or rent-free lands, unless the relationship of landlord and tenant is proved or admitted to exist, and therefore whether the holders of such lands are, under section 114, liable for any part of the costs of a survey and record-of-rights of the local area or estate in which they may be included, it is expressly provided that such lands are tenures for the purposes of this section, and therefore liable for their share of the costs, as they are also declared to be so liable under the alternative procedure for recovery of costs contained in Part III of Bengal Act III of 1895.

It is further provided that the expenses incurred in the future in the maintenance of boundary marks and other survey marks erected in the course of preparing a record-of-rights, etc., shall be recoverable in the manner specified in section 114.

29. Section 8 of the Bill is inserted in order to settle technical doubts which have been expressed as to the sufficiency, from a purely legal point of view, of the methods in which in some cases records have been published.

30. Section 9 of the Bill is introduced in order to make it quite clear that a decision of a dispute or a settlement of a rent, by a Revenue Officer under Chapter X of the Tenancy Act, before the passing of this Bill, is to have the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court in a suit between the parties. It is shown in paragraphs 2 to 4 above that this was the intention of the law, and it is in pursuance of that intention that proceedings for decisions of disputes and settlement of rents have hitherto been carried on.

31. Sections 10 and 11 of the Bill merely make alterations in other parts of the Tenancy Act which are necessitated by the amendment of Chapter X, and section 12 of the Bill repeals Bengal Act V of 1894, the provisions of which have been incorporated in the amended Chapter X.

CHINA SEA—SHANGHAI DISTRICT.

Southern entrance to the Yangtze.

THE Coast Inspector, Imperial Maritime Customs, Shanghai, has given notice (No. 65 (Special) of 1897) that a survey of a section of the southern entrance to the Yangtze, about 25 miles in length and extending from abreast of the Tuplets to within two miles of the Tungsha lightship, which was completed on the 15th December 1896, shows that the deepest and safest channel for vessels is now to the north-eastward of the Kiutoan lightship instead of to the south-westward of her, as formerly.

Directions.

To make the best direct courses; pass two cables to the south-westward of the Tungsha lightship and then bring her to bear about S. 51½° E. true, and keep her so until the Kiutoan lightship is sighted on the opposite bearing, continuing on the same course till the latter is about three miles distant, when House island beacon will bear N. E. Then keep a little to the north-eastward and pass the Kiutoan lightship at a distance of from 1 to 1½ cables; hauling to the westward so as to bring the lightship to bear about S. 63° E. true by the time she is one mile distant, and keeping her on that bearing till she is 6 miles distant, when the vessel will be a little to the north-eastward of mid-channel, with the Kiutoan small beacon bearing about W. by S. ½ S., from which position to the Woosung outer bar the present British Admiralty Chart No. 1602 may be followed.

The least depths of water, at low water of spring tides, found on the track above indicated were 21 feet at 2½ miles inside the Tungsha lightship, then from 22 to 28 feet till abreast of House island beacon, decreasing to 18 feet in the vicinity of the Kiutoan lightship, where a bar, 2 miles in width between the 18 feet contours, has been formed by the junction of the former Middle ground with Blockhouse shoal. After passing this bar, the water gradually deepens to 5 fathoms at 4 miles inside the Kiutoan lightship.

Caution.

The Kiutoan lightship has sustained numerous collisions through vessels, most of them steamers, undertaking to cross her bow without making due allowance for the strength of the tide; and those on board of her complain that their lives are frequently imperilled through steamers passing dangerously near, when there is nothing to prevent them keeping a safe distance from the lightship.

The warning given in Notice to Mariners No. 55 (Special) that vessels should not pass between the Tungsha lightship and the south-east spit is repeated. This locality has not yet been re-surveyed, but a shoal patch has been found there with a depth of only 6 feet over it at low water, where the latest chart shows 3¼ fathoms.

Aids to Navigation.

The positions of the two lightships and of the Middle ground lower and south-east knoll buoys remain unchanged.

The Middle ground Upper buoy will shortly be removed and a conical red buoy surmounted by a black inverted frustrum cage, to be known as the Blockhouse shoal buoy, will be moved on the edge of the shoal between the south-east knoll buoy and the Kiutoan lightship.

CHINA SEA—SHANGHAI DISTRICT.

North channel entrance to the Yangtze.

THE Coast Inspector, Imperial Maritime Customs, Shanghai, has given notice (No. 66 (Special) of 1897) that systematic sweeping operations having been carried on in the North or Shaweishan channel for a period of four months, this entrance to the Yangtze is now considered free of all artificial obstructions to navigation, and the following mentioned buoys have been laid down to mark the channel:—

Drinkwater Point buoy:—A conical 10 foot, red and black, horizontally striped fairway buoy, surmounted by a black spherical cage. From the buoy Shaweishan lighthouse bears No. 86° E., distant 12¼ miles.

Ch'i-Yao Bank buoy:—A conical, 6 foot, red buoy, with a black spherical cage, moored off the south-eastern elbow of Ch'i-Yao bank, to mark the starboard side of the channel entering from sea. From the buoy Drinkwater Point surveying beacon bears N., distant 2¼ miles.

Middle island buoy:—A conical, 6 foot, red and black horizontally striped fairway buoy, with a black inverted frustrum cage, moored in position to guide vessels clear of the bank, which lies to the northward of Middle and Blockhouse islands. From the buoy Middle island surveying beacon bears S. 34° W., distant 4 miles.

Tsung-ming bank buoy:—A conical, 6 foot, red buoy, with a black spherical cage, moored off the eastern end of Tsung-ming bank, to mark the starboard side of the channel entering. From the buoy Middle island surveying beacon bears S. 5½° E., distant 3 miles.

Directions.

At the present time and with the buoys in the positions above described, a vessel may round the western end of Bush island at about 2 cables and steer to make an E. by N. ½ N. course till abreast of Tsung-ming bank buoy, after which she may steer to make direct courses from buoy to buoy, passing each according to its colouring. The narrowest part of the channel and the locality where it appears most liable to change is between the Tsung-ming bank and Bush and Middle islands and their outlying banks, where, for a length of 5 miles, it varies in width from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile between the 18 feet contours.

Alterations in light beacons and buoys.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 99 of 1897) that on 1st February 1897 the undermentioned alterations would be made in the lighting and buoyage of Port Adelaide river :—

1. Light beacons Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 would be discontinued.
   Approximate position, light beacon, No. 1, lat. 34° 50′ 20″ S., long. 138° 30′ 25″ E.
2. All buoys marking the channel would be withdrawn, with the exceptions of the two buoys south-westward of the lighthouse, the two buoys (black) eastward of the closed (Boat) channel, and the two mooring buoys (red), for vessels with explosives near the North arm.
3. The new light system consists of 5 pairs of leading electric lights and 8 single electric light beacons, numbered from seaward, the former No. 12 becoming No. 1.

The front light of each pair of leading light is red and the rear light white; with the exception of the first pair within the lighthouse, these remaining as before, front light white, rear light red; and continuing to mark, in conjunction with No. 2 light (previously No. 11), the direction of the Ocean Steam-vessel buoy and the bell buoy at the extremity of the Wonga shoal.

Lights Nos. 1, 10, 11, 12, 13 are pairs of leading lights, giving the direction of the channel past the lighthouse, and from Mutton cove to port Adelaide.

Lights Nos. 2 to 9 inclusive are single beacon lights, marking the edge of the channel between the closed channel and Mutton cove.

When the exact positions of the new lights are known, they will be placed upon the chart, and the present chart of port Adelaide, No. 1750, will then be cancelled.

Particulars of Taka Bakang (Teignmouth bank).

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 107 of 1897) of the undermentioned particulars of Taka Bakang, the result of a recent examination by the Netherlands Surveying vessel Banda:—

Taka Bakang (Teignmouth bank) of five-sided irregular shape, is about 2 miles in length north-west and south-east, and $1\frac{3}{10}$ miles in breath; it dries at low water, with the exception of part at the west end, and is steep-to, with soundings of upwards of 100 fathoms round its edge.

The dark coral, of which Taka Bakang is composed, renders it indistinguishable at high water, when it is completely covered.

RAIN-GAMBLING BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. BOLTON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill for the suppression of rain-gambling. He said:—

"At the next meeting of the Council I propose to move that the Report be taken into consideration, and that the Bill be passed into law."

The Hon'ble BABU GURU PROSHAD SEN said:—"With Your Honour's permission I wish to give notice, under Rule 21 of the Rules for the Conduct of Business, that I shall move for the introduction of a section to repeal section 6 of Bengal Act II of 1867, and the corresponding Section 47 of Bengal Act IV of 1866.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"Do you propose to move it as an amendment to the Bill before the Council?"

The Hon'ble BABU GURU PROSHAD SEN replied:—"It is rather an addition to the Bill."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"I do not think we can go beyond the provisions of this Bill, which is a Bill for the suppression of rain-gambling; and what you propose to do is to move a substantial addition to the Bill by way of amendment of the Gambling Act. I have not the permission of the Government of India to introduce such a provision in this Bill."

The Hon'ble BABU GURU PROSHAD SEN said:—"Your Honour has the permission of the Government of India to amend the Gambling Act by way of addition. I do not propose to go further. I simply ask permission for the repeal of section 6 of the Gambling Act."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"The Hon'ble Member can bring forward his motion, but I shall oppose the amendment as going beyond the scope of the present Bill. It will make a serious alteration in a law, which is on all fours with the English law on the subject."

BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1897-98.

The Hon'ble MR. RISLEY laid on the table the Bengal Financial Statement for 1897-98 with explanatory notes.

PART I.—General Review.

(1) ACCOUNTS OF 1895-96.

1. The closed accounts for 1895-96 show that the Provincial receipts of the year amounted to Rs. 4,58,51,520 against the revised estimate of Rs. 4,56,39,000, and the Provincial expenditure to Rs. 4,43,53,440 against the revised estimate of Rs. 4,44,10,000, thus working out to a surplus of Rs. 14,98,080 against Rs. 12,29,000 anticipated when the revised estimate was framed. The main causes of this improvement were the increase in the Provincial share of the net earnings of the Eastern Bengal State Railway system, due to the heavy jute traffic during the last quarter of the year, and the decrease in expenditure under Stationery and Printing.

(2) REVISED ESTIMATE FOR 1896-97.

2. The Budget Estimate for 1896-67, as adopted by the Government of India, assumed that the year would open with a credit balance of Rs. 55,51,000, that the total revenue would amount to Rs. 4,46,36,000, and the total expenditure to Rs. 4,67,47,000, so that the year would close with a balance of Rs. 34,40,000. The latest estimate available for the accounts of the year shows that the total receipts will probably be Rs. 4,63,81,000, which is better than was originally expected by Rs. 17,45,000, and that the expenditure will be Rs. 4,80,94,000, which gives an increase of Rs. 13,47,000: the result is a net improvement of Rs. 3,98,000, and as there is an increase of Rs. 2,69,000 in the expected amount of the opening balance, the total improvement on the original estimate is Rs. 6,67,000. The large increase of revenue in the revised, as compared with the original, estimate is mainly due to an increase of Rs. 7,87,000 in the Provincial share of the net earnings of the Eastern Bengal State Railway. There is also a considerable increase under Stamps (Rs. 4,84,000), Provincial Rates (Rs. 1,10,000), Assessed Taxes (Rs. 1,25,000), and Irrigation (Rs. 1,42,000). Smaller advances also appear under Land Revenue (Rs. 76,000), Excise (Rs. 62,000), Registration (Rs. 68,000), Miscellaneous heads (Rs. 50,000), and Civil Works (Rs. 60,000). On the other hand there is a special payment of Rs. 2,00,000 adjusted under Land Revenue, being half the amount of deferrd interest on the Kidderpore Dock loans remitted by the Government of India on the recommendation of this Government. The main increase in expenditure is the provision of Rs. 18,50,000 for the relief of distress arising from the prevailing famine, a calamity which was not anticipated when the budget was originally framed, and against this increase there are decreases of about 2 lakhs under "Direct demands on the revenues," of nearly a lakh under Irrigation, and of more than 1½ lakh under Public Works, taking together the works under direct management and those under local authorities. The net result of these variations from the Budget of 1896-97 is an increase in the closing balance of Rs. 6,67,000, from Rs. 34,40,000 to Rs. 41,07,000.

(3) PROVINCIAL CONTRACT, 1897-1902.

3. I now turn to the Provincial Contract which will begin to take effect from the 1st April 1897. The chief alteration made in the conditions of the current contract which expires on the 31st of this month is the imperialisation of the receipts and expenditure of the Eastern Bengal State Railway, one-half of the net revenue of which is now assigned to this Province. By way of compensation for this loss of growing revenue the provincial share of the receipts from Excise has been raised from one-fourth to one-half. The only additional charges which have been provincialised in the new contract are the Survey and Settlement expenditure other than that in Bihar, and the expenditure on account of Marine pensioners of the Imperial Department, mainly dockyard employés, and of the pensions of Branch Pilots and other Provincial Marine officers, and of their widows and orphans. The inter-provincial adjustments hitherto allowed with Upper Burma have also been stopped. On the other hand, as important administrative changes in the Salt Department are under conisderation, the receipts and expenditure of this Department have been reserved for the present as Imperial. The contract passed by the Government of India provides for an annual contribution of Rs. 14,19,000 to the Imperial treasury, from the assigned revenues of this Province, against Rs. 14,39,000 paid during the currency of the expiring contract.

(4) BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1897-98.

4. The Budget Estimate for 1897-98 under the terms of the new contract as set forth above, and as finally passed by the Government of India, accepts Rs. 41,07,000 as the opening balance, and provides for receipts aggregating Rs. 4,54,83,000 and expenditure Rs. 4,85,90,000, including a provision of Rs. 22,18,000 as the provincial share of the outlay on Famine Relief, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 10,00,000. It is estimated that on the whole the receipts, which under the new arrangement are only Rs. 3,68,000 less than the actuals of 1895-96, will be less by Rs. 8,98,000 than the revised estimate for the current year. Taking this year as the standard of comparison, it will be seen that Bengal loses Rs. 44,50,000 under railway receipts, an item of revenue which tends to develope rapidly without adding to the Provincial expenditure, except in the form of feeder roads. In exchange for the share of railway receipts which was made over in 1892, the province gets under the new contract an extra quarter of the excise revenue estimated at Rs. 33,62,000. The loss of revenue alone comes therefore to nearly 11 lakhs, while the expenditure on excise rises at the same time by Rs. 1,78,000. On the whole transaction, therefore, putting each source of revenue at its present value, Bengal is worse off by more than 12½ lakhs; while the prospective loss is probably much greater, for it is unlikely that excise revenue will expand in the same proportion as the railway receipts. On the expenditure side the estimate, excluding famine outlay, has been passed for a total grant of Rs. 4,63,72,000 against Rs. 4,62,44,000, the revised estimate of 1896-97. The estimate of 1897-98 includes Rs. 8,06,000 for Survey and Settlement charges and Rs. 57,000 for marine pensions which have been provincialised under the contract. The budget is explained in somewhat fuller detail in next part.

PART II.—Details of the Budget Estimate for 1897-98.

Receipts.

1. Land Revenue.—The total collections under Land Revenue in 1895-96 amounted to Rs. 3,90,52,000 and the estimate for 1896 97, as passed by the Government of India, is Rs. 3 92,50,000, which includes Rs. 3,00,000 for recoveries of survey and settlement charges in Bihar. The 12 per cent. on collections from Government estates yielded in 1895-96 Rs. 5,05,000, while the estimate for 1897-98 stands at Rs. 5,40,000. The Adjustments between Imperial and Provincial generally cease on the settlement of a new arrangement, and the figures shown under the head represent the fixed contribution of Rs. 14,19,000 to Imperial, less a special temporary assignment of Rs. 6,23,000 made in order to enable the Local Government to carry out the heavy programme of the Survey Department in the first year of the contract.

2. Stamps.—The estimate of Stamp revenue for 1896-97 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 1,67,80,000. The latest returns from the Comptroller-General show that the receipts during the first eleven months of the year exceeded those of the corresponding period of last year by about Rs. 6,56,000. In view of the increase that has already occurred, both the revised estimate for 1896-97 and the estimates for 1897-98 have been placed at Rs. 1,74,25,000, and the Provincial share of three-fourths amounts to Rs. 1,30,69,000. The increase is almost wholly under general stamps.

3. Excise.—The revenue from Excise for 1896 97 was estimated at Rs. 1,33,00,000. The actuals of 1895-96 amounted to Rs. 1,33,78,000, and the figures of the first 11 months of 1896-97 show an increase of Rs. 1,74,000 over the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year. The estimate has accordingly been raised to Rs. 1,35,50,000 for 1896-97, but in consequence of a change in the system of levying duty on ganja exported to the North-Western Provinces, the estimate for next year has been passed at a lakh less than that for 1896-97. The Provincial share of excise revenue has been raised under the new contract to one-half.

4. Provincial Rates.—The actual collections of the Public Works Cess in 1895-96 amounted to Rs. 41,37,000, and the average actuals of the past three years were Rs. 41,41,000. The actuals of the first ten months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 1,27,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year. The revised estimate for the current year has accordingly been placed at Rs. 42,90,000. The prevailing scarcity will, it is anticipated, affect the collections during next year, and the estimate for that year has been taken at Rs. 40,60,000. The estimate of receipts under "General rates for the management of private estates" is Rs. 1,40,000.

5. Assessed Taxes.—The budget estimate of receipts from Income Tax for 1896-97 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 46,50,000. The actual collections of last year amounted to Rs. 46,60,000, and those of the twelve months ending 28th February were Rs. 49,53,000. Both the revised estimate for 1896-97 and the estimate for 1897-98 have been placed at Rs. 49,00,000. The Provincial share of one-half is Rs. 24,50,000.

6. Forest.—The receipts of the Forest Department are now estimated at Rs. 12,80,000 for 1896 97 and Rs. 13,00,000 for 1897-98, against Rs. 9,19,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The increase over the actuals of 1895-96 is due to contracts undertaken by the department for the supply of sleepers to the Rai Bareili-Benares Railway. Increased provision has also been made on the expenditure side for the cutting and carriage of these sleepers, so that the net receipts are estimated at Rs. 6,15,000 for 1896-97 and Rs. 5,93,000 for 1897-98 against Rs. 4,53,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The lower estimate of net receipts for 1897-98 is due to a provision made to give effect to the scheme of the re-organization of the subordinate Forest staff sanctioned by the Secretary of State. The Provincial share is one-half.

7. Registration.—The budget estimate of receipts for 1896-97 was Rs. 13,65,000 against Rs. 13,41,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The actuals of the first ten months, compared with those of the corresponding period of last year, show an increase of Rs. 1,28,000, part of which represents an increase in the registration of mortgage deeds due to the prevailing scarcity. The revised estimate is Rs. 15,00,000. The increase in registrations is not expected to continue during next year, and the estimate for 1897-98 has accordingly been taken at less than the revised estimate for the preceding year.

8. Interest.—The estimate of loans for 1897-98, as passed by the Government of India, provides for a return of Rs. 3,09,000 under Interest in 1897-98, thus:—

	Rs.
Interest on advances to cultivators	57,000
Do. on drainage and embankment advances	52,000
Do. on loans to notabilities	1,000
Do. on loans to municipalities and other local authorities	1,45,000
Miscellaneous, including interest on Government securities in deposit for the Education Department	54,000
	3,09,000

9. Post Office.—The Provincial receipts consisted of recoveries made from the Zamindari Dák Fund on account of establishment employed in the Postmaster-General's office, but these are now adjusted in the books of the Postal Department, and do not pass through the Provincial accounts.

10. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The receipts from magisterial fines have steadily declined since 1893-94. The estimate has been placed at Rs. 8,30,000 against Rs. 8,41,000, the actuals of 1895-96.

11. Law and Justice—Jails.—The estimate under this head is Rs. 9,08,000 against Rs. 8,58,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The increase is mainly due to the supply of police clothing by the Jail Department.

12. Marine.—The budget estimate of total receipts for 1896-97 was Rs. 9,35,000. This has been raised to Rs. 9,64,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the 12 months ending 31st January 1897, which amounted to Rs. 9,64,000, owing to the unusually high receipts under Pilotage. The estimate for 1897-98 is Rs. 9,54,000, and is based on the average actuals of past years.

13. Education.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 6,27,000 against Rs. 5,69,000, the estimate for 1896-97. The increase is due to the inclusion of receipts from the Eden Hindu Hostel (Rs. 40,000), which it has since been decided to keep outside the Provincial accounts, and to increased fee-receipts (Rs. 17,000) from the Kurseong Boarding School, which has been enlarged to provide for a larger number of students.

14. Medical.—The estimate of Rs. 2,11,000 follows the actuals of 1895-96.

15. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1897-98 amounts to Rs. 2,23,000 against Rs. 2,08,000, the revised estimate for 1896-97, and Rs. 2,35,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The decrease, compared with the actuals of 1895-96, is due to an anticipated falling off in the receipts from the sale of quinine, in consequence of the prevailing scarcity.

16. Superannuation receipts.—The estimate of Provincial receipts for 1896-97 amounts to Rs. 70,000, which has been reduced to Rs. 49,000 in the revised estimate, in consequence of a change in the mode of adjusting contributions for the pension and leave allowances of certain officers. The estimate for 1897-98 has been fixed with reference to the actual demands as calculated by the Accountant-General.

17. Miscellaneous.—The receipts under this head fluctuate largely from year to year. The actuals were as follows:—

	Rs.
1890-91	7,70,000
1891-92	8,36,000
1892-93	8,27,000
1893-94	8,63,000
1894-95	10,12,000
1895-96	10,23,000

The estimate for 1897-98 is Rs. 9,35,000, while the revised estimate for 1896-97 is Rs. 9,28,000.

EXPENDITURE.

18. Land Revenue.—The total expenditure under Land Revenue for 1897-98 is estimated at Rs. 45,71,000 against Rs. 37,29,000, the budget grant for 1896-97. The increase is due to a provision of Rs. 8,06,000 for survey and settlements now provincialised, and to a larger grant for management and improvement of Government estates in proportion to the anticipated increase of revenue from those estates.

19. Stamps.—The estimate of expenditure for 1897-98 amounts to Rs. 7,02,000 against Rs. 6,67,000, the budget estimate for the current year, and Rs. 6,57,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The increase is under "Stamp paper supplied from Central Stores," the estimate under this head being Rs. 3,67,000 against Rs. 3,34,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The Provincial share is three-fourths.

20. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1897-98 is estimated at Rs. 7,13,000 against Rs. 7,11,000, the budget grant for 1896-97. The budget provides a larger grant for additional Preventive Sub-Inspectors and travelling allowances against a reduction of Rs. 25,000 in the construction of distillery buildings. These buildings will now be transferred to the books of the Public Works Department. The Provincial share has, however, been increased from one-fourth to one-half, and this accounts for the increase from Rs. 1,77,000 for 1896-97 to Rs. 3,57,000 for next year.

21. Provincial Rates.—The Provincial expenditure for 1897-98 has been provisionally estimated at Rs. 1,19,000 against Rs. 85,000, the grant for the current year. The amount includes a provision for revaluations in a number of districts, and also for revising the arrangement under which the cost of collecting the Public Works Department cess is divided between Provincial revenues and District funds. In settling the terms of the contract the Government of India were asked to make an assignment for the latter purpose; but this they have refused to do, and in view of the diminished resources of the Government it is uncertain whether the change contemplated will not have to be deferred at any rate for the present.

22. Customs.—The expenditure for the year 1897-98 is estimated at Rs. 8,00,000 against Rs. 8,02,000, the budget estimate for 1896-97, and Rs. 7,98,000, the actuals for 1895-96. The provision in the current year's budget for purchase and repairs of preventive service boats and petty construction and repairs has not been fully utilised, and there have also been savings under exchange compensation allowance. These account for small provision in the revised estimate for the year.

23. Registration.—The estimate for 1897-98 is Rs. 8,73,000 against Rs. 8,03,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The increase is due chiefly to provision being made for larger payments under the heads of commission to Rural Sub-Registrars and of contingent charges owing to the opening of new registration offices.

24. Interest.—The rate of interest payable on the Provincial loans has been reduced by the Government of India from 4 to 3½ per cent. with effect from next year. The budget grant has been reduced accordingly.

25. Administration.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 17,28,000, against Rs. 17,62,000, the revised estimate for 1896-97, and Rs. 17,50,000, the actuals of 1895-96. The fluctuations are mostly due to privilege leave allowances of officers.

26. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The original estimate of expenditure for 1896-97 amounted to Rs. 89,81,000, against Rs. 88,26,000, the actuals for 1895-96. The estimate has been reduced to Rs. 88,90,000 in the revised estimate for the year, with reference to the actuals of the first 10 months of the year, which amounted to Rs. 73,91,000 against Rs. 73,09,000 in the corresponding period of the preceding year. The estimate for 1897-98 is Rs. 89,42,000.

27. Jails.—The estimate of total expenditure for 1897-98 has been placed at Rs. 22,32,000, against Rs. 24,70,000, the revised estimate for 1896-97. The revised estimate includes a larger provision for dietary charges consequent on the rise of prices of food-grains.

28. Police.—The estimate for 1897-98 amounts to Rs. 61,18,000, against Rs. 60,40,000, the budget grant for 1896-97. The increase is due to a provision for the grant of compensation for the dearness of food-grains, for the progressive annual increase of Rs. 28,000 on account of the substitution of Sub-Inspectors for Head-Constables as investigating officers, in accordance with the recommendations of the Police Commission, and larger grants for petty construction, rewards, &c.

29. Marine.—The estimate of expenditure for 1897-98 is Rs. 9,11,000, against Rs. 9,21,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1896-97. The decrease is under contributions to the Orissa Port Funds.

30. Education.—The grant for expenditure under the direct control of the Education Department was Rs. 27,76,000 in the budget estimate for 1896-97. This has been reduced to Rs. 26,75,000 in the revised estimate, partly in consequence of the absence of officers on furlough, partly owing to grants for apparatus, &c., for the Civil Engineering College not being fully utilized, and partly by reason of savings in the grants for normal or training schools. The estimate for 1897-98 provides for an increase of Rs. 71,000 over the revised estimate, including the following items:—

	Rs.
(1) Kurseong Boarding School	17,000
(2) Bihar School of Engineering	12,000
(3) Reorganisation of the Education Department ...	17,000

31. Medical.—The estimate for 1897-98 amounts to Rs. 19,18,000, against Rs. 19,63,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1896-97. The decrease is due to smaller provision having been made for the renewal of bedding, clothing and instruments in the Calcutta hospitals, and to a reduction in the grant for the Bhawanipur Hospital, the equipment of which was provided for last year.

32. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1897-98 is Rs. 4,55,000, against Rs. 4,35,000, the revised estimate for 1896-97. The decrease in the revised estimate is due to the provision for the up-keep of cinchona plantations and for the purchase of bark not having been fully utilised.

33. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1897-98 is Rs. 11,34,000 against Rs. 12,22,000, the estimate for 1896-97. The fluctuations are chiefly in the value of Stationery supplied from Central Stores.

34. Famine Relief.—The total expenditure on Famine Relief, as passed by the Government of India, amounts to Rs. 23,00,000 for 1896-97 and Rs. 1,00,48,000 for 1897-98, and their distribution is as follows:—

	1896-97.	1897-98.

35. Irrigation Minor Works and Navigation.—The chief work included under this head is the conversion into a navigable canal of the Bhangore khal, which forms a portion of the boat route between Calcutta and Eastern Bengal. This was commenced last year and will be completed during 1897-98 at a cost of Rs. 3,78,000. Under agricultural works a provision of Rs. 63,000 has been made for the Bhagwangola embankment designed to control the floods on the Bhagirathi river.

36. Civil works in charge of Public Works Department—The Provincial expenditure under this head has been greatly reduced owing to the restriction of the programme rendered nececessary by the reduction of the Provincial balance in consequence of famine outlay. NOMINATION OF REPRESENTATIVE MEMBERS TO SEATS IN THE COUNCIL OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR FOR MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

RESOLUTION—No. 2307A.

APPOINTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 31st March 1897.

UNDER Rule 2 of the Regulations framed for Bengal by the Governor-General in Council, with the sanction of the Secretary of State, under section 1 (4) of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, the nomination to seven seats in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor for making Laws and Regulations is made by the Lieutenant-Governor on the recommendation of certain bodies and Associations. Those seats are at present held by the following gentlemen, who were nominated and whose terms of office expire on the dates shown:—

Name of Member.	By what body or bodies recommended.	Date of nomination.	Date of expiry of office.
The Hon'ble Surendra Nath Banerjee.	The Corporation of Calcutta ...	22nd June 1895...	21st June 1897.
„ Hon'ble Ananda Mohan Bose.	The Senate of the Calcutta University.	10th July „ ...	9th July „
„ Montague Cornish Turner.	The Bengal Chamber of Commerce.	29th March 1897...	28th March 1899.
„ Hon'ble Rai Eshan Chandra Mittra Bahadur.	Municipalities of the Burdwan Division.	19th July 1895...	18th July 1897.
„ Hon'ble Guru Proshad Sen.	District Boards of the Dacca Division.	27th „ „ ...	26th „ „
„ Hon'ble Madhu Sudan Das.	Municipalities of the Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions.	11th Feb. 1896...	10th Feb. 1898.

Five of the seats will be vacated in the course of the year, and, in accordance with practice, instructions are now issued, prescribing the procedure to be followed for the selection of the gentlemen who are to be recommended to the Lieutenant-Governor for nomination to these vacancies.

2. The Corporation of Calcutta and the Senate of the Calcutta University will be invited to submit the names of the gentlemen whom they respectively recommend for the Council. The selection will be made in accordance with the same procedure as on the two last occasions. A similar request will be addressed to the Municipalities and District Boards which have been already selected for the privilege of recommending members for the Council this year.

3. In view of these approaching vacancies the Lieutenant-Governor has fully considered the system under which the recommendations of the Municipalities and District Boards have hitherto been made and suggestions which have been put forward for modifications in the procedure. The Municipalities and District Boards are required by the Regulations to elect from amongst their members representatives to vote for the member to be recommended for the Council, each representative recording the number of votes assigned to the body by which he is deputed. Voting by representatives will, therefore, be maintained. It will rest with the public bodies to give clear instructions to their representatives as to the way in which they should vote, that is, whether all their votes should be given to one candidate, or whether the votes can be distributed between two or more candidates. In the Resolution of this Government, dated the 25th March 1893, the Municipalities and District Boards were grouped by Divisions, and the privilege of recommending the four members of the Council to be nominated in every second year was given to the Divisional groups in rotation, one member each being recommended by two groups of Municipalities and one each by two groups of District Boards. The Lieutenant-Governor does not propose to make any change in this mode of grouping the bodies or in the rotation of the groups. The division of the whole Province into two groups, which would be the only alternative way of grouping worthy of consideration, is open to objection. Equal groups could not be formed without combining Bihar with Bengal bodies in one of them, and thus depriving that group of the needed character of representing a well-defined and distinct local area. The formation of the Bihar and Chota Nagpur Divisions into one group, on the other hand, with comparatively few bodies, would leave for inclusion in the second group the inconveniently large number of bodies in the Bengal and Orissa Divisions. It is obvious that the greater the number of representatives, the greater would be the risk of failure on the part of some to attend the centre where the votes must be recorded; and postponements and delays might thus occur in voting for the candidates for the seats in Council.

4. The only change which appears to the Lieutenant-Governor practicable and desirable in the present system is in the allotment of votes to the bodies. Under the existing orders votes have been assigned to the Municipalities on a sliding scale based on the ordinary income. District Boards, however, are treated as equal, and only one vote has been allowed to each. This plan has been found to work badly, owing to the great risk of a tie occurring in the voting by the electoral representatives; and on the last occasion the voting actually resulted in ties in the Dacca and Bhagalpur Divisions. This risk can be minimised by increasing the number of votes assigned to each Board. The Lieutenant-Governor accordingly called for the opinion of local officers on a proposal to introduce a sliding scale of votes for the District Boards, and the opportunity was at the same time taken to enquire whether experience had shown that in the case of Municipalities a modification of the existing orders is desirable, with a view of ensuring a better representation, or of minimising the chances of a tie.

5. The great majority of officers have reported in favour of a sliding scale of votes for the District Boards, and the Lieutenant-Governor accepts that view. Two sliding scales based on ordinary income were suggested for consideration one in which the number of votes varied in no fixed proportion with the income, and another in which one vote was given for every half lakh, or part of half a lakh, of income. After consideration of the opinions received, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided to adopt the second scale, which has the advantage of regulating the number of votes by a fixed proportion of the income. An additional vote will, however, be allowed only for an excess over half a lakh of Rs. 25,000 or more. The number of votes would thus be less variable, and more fairly adjusted.

6. With regard to the Municipalities it has been objected that the present sliding scale assigns an excessive number of votes to such a Municipality as Howrah, and places it in the power of its delegate to secure the return of his nominee against the votes of the delegates of seven or eight Municipalities. The Lieutenant-Governor considers this a reasonable objection. It will, in his opinion, be sufficiently met by reducing the maximum number of votes for Municipalities from eight to six. This would be best effected by striking off the present scale the two last classes of Municipalities, which are given seven and eight votes respectively, and allotting six votes for an income of Rs. 1,50,000 and over. The only Municipalities affected would be Howrah and Patna, which would each lose two votes, while the smaller Municipalities would retain their present voting power. The sliding scale will, therefore, stand thus in future—

							Votes.
Municipalities with an income of Rs.			5,000 and less than Rs.			10,000	... 1
Ditto	ditto	„	10,000	ditto	„	20,000	... 2
Ditto	ditto	„	20,000	ditto	„	50,000	... 3
Ditto	ditto	„	50,000	ditto	„	1,00,000	... 4
Ditto	ditto	„	1,00,000	ditto	„	1,50,000	... 5
Ditto	ditto	„	1,50,000 and over		...	...	... 6

7. The increase in the number of votes assigned to the District Boards will very greatly reduce, but cannot altogether eliminate, the risk of a tie. Occasions, though rare, are likely to arise when rival candidates receive an equal number of votes, and it is necessary to lay down a rule to meet such cases. The various suggestions which have been made for meeting the difficulty have been considered by the Lieutenant-Governor, and His Honour is of opinion that the simplest and least objectionable solution is the drawing of lots between the candidates. In the event of a tie in future, then, the candidates will draw lots for the purpose of deciding who shall be held to have been selected for recommendation to the Lieutenant-Governor.

8. The Municipalities of the Patna and the Chittagong Divisions and the District Boards of the Presidency and the Rajshahi Divisions are entitled, according to the rotation laid down in the Resolution of the 25th March 1893, to recommend persons for nomination to the Council on this occasion. As shown in paragraph 1 above, one seat for Municipalities will be vacant on the 18th July, but the second seat will not be vacant until the 10th February next. For the seat to be filled in July, the Municipalities of the Patna Division will be requested to recommend a member. The Municipalities of the Chittagong Division will later exercise the privilege of making a recommendation for the vacancy which will occur on the 10th February 1898. For the District Boards seats will be vacant on the 26th July and the 6th September, and the District Boards of the Presidency Division and the Rajshahi Division respectively will be requested to submit recommendations for those vacancies. Each Municipality and District Board will elect one representative only, and he will be entitled to exercise all the votes of the body which he represents.

9. The following are the Municipalities of the Patna Division which will send delegates to vote for a person to be recommended for the seat falling vacant on the 18th July, and the number of votes assigned to them according to the scale shown in paragraph 6 above. The ordinary income taken is that for 1895-96.

11. Under Rule IV of the Regulations quoted, the Lieutenant-Governor now desires that intimation may be communicated by the Commissioners of the Divisions concerned to the Chairmen of all the Municipalities and District Boards enumerated in the above lists, requesting them to arrange for the convening of a special meeting of each District Board and Municipality concerned, at which one of their members may be elected to represent them for the purpose of recommending the nomination of a member in the Lieutenant-Governor's Council. The name of the representative elected in each must be reported at once by the Chairman of the local body concerned for the information of the Commissioner of the Division.

12. The period of two months which is contemplated under Rule VII of the Regulations as the period within which a recommendation shall be made to the Lieutenant-Governor is hereby declared to run from the date on which the Commissioner of the Division issues his invitation to the Chairman of any Municipality or District Board within the group concerned to elect one of their members to represent them for the purpose of recommending the nomination of a member in the Lieutenant-Governor's Council.

13. As soon as the representatives are elected by the local bodies concerned, they will be called upon by the Commissioner of the Division to meet together on an early and convenient date with special reference to the limit of time imposed under Rule VII of the Regulations, and at such convenient place as he may specify, for the purpose of electing by a majority of votes a person whom they will recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor to be nominated as a member of the Council. The names of all candidates put forward at such meeting shall be duly proposed by one of the electoral representatives present. The election shall be by ballot, and the person elected must obtain a majority of the votes of the representatives present. If on occasion of the first ballot an absolute majority is not obtained, the candidate who obtains the least number of votes shall be withdrawn from the election, and another ballot shall then be held for the remaining candidates and so on until an absolute majority is obtained.

The electoral representatives present at this meeting shall elect among themselves a Chairman, who shall preside and be responsible for the fair and proper exercise of the ballot vote.

As soon as the election is made, the Chairman of the meeting shall without delay report to the Commissioner of the Division the name of the person so elected with the number of votes obtained and any other information which it may appear desirable to communicate, and on behalf of the meeting shall recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor to nominate for Council the person so elected. The Commissioner shall submit the report from the Chairman of the meeting, with any observations he may wish to add, to the Chief Secretary to Government, by whom the recommendations will be submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor.

14. Attention is drawn to the following Rule VI of the Regulations which have been framed by the Governor-General in Council and Secretary of State:—

VI.—It shall be a condition in the case of any person to be recommended by a Municipal Corporation or group of Municipal Corporations that he shall be a person ordinarily resident within the Municipality or the district in which it is situated, or in some one of the Municipalities constituting the group or of the districts in which they are situated. A similar condition shall also apply to persons to be recommended by District Boards.

Under this rule it is not necessary that persons recommended shall be members of any Municipality or District Board concerned, but they must be ordinarily resident within the Division from which the recommendation is made. Subject to this condition, the rules declare no limit of qualification, and it is left to the electoral representatives to recommend a person under Rule V (c) according to the majority of their votes.

15. It is desirable that the subsidiary arrangements now sanctioned shall as far as possible be given effect to by the local bodies concerned with the minimum of official interference. Divisional Commissioners and District Magistrates will, of course, afford any assistance which may be required, and do their utmost to facilitate the smooth working of the elections; but Government officers are forbidden to take part directly or indirectly in the election by canvassing, influencing votes, or otherwise interfering with the free choice of the local bodies. No indication should be given by any official member of any of those bodies as to the manner in which he himself intends to vote.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be furnished to all Commissioners for information and guidance, and for communication to all the District Boards and Municipalities in their Divisions.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. BOLTON,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSION TO ENQUIRE INTO THE BUILDDING REGULATIONS IN FORCE IN CALCUTTA.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 6th April 1897.

RESOLUTION—No. 1973M.

The Administration Reports of the Calcutta Municipality for the years 1894-95 and 1895-96.

The Government Resolutions reviewing the Reports.

A letter to the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, No. 5034M., dated the 28th December 1896.

A letter from the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, No. 6454, dated the 30th January 1897.

A letter to the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, No. 882M., dated the 19th February 1897.

A letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, No. 184, dated the 27th February 1897.

For some years past the Health Officer has pressed upon the Corporation of Calcutta the necessity of amending the Building Regulations in force in the Municipality, in order to make suitable provision for (inter alia) fixing the minimum width of public streets, limiting the height of houses in relation to the width of the streets on which they stand, controlling the construction of brick buildings on bustee lands, and fixing the minimum size of courtyards within houses, as also the minimum space to be left between the backs of houses for the purpose of ventilation. The subject was discussed at length in the Annual Administration Reports of the Corporation and the Government Resolutions thereon, cited in the preamble of this Resolution; and the Lieutenant-Governor expressed his views on it in paragraph 19 of the Resolution on the Report for the year 1895-96, to which were annexed extracts from Dr. James's report on the outbreak of plague in Hong-Kong in 1894, bringing out very clearly the intimate connection between defective dwelling-houses and spaces and epidemic disease. In that Resolution the Commissioners were informed that if after considering the subject they came to the conclusion that a special Building Act for Calcutta is called for in the interests of the health of the city, the Lieutenant-Governor would be prepared to appoint a representative Commission to formulate the principles upon which such an Act should be based. Since then the spread of plague in Bombay, Poona, and Karachee has given prominence to this aspect of the question, and the report of the sanitary officers deputed by the Medical Board to enquire into the condition of Calcutta has shown to what an extent overcrowding prevails in Calcutta, and how the construction of buildings in the older part of the town impedes or renders impossible any effective conservancy. In the letter of the 28th December 1896, the Lieutenant-Governor pressed the Commissioners to come to an early decision on the question put to them in the Government Resolution referred to above, and in their reply they unanimously consented to the appointment of a Commission, on the understanding that they would make a thorough enquiry into the history and the operation of the existing law and bye-laws on the subject, and would ascertain in what respects these have proved defective, and whether a new Building Act is necessary, or whether the case can be met by amending the existing law. The Lieutenant-Governor generally accepts this view of the functions of the Commission. It has always been his intention that a thorough enquiry should be made into the history and operation of the existing law and bye-laws bearing on this subject, and such an enquiry must necessarily be undertaken before any scheme for fresh legislation can be drawn up.

2. The task of the Commission will be intricate and difficult. They will have to deal with mixed questions of law, sanitation and engineering, and will further have to consider to what extent the principles recognised in European enactments relating to town buildings require to be modified with reference to the soil, climate and rainfall of Calcutta, the prevailing diseases, and the habits of all classes of the population. For these reasons and as the proposal to amend the present law has given rise to some apprehensions among the leaders of Native society, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it desirable that the Commission should be presided over by an officer of judicial experience. The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Trevelyan, who possesses great knowledge of Calcutta, and has had much experience of the working of the present law, has consented to fill the post of President. His appointment has been approved by the Government of India, and the Hon'ble the Chief Justice has rendered it possible for him to undertake the work by kindly consenting to relieve him of Court duties on the days when the Commission sits.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is accordingly pleased to appoint the following gentlemen to form the Commission :—

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Trevelyan	...	President.
„ „ H. H. Risley, C.I.E.	...	Members.
„ „ J. G. H. Glass, C.I.E.	...
Mr. H. C. Williams	...
„ A. J. Hughes, C.I.E. ...	...
Babu Kaly Nath Mitter ...	...
„ Nolin Behari Sircar ...	...
Surgeon-Capt. H. J. Dyson ...	...
Mr. W. Banks-Gwyther . .	...
„ F. G. Wigley	...	Secretary.

The Commission will be requested to enter upon their labours at once and to report to Government the results of their deliberations within the next six months.

4. As regards the direction, character and limits of their enquiries, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to give the Commission a perfectly free hand. It is, however, suggested that in addition to the specific points which have from time to time been touched upon in the Health Officer's reports, the Commission might usefully enquire into the desirability of opening out the congested tracts of Calcutta and the most feasible plan of effecting this. They need not, perhaps, unless they themselves find it desirable or necessary, go into the details of any particular scheme of street improvement, but they should examine the general principles on which such operations ought to be conducted in order to make them financially as well as structurally successful. It is very important to consider whether the special circumstances of Calcutta point to any amendment or modification of the ordinary Law of Land Acquisition. The issue which lies in fact at the root of the whole enquiry is to what extent and in what directions private rights may equitably be made to give way to public needs. The Commission also will not fail to consider whether different sets of Building Regulations are not desirable for different quarters of the town, looking to the local circumstances of these areas.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the members of the Commission, to the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, to the Commissioner of Police, to the Secretary to the Medical Board, and to the Public Works Department of this Government for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be submitted to the Government of India, Home Department, for information, and that it be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Imports. The rise of 13,906 cwts. in the import trade of Chittagong, which amounted to 15,364 cwts., was chiefly due to the imports of rice and paddy from Burma ; no such imports took place in the corresponding week of 1896.

Exports. In the export trade, also, Chittagong showed an improvement of 18,905 cwts., mainly owing to the despatch of 20,375 cwts. of rice to Trinidad. The falling off of 26,984 cwts. under Balasore was due to smaller shipments of rice, paddy and gram and pulses to Calcutta. The trade of Cuttack was entirely with Colombo, and declined by 6,576 cwts. There were no exports to Foreign Ports from Puri, and the trade of that port fell off by 22,597 cwts.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

General Summary.—There was general rain during the week. Ploughing is being pushed on vigorously everywhere, and the sowing of early rice and jute is in progress in North and East Bengal. The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1·0° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed, open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION.

The 1st April 1897.—In supersession of the rules and standards for the Lower Primary Scholarship Examination, published under the Notification No 600, dated the 11th February 1896, the following rules and standards for the Lower Primary Scholarship Examination have been approved by Government and are published for general information.

CALCUTTA,
Dated the 9th April 1897.

C. A MARTIN,
Director of Public Instruction.

Rules for the admission of students to the Lower Primary Scholarship Examination, and for the award of Lower Primary Scholarships.

1. A student who does not appear from any school, or who has been transferred within six months of the date of the examination, without the consent of the Deputy Inspector of Schools, to the school from which he appears, will be treated as a private student.

2. A private student should be identified to the satisfaction of the Deputy Inspector, and should also furnish a certificate of character from some known and responsible person.

3. All private candidates from the same district should appear at the head-quarters centre.

4. Bonâ fide teachers will be admitted to the examination without fee and without certificate, but the Deputy Inspector may exclude from the examination a teacher whose conduct is unsatisfactory.

5. Schoolboys declared unfit by their masters will not be allowed to appear at the examination.

6. Six months' continuous study before the date of the examination at the same school (or at different schools, if transferred with the Deputy Inspector's sanction) will entitle a boy to appear as a school-student.

Candidates from the third classes of upper primary schools are required to pass the Lower Primary Scholarship Examination as a condition of promotion to the second class, and of subsequent admission to the Upper Primary Scholarship Examination. Candidates from the fifth classes of middle schools may also, at the discretion of the District Board or of the District Committee of Public Instruction, be admitted to the lower primary examination. All these candidates, however, shall be ineligible for scholarships.

7. No student, after passing the examination, will be again admitted to it.

8. A school infringing any of these rules will forfeit the right to send up candidates for scholarships, independently of any other punishment that may be adjudged to the offending teacher.

9. Students obtaining admission to the examination under false statements will be ineligible for pass certificates, and will not be allowed to appear at any future departmental examination. Students detected in using unfair means are also ineligible for pass certificates.

10. All proceedings of the Deputy Inspector under the foregoing rules are subject to revision by the Inspector.

Lower Primary Scholarships for boys.

11. These scholarships are open to candidates from all primary schools, whether aided or unaided; but no primary school for boys will be permitted to send up candidates in the same year for both lower and upper primary scholarships.

12. Not more than one scholarship, upper or lower, will be awarded in any year to boys from the same school. No candidate above the age of 11 years will be eligible for a lower primary scholarship.

13. The examination for lower primary scholarships will be conducted in the books and subjects prescribed from time to time by the Department, and, unless otherwise ordered by the Department, in the same question-papers for all the districts of one division. The papers will be set by persons selected by the Inspector. The arrangements for supervising the examination and conducting the viva voce portion will be made, and the answers of candidates will be examined, by persons appointed for those purposes respectively by the District Board or, in non-schedule districts, by the Deputy Commissioner in consultation with the Inspector. Upon the results of the examination the scholarships will be awarded by the District Board in consultation with the Deputy Inspector, or, as the case may be, by the Deputy Commissioner in consultation with the District Committee of Public Instruction. A small fee may be charged to candidates for admission to the examination.

It shall be competent to the District Board or the District Committee of Public Instruction to set apart some scholarships for particular tracts or classes of schools, which may be deemed deserving of special encouragement on account of their less advanced state or for other reasons.

14. Each scholarship will be of the value of Rs. 2 a month, and will be tenable for two years, conditionally on the good conduct, regular attendance, and satisfactory progress of the holder, at any upper primary, middle vernacular, or middle English school. If there is no middle or upper primary school in the neighbourhood, it may, with the special sanction of the Director, be held in a high school. No scholarship may be withdrawn from its holder for misconduct, or for any other cause, without the sanction of the District Board or District Committee of Public Instruction.

15. No candidate will be permitted to compete for a scholarship who has not studied for at least one session in the school in which he is at the time of the examination, unless his transfer within that period has been made with the approval of the Deputy Inspector of the district in which the school from which he has been transferred is situated.

16. A lower primary scholarship will carry with it the privilege of free tuition in schools under public management and (with the consent of the managers) in schools under private management, during the tenure of the scholarship.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—No. 76.

[First Publication.]

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—NEW GUINEA.

Position of certain islands to the northward.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 139 of 1897) that the undermentioned information, relating to the St. David or Freewill islands, Stephens island and Five Fathom bank, is partly from information received from the Netherlands Government, and partly from the records in the Hydrographic Office of the Admiralty :—

1. ST. DAVID OR FREEWILL ISLANDS :—From recent observations of the Netherlands Government steam-vessel Zeemeeuw, which observations confirm to a great extent those formerly made in the East India Company's vessels early in the present century, the St. David or Freewill islands are situated between the parallels of 0° 45′ and 0° 55′ North latitude; and the meridians of 134° 15½′ and 134° 19½′ E. longitude; and not as shown on Admiralty Chart No. 942*b*.

The islands, three in number, are surrounded by coral reefs; the southern island being named, according to Carteret, Pegun; and the two northern, Onello and Onatu. The native name for the group is Mapia.

2. STEPHENS ISLANDS, marked on Admiralty Chart, No. 942*b*, as situated in lat. 0° 2′ S., long. 137° 55′ E., were originally reported by Captain Carteret, H.M.S. Swallow, in 1767, and were sighted by him the day before he saw the Freewill islands. There is no record of the Stephens islands having been sighted by anyone since they were originally reported.

As Captain Carteret's position of the Freewill islands was 3° of longitude eastward of the present accepted position, it seems clear that Stephens islands cannot at any rate be in the position assigned.

The position of the Swallow on the day the Stephens islands were discovered, calculated back from the present accepted position of the Freewill islands, was 0° 5′ North latitude, and about 136° 5′ East longitude, and from this position the islands bore S. 2° W. (true) and S. 4° E. (true).

It is therefore not impossible that Carteret may have mistaken the high peaks of the Schouten islands (1,600 feet high) for two islands.

Stephens islands are placed, for the present, on the Admiralty charts, in lat. 0° 22′ S., long. 136° 10′ E., with the letters E. D. against them; the latitude assigned being that originally given them by Captain Carteret.

FIVE FATHOM BANK :—The Five fathom bank, shown on Chart No. 942*b*, as on the equator and in long. 136° 15′ E., should be in long. 135° 43′ E.

From it the high peak (1,600 feet) of Supiori bears South.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—No. 62.

[Third Publication.]

CHINA SEA—SHANGHAI DISTRICT.

Southern entrance to the Yangtze.

THE Coast Inspector, Imperial Maritime Customs, Shanghai, has given notice (No. 65 (Special) of 1897) that a survey of a section of the southern entrance to the Yangtze, about 25 miles in length and extending from abreast of the Tuplets to within two miles of the Tungsha lightship, which was completed on the 15th December 1896, shows that the deepest and safest channel for vessels is now to the north-eastward of the Kiutoan lightship instead of to the south-westward of her, as formerly.

Directions.

To make the best direct courses: pass two cables to the south-westward of the Tungsha lightship and then bring her to bear about S. 51½° E. true, and keep her so until the Kiutoan lightship is sighted on the opposite bearing, continuing on the same course till the latter is about three miles distant, when House island beacon will bear N. E. Then keep a little to the north-eastward and pass the Kiutoan lightship at a distance of from 1 to 1½ cables; hauling to the westward so as to bring the lightship to bear about S. 63° E. true by the time she is one mile distant, and keeping her on that bearing till she is 6 miles distant, when the vessel will be a little to the north-eastward of mid-channel, with the Kiutoan small beacon bearing about W. by S. ½ S., from which position to the Woosung outer bar the present British Admiralty Chart No. 1602 may be followed.

The least depths of water, at low water of spring tides, found on the track above indicated were 21 feet at 2¼ miles inside the Tungsha lightship, then from 22 to 28 feet till abreast of House island beacon, decreasing to 18 feet in the vicinity of the Kiutoan lightship, where a bar, 2 miles in width between the 18 feet contours, has been formed by the junction of the former Middle ground with Blockhouse shoal. After passing this bar, the water gradually deepens to 5 fathoms at 4 miles inside the Kiutoan lightship.

Caution.

The Kiutoan lightship has sustained numerous collisions through vessels, most of them steamers, undertaking to cross her bow without making due allowance for the strength of the tide; and those on board of her complain that their lives are frequently imperilled through steamers passing dangerously near, when there is nothing to prevent them keeping a safe distance from the lightship.

The warning given in Notice to Mariners No. 55 (Special) that vessels should not pass between the Tungsha lightship and the south-east spit is repeated. This locality has not yet been re-surveyed, but a shoal patch has been found there with a depth of only 6 feet over it at low water, where the latest chart shows 3¼ fathoms.

Aids to Navigation.

The positions of the two lightships and of the Middle ground lower and south-east knoll buoys remain unchanged.

The Middle ground Upper buoy will shortly be removed and a conical red buoy surmounted by a black inverted frustrum cage, to be known as the Blockhouse shoal buoy, will be moved on the edge of the shoal between the south-east knoll buoy and the Kiutoan lightship.

CHINA SEA—SHANGHAI DISTRICT.

North channel entrance to the Yangtze.

THE Coast Inspector, Imperial Maritime Customs, Shanghai, has given notice (No. 66 (Special) of 1897) that systematic sweeping operations having been carried on in the North or Shaweishan channel for a period of four months, this entrance to the Yangtze is now considered free of all artificial obstructions to navigation, and the following mentioned buoys have been laid down to mark the channel:—

Drinkwater Point buoy:—A conical 10 foot, red and black, horizontally striped fairway buoy, surmounted by a black spherical cage. From the buoy Shaweishan lighthouse bears No. 86° E., distant 12¼ miles.

Ch'i-Yao Bank buoy:—A conical, 6 foot, red buoy, with a black spherical cage, moored off the south-eastern elbow of Ch'i-Yao bank, to mark the starboard side of the channel entering from sea. From the buoy Drinkwater Point surveying beacon bears N., distant 2¼ miles.

Middle island buoy:—A conical, 6 foot, red and black horizontally striped fairway buoy, with a black inverted frustrum cage, moored in position to guide vessels clear of the bank, which lies to the northward of Middle and Blockhouse islands. From the buoy Middle island surveying beacon bears S. 34° W., distant 4 miles.

Tsung-ming bank buoy:—A conical, 6 foot, red buoy, with a black spherical cage, moored off the eastern end of Tsung-ming bank, to mark the starboard side of the channel entering. From the buoy Middle island surveying beacon bears S. 5¼° E., distant 3 miles.

Directions.

At the present time and with the buoys in the positions above described, a vessel may round the western end of Bush island at about 2 cables and steer to make an E. by N. ¼ N. course till abreast of Tsung-ming bank buoy, after which she may steer to make direct courses from buoy to buoy, passing each according to its colouring. The narrowest part of the channel and the locality where it appears most liable to change is between the Tsung-ming bank and Bush and Middle islands and their outlying banks, where, for a length of 5 miles, it varies in width from ⅓ to ⅔ of a mile between the 18 feet contours.

ADMINISTRATION OF PRESIDENCY GENERAL HOSPITAL.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

RESOLUTION—No. 2045Medl.

FROM time to time complaints have reached the Government regarding the administrative arrangements of the Presidency General Hospital. It has been alleged that delay occurs in admitting patients who are brought to the hospital; that the Resident Surgeons are not always in attendance; that the medical and nursing staff is insufficient; that the food is bad and the cooking arrangements defective; that the supply of bedding, linen, and clothing is unsuitable and inadequate; that the stock of instruments is out of date, and the fittings and arrangements of the operating-room untidy and neglected; and finally, that the Superintendent does not devote enough time to the work of the hospital.

2. The structural shortcomings of the hospital have recently formed the subject of enquiry by a Special Committee, and a scheme for reconstructing the existing buildings as funds become available has been drawn up. The land necessary for the purpose has been acquired and provision has been made in the Budget of the current year for commencing the work. A similar enquiry into the administrative arrangements of the hospital seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to be desirable, in order to ascertain how far the allegations above referred to are well founded, and to determine what changes in the system of management should be introduced at once, and what further changes will be necessary when the new buildings come into use. A supply of bedding, linen, &c., has recently been given, and steps are being taken to renew the stock of instruments, but there are still many reforms urgently called for which admits of introduction apart from any structural changes. His Honour has accordingly been pleased to appoint the following Committee to inquire into and report upon the working of the General Hospital :—

Surgeon-Lieutenant-Colonel G. Bomford, Principal, Medical College	President.
Allan Arthur, Esq., President, Chamber of Commerce	Members.
Surgeon-Lieutenant-Colonel J. Lewtas, Officiating Professor of Anatomy, Medical College
Surgeon-Lieutenant-Colonel R. Cobb, Officiating Superintendent, Presidency General Hospital ...
Mrs. Ashton, Honorary Secretary, Ladies' Committee of the Canning Home and Calcutta Hospital Nurses Institution
Surgeon-Captain D. M. Moir, Officiating First Resident Surgeon, Presidency General Hospital	Secretary.

3. It will be the duty of the Committee to examine thoroughly and report upon all branches of the internal management of the hospital, including the hours of attendance of the medical and nursing staff; the arrangements for the diet of all classes of patients; the routine of nursing; the sufficiency of the instruments in stock; the system of supplying clothes, linen, and bedding for the use of patients; the number of servants employed and their respective duties. Their recommendations for reforms in connection with these and any other points of hospital management which may come before them should be clearly set out, and might perhaps conveniently be accompanied by a set of draft rules for the management of the hospital. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that they will find it possible to submit their report within the next three months. While anxious to bring the hospital arrangements up to the level of present-day requirements, His Honour must impress upon the Committee the absolute necessity of framing their proposals with strict regard to a severe economy.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

WATER-SUPPLY.

No. 2018L.S.G.—The 8th April 1897.—The following reports of the progress made in the districts of Khulna and Cuttack in collecting and placing on record the chief facts regarding water-supply are published for general information.

H. H. RISLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 163G.—L.S.-G., dated Calcutta, the 26th March 1897.

From—E. V. WESTMACOTT, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

IN continuation of this office letter No. 133G.—L.S.-G., dated the 21st January 1897, submitting the first quarterly report on the progress made in each district of this Division in collecting and placing on record the chief facts regarding water-supply, and the steps taken by the Municipalities and District Boards of this Division to improve the existing sources of water-supply and to open new ones, I have the honour to enclose a copy of a letter No. 634, dated the 12th March 1897, from the Collector of Khulna, reporting on the steps taken by the Municipalities in his district.

No. 634, dated Khulna, the 12th March 1897.

From—W. H. VINCENT, Esq., Magistrate of Khulna,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

WITH reference to your letter No. 36M.-Cir., dated 18th December 1896, forwarding copy of Government Circular No. 58L.S.-G., dated 12th idem, directing to submit quarterly reports of progress made in each district in collecting and placing on record the chief facts regarding water supply, and the steps, if any, that have been taken by Municipalities and District Boards, respectively, to improve existing resources of water-supply and to open new ones, I have the honour to report as follows.

2. The Commissioners of the Khulna Municipality have made the following progress:—

(a) One tank reserved for drinking purposes only has been excavated in the village Bonakhamar.

(b) The reserved tank of the civil station is being filled up with the river water.

(c) Plan and estimate have already been submitted to Government for sanction of a new tank in the village Choto Boyra.

(d) A reservoir of water is being constructed near De garden.

(e) The Tootpara reservoir of water for Tootpara villages especially has been connected by pipes with the main reservoir.

3. The Commissioners of the Satkhira Municipality have cleared some tanks in the Satkhira, Pransagor and Bankal wards by issuing notices upon their owners; they have recently reserved one tank named Manikpukur in the Bankal ward, and they are taking steps to sink some wells in the manner in which they are ordinarily dug in this part of the country in some of the wards where drinking water will be greatly needed during the ensuing dry season.

4. The Commissioners of the Debhatta Municipality report the following progress:—

(a) There are altogether 195 tanks within the Municipality, of which 73 may be called wholesome: out of the latter 36 only may serve the purpose of supplying good drinking water.

(b) The number of unwholesome tanks is still 122 after the re-excavation of 14 more in the year under report. Three of these 14 were re-excavated by the Municipality under section 200 of the Bengal Municipal Act, and have been reserved for the supply of drinking water under section 199. The remaining 11 were re-excavated by the owners thereof.

(c) Five more old tanks are under orders of re-excavation, while two have been required to be cleansed under section 200.

(d) There is one private well in the compound of a private gentleman who uses its water which is good for drinking purpose. Two more wells have been sunk by the Municipality, but they are not popular with the people though they contain pure water.

No. 878.-G., dated Cuttack, the 30th March 1897.

Memo by—H. G. Cooke, Esq., Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

Copy, with that of its enclosure, forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Municipal Department for information, with reference to paragraph 2 of this office memorandum No. 31S.-G., dated the 22nd January 1897.

No. 320, dated Puri, the 13th March 1897.

From—W. H. Lee, Esq., Officiating Magistrate of Puri,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

With reference to your No. 399S.-G., dated 17th December 1896, I have the honour to submit a copy of the Puri Municipal Chairman's report on the chief facts regarding water-supply in the Puri town for the quarter ending 31st December 1896. As regards the localities outside the Municipality, the names of villages containing 100 houses and upwards with their population have been taken down from the census register, and some 25 villages have been inspected and their sources of water-supply noted. No steps have been taken by the District Board during the quarter to improve existing sources of water-supply and to open new ones The Markund tank is now, I am sorry to say, just as filthy as it ever was. The Swetganga is. and always has been, indescribably bad, the stuff it contains being more like soup than water.,

Quarterly report on water-supply.

There are 281 tanks in the town of Puri, out of which four are big ones, namely, the Narendra, Indradumu, Markand and Swetganga, belonging to the Rani of Puri. The water of the first two tanks remains unpolluted in all the seasons during the year, but that of the last two, which are sacred tanks and used for religious purposes only by the Hindus, become dirty in almost all the seasons. Numerous attempts were made to keep the water of these tanks clean and useful, but they were of no avail, specially in the case of the Swetganga tank. Lately in the month of May last an attempt was made to dewater and cleanse the Markand tank with a steam pump, which proved a total success, whereas in case of the latter it failed. There being no proper outlet or inlet of the Swetganga tank, the water of it cannot have free intercourse with any river or such like stream so as to remedy the defects contained in it.

2. Thirty-four tanks belonging to both Municipality and private individuals have been cleansed and weeds removed out of them during the quarter under report, and a tank near the police town station has been filled in on account of its being in an insanitary condition and found greatly objectionable to the locality.

3. There are 862 wells in the town both municipal and private, and the following improvements have been made regarding their cleansing during the quarter under review:—14 municipal wells disinfected with permanganate of potassium and 79 with slaked lime. These wells were all cleaned out and vegetable growths in them removed, and also wells belonging to private individuals were all cleaned out in accordance with the proclamation given before the panchuk festival; three wells were closed for drinking under section 199A of the Bengal Municipal Act, the water being found quite unfit for the purpose. Five wells in public places belonging to the Municipality have been fitted with pumps for the convenience of the people drawing water out of them. The sinking of a few wells in the localities in which they are required is under consideration, and a few insanitary tanks require filling up.

Sitala Ch. Ghosh,
Chairman, Puri Municipality.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1896.

No. 869Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 13th April 1897.

READ—

Letter from the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, No. 875, dated the 12th March 1897, submitting the Report of the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta for the year 1896.

The report was due to Government on the 1st March, and was received on the 12th idem.

2. Establishment.—The duties of the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta were performed throughout the year by Dr. Forsyth. His work was done in the steam-launch Relief and a steam-cutter until September, when the steam-cutter was replaced by a row-boat. The Sanitary Inspector carried out his duties in a bholio.

3. Inspections.—The total number of vessels inspected during the year was 1,566, against 1,592 in the previous year and 1,589 in 1894. The total number of vessels which arrived in port was 1,032, of which 838 were inspected. There were 1,053 departures, of which 728 were inspected. All vessels are inspected on arrival, with the exception of Indian coasting, steamers which are only inspected four times a year.

4. Ventilation of crew space.—The Health Officer mentions six vessels that have had their forecastle ventilation improved, but he draws attention to serious defects in the new types of vessels, which the British India Steam Navigation Company and the Clan Line have introduced. He points out that the iron stem-to-stern decks in the new vessels of the former Company get intensely hot, and are in consequence most trying to both officers and men in the hot weather. The new cargo boats brought out by the Clan Line have not only narrow unsheathed iron decks raised above the iron hull, but also iron-sided officers' cabins. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Health Officer in thinking that both the decks and officers' quarters of these vessels should be sheathed in wood. The Health Officer will be called upon to submit a further report on this subject.

5. Sickness and mortality among European seamen.—The number of European seamen, who arrived in the port during the year 1896, was 17,053, against 18,015 in the previous year. The daily average number in port was 1,124, against 1,431 in 1895. The total number of admissions into hospital was 1,121, and the death-rate per mille was 28·46, against 24·45 in the year previous, and 16·83 the quinquennial mean. Including the deaths out of hospital, the death-rate per mille was 40·92 during the year, against 31·44, 26·33 and 24·50 in the three preceding years.

Of the admissions into hospital, 23 cases were due to cholera, and 18 ended fatally. There were 61 admissions from bowel-complaints, one case of small-pox and one of sunstroke. There were 7 cases of drowning, against 5 in the previous year.

The following table shows the number of admissions into hospital from venereal diseases during the year 1896 and the previous ten years:—

Year.	Admissions.	Admission rate per 1,000.
1886	417	179·2
1887	228	120·4
1888	183	121·1
1889	186	114·3
1890	248	147·7
1891	185	129·7
1892	479	224·5
1893	386	185·4
1894	343	231·6
1895	342	238·9
1896	215	191·2

The total number of admissions is lower than the admissions in any of the preceding four years.

6. Sickness and mortality among the native floating population —There were altogether 219 deaths in and out of hospital, against 123 deaths in 1895 and 137 in 1894, the death-rate per mille (8·54) being higher than that of 1895, which was 4·79. Of this total, 156 deaths were from cholera, against 68 deaths from this cause in 1895. There was one death from small-pox, 31 deaths from fever and 9 from bowel-complaints. Twenty-nine patients died in hospital, 27 of them from cholera, and 190 out of hospital.

7. Pilgrim traffic.—No vessels with pilgrims for Mecca sailed from the Port of Calcutta during the year 1896, but one vessel, the S.S. Sultan, sailed from Jeddah with 1,156 pilgrims and arrived at Calcutta with 1,112 pilgrims. There were 44 deaths during the voyage from Jeddah. No complaints were made.

8. Infectious diseases.—Five steamers arrived with small-pox on board. The cases were removed to the Campbell Hospital, and the vessels disinfected: unprotected members of the crew and passengers were vaccinated.

The number of corpses found floating in the river was 165, against 133 in 1895. The number of carcasses was 2,707, against 2,216 in the previous year. The increase will be brought to the notice of the Judicial Department.

9. Plague.—Plague having broken out at Bombay, quarantine was imposed by the Government to prevent its being brought by sea into the Port of Calcutta. The quarantine regulations were imposed from the 21st October 1896. From that date to the end of the year 31 steamers arrived from Bombay. On none of the vessels was there any case of plague. It is stated that the masters of vessels bound from Bombay are under instructions from their Agents to prevent the crew going ashore whilst in the Port of Bombay. On the voyage from Bombay to Calcutta, the crew's quarters and property are fumigated with sulphur, and the floors and walls of the forecastle, &c., are washed out with a phenyle lotion. One vessel, which arrived in port on 16th December, had on board 80 bales of rags and waste paper for the Bally Paper Mills. The bales were not landed, but after being fumigated with sulphur in the hold, were put into a cargo boat, and towed to a point some six miles below Budge-Budge where they were landed and burnt. The coolies employed in landing and piling the bales were washed in a solution of corrosive sublimate, and the cargo boat was also washed with the same disinfectant.

10. Water-supply.—Municipal filtered water was supplied to the shipping throughout the year, and no complaints regarding the quality of the water supplied were made.

11. Food.—At the request of the master of the Falls of Ettrick, the beef and salt pork were examined, and two casks of the former and one of the latter were condemned. An examination of the biscuits of the Arracan was made at the request of the master, and about one ton was condemned. Two of the crew of one vessel complained of the beef not being fit to eat when cooked, but the beef was found to be of good quality. A complaint made by three members of the crew of another vessel led to 3 cwt. of biscuits being condemned.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. D. McARTHUR, Colonel, R.E.,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

During the period of 10 days under report, rice continued to be imported in large quantities from Burma, namely, 274,970 cwts., against 147,787 cwts. in the week ending 21st March 1897. The only other ports from which rice was imported into Calcutta were Balasore (9,370 cwts. against 19,490 cwts. in the corresponding period of 1896) and Chandbali (14,119 cwts. against 28,721 cwts. in the corresponding period of last year). Burma contributed 14,002 cwts. of the total import of 15,037 cwts. of paddy, against nothing during the 10 days ending 31st March 1896. The improvement under gram and pulses and miscellaneous food-grains was due to larger despatches from the Madras ports and from Rangoon.

Exports.—In the following statement the total quantity of each kind of food-grain exported by sea during the last 10 days of March 1897 is compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1896 :—

Foreign Ports.

The total quantity of rice exported to Foreign ports fell off from 274,180 cwts in the corresponding period of last year to 109,200 cwts. during the period under report. The exports in the preceding week were 172,980 cwts. There was a heavy decline in the quantities sent to Ceylon, namely, 5,606 cwts. against 118,586 cwts., and to Mauritius 1,467 cwts. against 28,041 cwts. in the corresponding period of last year; there were no exports at all to Germany and to states in Arabia other than Muscat and Reunion, against 66,411 cwts. carried to those ports in the corresponding period of last year; there was an increase in the shipments to the United Kingdom—44,484 cwts. against 27,707 cwts., to Natal 29,524 cwts. against 18,334 cwts., to Muscat in Arabia 12,477 cwts. against 935 cwts., and to Persia 4,479 cwts. against 499 cwts. during the corresponding period of 1896. The decrease under gram and pulses was due to the absence of exports to Mauritius, the United Kingdom, and to Reunion.

Indian Ports.

With the coast ports there was practically no trade in food-grains. The consignments of rice fell from 52,643 cwts. in the last 10 days of March 1896 to 8,928 cwts. during the period now under review; the port of Bombay showed a decline of 21,603 cwts. The increase in the trade in gram and pulses was 4,394 cwts. as compared with the same period of the preceding year. The trade under the other heads was small, and the fluctuations call for no remarks.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below.

Imports. The rise of 17,650 cwts. in the import trade of Chittagong, which amounted to 18,038 cwts., was chiefly due to the receipts of rice and paddy from Burma, against 80 cwts. in the corresponding week of 1896.

Exports. There being no exports to Foreign and Indian ports from Chittagong, Narayanganj, and Cuttack, the trade of those ports declined by 1,102 cwts., 73 cwts., and 12,575 cwts. respectively. The trade of Puri, too, fell off by 1,469 cwts. on account of smaller shipments of rice to Foreign ports. As regards the Balasore ports, the exports of rice to Mauritius amounted to 47,882 cwts. during the week under review, against nothing in the week ending 14th March 1896. The shipments of rice to Calcutta diminished from 30,969 cwts. to 13,645 cwts., and of paddy from 12,824 cwts. to 4,660 cwts., while those of gram and pulse showed no great fluctuation, viz., 2,514 cwts. against 2,183 cwts.

PRELIMINARY NOTE ON THE OUTTURN OF THE RABI FOOD-CROPS IN BENGAL.

THE following is published for general information.

REV. DEPT., The 13th April 1897.

M. FINUCANE, Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE BENGAL.

Preliminary Note on the outturn of the rabi food-crops in Bengal, harvested in the spring of 1897.

Explanatory.—In consequence of the incomplete estimates returned by District Officers of rabi non-food-crops, it has not been found possible to prepare, by the due date, a complete report on area cultivated with all kinds of rabi crops during the present season and the outturn expected. The present forecast is, therefore, confined to an estimate of rabi food-crops only, for which early information was necessary. It is proposed to issue a more full report on the area cultivated with all kinds of rabi crops (food and non-food) and on the outturn obtained about a month hence.

2. Character of the season.—The monsoon season of 1896 was exceptionally dry, and the rains, moreover, ceased early in the latter part of September. The month of October was practically rainless, and no general rain was received over the Province till the third week of November. The absence of rain during this period, and the deficient rainfall of the previous months, produced a lack of moisture in the soil, which interfered seriously with the preparation of the land and the sowings of the rabi crops generally. Rain fell on the 23rd and 24th November in many parts of these Provinces, but the showers were too light to do much good to the rabi crops which had been sown. In December there was no rain in Lower Bengal and Orissa. In North Bengal there was general rain on the 31st, and in Bihar and Chota Nagpur light rain fell on the 25th and 31st. In January, rain was very light throughout the Province, in most parts practically nil. In February useful showers were received in all parts of these Provinces during the first three weeks of the month, which improved the prospects of the standing crops to some extent. The showers were generally light, except the rain which fell about the middle of the month in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. No rain fell during the last week of February. The rainfall of February was above the normal in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, practically normal in Bihar, and in defect of the normal in Bengal Proper. Hail slightly damaged the standing crops in Palamau during the first week of February. There was rain in the first week of March in parts of Northern and Eastern Bengal.

In the second week slight showers of rain fell in many districts; and in parts of Bhagalpur and Palamau the rain was accompanied by hail and storm which did some damage to standing crops. In the third week scattered showers (accompanied in some instances by high winds) fell in different parts of these Provinces. During the last week of March rain was general all over the Province. It proved useful to spring crops, and is not reported to have injured the crops ready for harvest or lying on the threshing floor.

Blight did some damage to the crops in Patna.

3. Area cultivated.—In the district returns appended hereto, the total area sown with rabi food-crops during the season 1896-97 is estimated at 8,226,300 acres, against 8,993,000 acres estimated to have been cropped in the previous year. The decrease of 766,700 acres (8·6 per cent.) is due to the early cessation of the monsoon rains in September last. Contraction in the area cultivated is especially noticeable in Birbhum, Bankura, the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Murshidabad, Rangpur, Patna, Chittagong, Darbhanga, Saran, Monghyr, Palamau, Puri, and Angul. The district reports generally state that large areas could not be sown for want of moisture in the soil. On the other hand, there is an increase in the total area under rabi food crops this year, as compared with the corresponding areas of last year in Midnapore, Jalpaiguri, Dacca, Patna, Gaya, Shahabad and Purnea. The differences in Midnapore and Dacca have arisen from a revision of estimates. The increase in Jalpaiguri is stated to be due to the introduction of rabi cereals and pulses in the Duars; and in the other districts mentioned above, the increase is due to the extended cultivation of rabi crops on paddy lands after the failure of bhadoi and winter paddy. The failure of these latter crops led to an extension of cultivation of boro paddy in Jessore, Rajshahi, Faridpur, Cuttack and Balasore.

4. Character of the crop.—The present season has not been favourable to the rabi crops in these Provinces. The crops suffered very badly at the time of sowing for want of moisture in the soil. The drought that followed lasting up to the third week of November checked the proper growth and development of the plants, and the showers of January and February, which were generally below the normal, though useful, were not at all sufficient to redeem the season. Out of the 45 districts of these Provinces, one district only, viz., Gaya, returns an average crop of 16 annas, which is reported to be the result of timely rainfall; 6 districts, viz., Khulna, Rangpur, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, and Malda, return crops between 12 annas and a little above 14 annas; 22* districts return crops varying from 8 to 12 annas, and 16† districts, including 7 out of the 10 districts of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, 4 out of the 5 districts of the Chota Nagpur Division and Rajshahi, Pabna, Faridpur, Chittagong and Angul and the Khondmals, return crops less than 8 annas. In Manbhum and Chittagong the crops are estimated at only $3\frac{1}{2}$ and 2 annas, respectively. Taking the Province as a whole, it would appear that the rabi food-crops of 1896-97 are poorer than those of 1895-96. The arithmetical mean of the outturn of this season, calculated with reference to the areas cultivated, comes to $10\frac{1}{3}$ annas, against $11\frac{1}{2}$ annas estimated as the outturn of 1895-96 over a large area.

In the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions which together comprise $\frac{5}{8}$ths of the total area under rabi food-crops and where the area under cultivation with rabi food-crops is not much less than was cultivated last year, the outturn may be put at not less than 12 annas.

* Midnapore, Jessore, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, Bogra, Dacca, Mymensingh, Backergunge, Tippera, Noakhali, Patna, Shahabad, Saran, Champaran, Monghyr, Purnea, Santhal Parganas, Cuttack, Balasore, Puri and Hazaribagh.

† Burdwan, Birbhum, Bankura, Hooghly, 24-Parganas, Nadia, Murshidabad, Rajshahi, Pabna, Faridpur, Chittagong, Angul and Khondmals, Lohardaga, Palamau, Manbhum and Singhbhum.

Assistant Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

COUNTERSIGNED.

W. C. MACPHERSON,

Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

Bankura ... 16-3-97.	1,677,440	642,800	Wheat	6,500	7,400	2,800	10	5	The season of 1896 was characterised by complete cessation of rain. Owing to unusual dryness of the ground during the year about one-fourth of the normal area only was cultivated. The deficiency of rainfall at the sowing time and continued want of rain also affected the outturn during the year.

Midnapore ... 19-3-97.	3,292,800	2,111,500	Wheat	4,300	1,600	1,600	7	11	There has been an increase in the normal area,* and the area brought under cultivation under boro or summer rice and other rabi food-crops. This is owing to more accurate information having now been received. The real outturn is not likely to be better than last year's, but it looks so on paper owing to great improvement in Ghatal, where most of the crops are likely to be between 8 to 10 annas in place of a 2-anna crop of last year. These crops have mostly suffered for want of rain at the sowing time.	* The Collector means that he has raised his estimate of normal area. The estimate in column 6 has evidently not been revised by the Collector.

Shahabad — 25-3-97.	2,600,000	1,712,400	Wheat	302,600	122,600	153,500		8½	The Subdivisional Officer of Buxar altered his estimate of area returned in the first forecast of the wheat crop for 1896-97 from 12,784 to 13,500 acres consequent on the recent enquiries made by him, and hence the difference in the area under wheat as compared with that shown in the first wheat forecast. The increase of area under other crops in column 7 over that in column 6 is due to the failure of the rice crop, a good deal of paddy lands being utilised this year for rabi cultivation.	The "normal area" can hardly be correct. It is difficult to credit that the yield of the rabi crops has been so different this year in Shahabad and Gaya.

It had a wonderful effect in improving the barley and wheat crop, &c., while at the same time it was too light to do any harm to arhar or mustard. Allowing for the reduced area under cultivation in some parts of the district, the rabi food-crop is estimated at about 8 annas in Madhubani, 12 annas in Darbhanga, and 16 annas in Samastipur. This does not agree with the subdivisional returns, which are 9 for Madhubani, 11 for Darbhanga, and 9 for Samastipur. The first is too high; the second is perhaps rather low; the third, namely Samastipur, is absurdly low, and I have raised it to 16, as the area under rabi crops is there as large as usual. This is not the case within the Darbhanga and Madhubani subdivisions.

Cuttack ... 8-3-97.	Wheat	2,300	1,400	1,000	Annas. 16	Annas. 4	In the forecast for wheat crops for 1896-97, the Subdivisional Officer of Kendrapara showed the outturn as 2 annas, whereas in this return he shows 4 annas. The increase is said to be due to the rain of February last. The figures for gram shown in the return for last year are included in those for other rabi cereals and pulses, because in Kendrapara birki was included under gram, though it properly comes under other rabi cereals and pulses. There has been an increase in area under dalua, as an account of the loss of the sarad crop dalua, has been largely grown, advantage being taken of the ample supply of canal water by canal authorities. The rains of February have improved the crops. There has been a decrease in area as compared with the normal and in the outturn as compared with that of last year of wheat and other pulses. This is due to want of rain. The area under boro rice is above the normal as the ryots were induced to cultivate it to compensate the loss of winter rice by floods. The decrease in outturn is due to want of rain.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1897.

WEATHER during March was more unsettled than is usual at the time of the year, when the change from cold to hot weather is becoming established. Though the mean values of the various meteorological data do not differ much from the corresponding normals, they underwent numerous and in some cases large changes, while at times they varied (especially temperature) largely from the normal.

There were four occasions of disturbed weather owing to passing depressions, and on at least two of these occasions there were well-marked peculiarities similar to those I referred to in the report for February. The two most important peculiarities were (1) the tendency which the depressions showed of moving southwards and ultimately becoming diffused or disappearing over the Bay; (2) the continued cloudy weather which lasted at times for two or three days. Owing to the second of these two, the average cloud values are above the normal over the whole Province by from 10 to 20 per cent. except at Darjeeling, where there was much less cloud than usual in March. As a consequence of the continued cloud during the times of disturbance, maximum or day temperatures were very low, but these low readings were counterbalanced by the high temperatures during the early part of the month, especially about the 10th, when there was a large excess in all districts for some days.

Under present conditions a more important effect of these repeated disturbances was the frequent rainfall. Every district received amounts in excess of the normal, and the distribution of the rain shows the unusual behaviour of the depressions to which it was due. Lower Bengal received less compared with the normal than any other part of the Province, whereas in Orissa more than three times the normal amount fell. Bihar and Chota Nagpur also received between two and three times their normal falls for March. If the depressions had followed their usual course eastward, the falls in Lower Bengal would have been heavier, and in all probability there would have been much less rain in Orissa. The unusual displacement of the depressions towards the south brought Orissa more under their influence, and as in the end they disappeared over the Bay, the northerly winds which then set in over Lower Bengal were not favourable for the development of the thunderstorms to which rainfall at this season of the year is due.

The heavier rainfall in North Bengal appears to be connected with the peculiarity noticed above regarding the direction of motion of the depressions. While the shallow depressions approached the west of the Province, as usual from the west, pressure fell in North Bengal, and a local depression formed there. These local depressions were not of long duration, but they gave rise to rain earlier in North Bengal than in the other districts. The fall of pressure was followed by a rapid rise, which spread southwards and met the shallow depression from the west, causing it to take a more southerly course over Orissa into the Bay area.

At the beginning of the month the pressure distribution was still of the cold-weather type, readings being highest in North Bengal and lowest in Ceylon. The gradient, however, was very slight, and winds were light and south-westerly over a great part of the Province. Temperature was below the normal except in the south-western districts, where there was a small excess. On the 2nd rather large changes occurred, and entirely altered the character of the distribution. Readings became lowest over Bengal, while with the more general establishment of southerly winds, the area of high temperature spread northwards. Pressure fell more rapidly on the 3rd, and still more so on the 4th, on which date the fall was more than ·15 inch in Bihar, and the steady increase of gradient continued till the 5th. There were then present all the signs of a depression over the western half of the Province. Winds were east or south-east at nearly all stations, and defect in pressure increased from ·07 inch in East Bengal to ·22 inch in the west of Bihar. The depression moved rapidly eastward over the Province, and caused only a few showers—most of them in East and North Bengal.

The usual fall of temperature accompanied the westerly winds in rear of the depression, but the change was not very marked, and a considerable excess remained in the south of the Province.

Another disturbance followed in a few days, and this was perhaps the best example of the double change to which I have referred above. On the 10th cloudy showery weather began in Chota Nagpur; and though pressure had changed very slightly, these winds were south-easterly, showing there was a low-pressure area to the west; also on the 10th there was a brisk fall of pressure in North Bengal and the adjacent parts of Assam and East Bengal, and the winds had a cyclonic arrangement round a centre near Bogra. On the 11th there were two areas of rapidly-falling pressure—one in North Bengal, the other in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. The winds were very irregular, especially in the southern districts. On the 12th and 13th pressure rose—first briskly and then rapidly—in North Bengal, and the area of lowest pressure was on the former date over Orissa, and on the latter over the Circars and the south-west of the Bay.

Scattered showers fell on the 11th in most districts, and in a few on the 10th and 12th; but as north-westerly winds became general, the cloudy showery weather soon ceased. From being about 10° above on the 11th, temperature fell to 5° below the normal on the 13th, after which it began to rise, but was not in excess till the 17th. Settled weather with south-westerly winds and steadily increasing temperature prevailed till the 20th, when the third disturbance began. The fall of pressure in North Bengal, which was such a noticeable feature in the previous case, was not marked in this case, but the rapid rise began in the extreme north of the Province, and had the same effect as before in forcing the depression over the north of the Bay. On the 22nd pressure was lowest in Bihar, and south-easterly winds prevailed over the whole Province; on the 23rd readings were low at all the western stations as far south as the Circars; on the 24th lowest pressure was in the north of Madras. These changes show a striking similarity to those connected with the previous disturbance, but a difference arose from the rise of pressure not being maintained over Bengal. This resulted in a uniform distribution over the Province, irregular winds, and continued thunderstorms.

The rainfall caused by the above disturbance began on the 21st, but was then limited to a few scattered showers, mostly in Chota Nagpur. On the three following days showers were very general over the whole Province, and in some places heavy, a few stations in Orissa and the adjacent part of South-West Bengal receiving more than 3 inches. The rainfall ceased first in Bihar on the 24th, and on the 25th was confined almost entirely to North Bengal and Orissa.

Unusually dense cloud for the season prevailed for two or three days, and mean temperature fell many degrees below the normal. The coolest weather was on the 24th when defect varied from 5° in the east to 15° in Chota Nagpur and South Bihar.

A short period of cool settled weather followed, the first signs of an interruption appearing on the 28th, when winds became easterly and thunderstorms began in the west. Pressure changes on that date were more irregular than usual, but gave only a faint indication of unsettled weather. On the 29th pressure rose everywhere, but again by variable amounts, and the local storms were evidently due to the interaction of the variable winds which then obtained.

The rapid fall of pressure on the 30th in North Bengal caused a steeper gradient from south-west to north-east; a more regular system of south-westerly winds followed, and by the end of the month weather was again more settled. Temperature remained low throughout the last week owing to the frequent thunderstorms, the average defect being about 5°.

Pressure on an average for the whole month was slightly below the normal in all districts, the greatest defect being about ·02 in Lower Bengal, Orissa, and part of Bihar. The changes that occurred during the month were at times large and irregular; but as the more important of them have already been described above in connection with the disturbances, it is unnecessary to make any further reference to them.

Temperature.—Neither day nor night temperatures show much variation from the corresponding normal means, but the variations from day to day were at times very large. During the early part of the month there was considerably greater heat than is usual in the early part of March, excess at times being more than 10°. During the latter half of the month, when weather remained unsettled for several days at a time, there was a large defect in mean daily temperature. These differences neutralise one another on an average for the whole month, so that the mean difference is rarely more than 1°. There was a small excess in the south of the Province and a small defect in the north.

Rainfall.—There were four periods of rainy weather, the most important being between the 22nd and 24th when general and in places heavy rain fell over the whole Province. Light scattered showers fell about the 6th, the 11th, and after the period referred to in the previous sentence on the 29th and 30th. The showers were much heavier on the two last occasions, especially in the south-western districts, where some places received more than 3 inches.

The average rainfall for the month is above the normal in all districts, more especially in the west of the Province. Excess is 2·62 inches in Orissa, 1·33 inches in North Bengal, nearly 1 inch in Chota Nagpur and Bihar, and about half-an-inch in Lower Bengal.

The rainfall being caused by thunderstorms was irregular in its distribution, and it is needless giving details of the larger amounts, as they are to be found in the preceding tables:—

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of March 1897:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed, open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Those students who may be selected are expected to enter formally and commence attendance at the College upon the 14th.

2. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student who has not previously passed the First Arts examination of the Calcutta or an Indian University, or a preliminary Arts examination of the United Kingdom recognised by the British General Medical Council.

3. All matriculated students of the College shall pay Rs. 15 on entrance, Rs. 35 on the 1st June, and Rs. 35 on 1st November of each year. Rupees 6 extra will be required from each student for each course of dissections. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

Muhammadan students are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance and half fee, i.e. Rs. 17-8, per session. The remaining half fees are charged to the Mohsin Fund.

4. No free presentations will be awarded at the beginning of the session, but the fees shall be refunded to the 10 students who passed highest in all subjects at the end of their first year of study.

5. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professor of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following:—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject in one year ...	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice ...	60

6. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a medical school in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance of lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or, in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

7. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College who wishes to attend any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in paragraph 5. If he has passed the Entrance examination of the University, he shall receive certificates of attendance at lectures. If he has not passed the Entrance examination, he shall receive no class certificates.

8. At the end of their first year, students will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Chemistry, and Botany. Those who gain not less than 20 per cent. in two subjects, and not less than 15 per cent. in a third, will be eligible for promotion to the second-year class. Those who fail to gain the aforesaid percentage of marks will not be eligible for promotion, but will go through the first-year class again.

9. Students of the second year will be required to pass a College test examination in Anatomy, Physiology, and Materia Medica. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. in two subjects and 15 per cent. in a third will be entitled to go up in the following March or April for the Preliminary Scientific Examination of the Calcutta University, the subjects of which are Chemistry and Botany. Those who (after passing the College test) fail at the University examination will be entitled, equally with those who pass it, to join the third-year class, at the end of which the former will have to present themselves, as at present, for the combined Preliminary Scientific and 1st L.M.S. (or 1st M.B.) examination.

10. Those students who fail at the College test examination of the second year will not be debarred from going up for the Preliminary Scientific examination, but will be encouraged to do so in order to get that stage over; but whether they pass or fail at the University examination, they will be relegated for a further year to the second-year class, provided that those who pass the University examination will not be required to attend the courses in those subjects in which they have passed.

11. Students of the third year will present themselves for the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination of the Calcutta University. Those who fail at this examination will be relegated for a further year to the third-year class.

12. Students of the first or second-year class who fail a second time, at the same stage, to gain promotion to the next higher class, will be removed from the College and will not be entitled to re-admission. Third-year students who fail a second time will be liable to removal from the College; but if they are specially recommended by the Principal, they may again be relegated to the third-year class, on payment of the fees laid down in Rule 16, and re-admitted to the 1st L.M.S. or 1st M.B. examination, and this concession may be allowed for any number of years at the discretion of the Principal.

13. Students of the fourth-year class will be required to pass a College test examination in Surgery, Medicine, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence. Those who pass the examination with 20 per cent. of the marks in three subjects, and 15 per cent. in a fourth, will be eligible for promotion to the fifth-year class. Those who fail will be relegated to the fourth-year class for a further year. The examination in Surgery and Medicine will be both theoretical and clinical; but those students who can obtain from the Visiting Surgeon or Physician, to whose wards they have been attached, a certificate that they have really profited by their instruction in either subject, will be excused the clinical examination in that subject.

14. Students who fail at the 2nd L.M.S or 2nd M.B. examination will have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they have failed, in accordance with the regulations of the University.

15. The Principal will determine the maximum number that may be admitted to the first-year class. Students who have failed at the test examination of the first-year will have a prior claim to re-admission over new students.

16. Students re-admitted to a class after failure at the test examination will be required to pay half the regular fee for the session (Rs. 35), but extra fees as for dissection (Rs. 6) in full. The half fee must be paid at the commencement of the session in June. Those, however, who, after failing either at the Preliminary Scientific Examination or at the final examination, have to attend a further course of lectures in the subject or subjects in which they failed, shall be required to pay for such lectures a fee of Rs. 20 for one subject, Rs. 30 for two, and Rs. 35 for three. Exceptions to this latter rule may be made in special cases by the Director of Public Instruction on the recommendation of the Principal.

These scholarships are tenable for two years, provided the holder passes creditably the Test and Honour examinations at the end of his fourth year. In the event of any scholarship being forfeited under this condition, it may be awarded for one year to any student of the fifth year who has fulfilled the conditions and is not the holder of any scholarship. These scholarships shall not be awarded to students who have gained the Durga Charan Laha scholarship of Rs. 30 per mensem or any other scholarship.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the 1st Monday in June. The examination will be conducted either at the College or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements in regard to the place and hour of examination with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be oligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth not required if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application through his immediate official superior to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principals for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principals not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

N. B.—The attention of candidates is drawn to the alteration in rule 2 (3). In future no candidate is to apply direct to the Principal for permission to attend the examination, but must send his application through an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who will decide whether the candidate is to be admitted.

The Principal will attend to no application received direct.

Acts of the Bengal Council.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honour on the 15th February, 1897, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General on the 8th April, 1897, is hereby published for general information :—

ACT No. II OF 1897.

An Act to enlarge the scope of the Charitable Trust created by the Will of the late Mrs. Sally Murray.

WHEREAS the late Mrs. Sally Murray, of Calcutta, widow of Daniel Murray, deceased, by her last Will and Testament, executed on the 5th day of November, 1844, inter alia created a Charitable Trust in the following terms, namely :—

"I direct my said Trustees, so soon as they shall receive the proceeds of any of the said three several houses, to pay over the same and the residue of my estate then remaining in their hands to the Wardens or Warden for the time being of St. John's Cathedral in Calcutta, and I declare that the receipts or receipt of such Wardens or Warden for the time being shall be good and sufficient discharges and releases or discharge or release to the said Trustees for the moneys therein respectively mentioned.

"I request the said Wardens or Warden to pay and apply the moneys received by them or him under this my Will in obtaining the release from custody of persons deserving of or fit objects of charity and commiseration who may from time to time be imprisoned in the great Jail of Calcutta for debt;"

AND WHEREAS St. John's Cathedral ceased to be a Cathedral in the year 1847, and the moneys constituting the said Trust were made over to the Wardens of St. John's Church, Calcutta, in or about the year 1861 and are now, together with interest which has accumulated thereon, vested in the said Wardens;

AND WHEREAS recent legislation, especially the Debtors Act, 1888, passed by the Governor-General of India in Council, has so altered the position of deserving and unfortunate debtors that there is now, and has for some years past been, a practical failure of the object of the said Trust; VI of 1888.

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that the intention of the author of the said Trust should be carried out, as far as is, under existing circumstances, possible, by enlarging the scope of the Trust so as to include deserving poor persons in Calcutta who are not undergoing imprisonment for debt;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Murray Trust Act, 1897; and

(2) It shall come into force on the day on which it is first published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General thereto.

Administration of the Murray Charitable Trust.

2. All moneys which now are, or hereafter may be, vested in the Church Wardens of St. John's Church, Calcutta, in pursuance of the Trust cited in the preamble to this Act, shall be held and applied by the said Wardens and their successors in the office of Warden of the said Church upon the following trusts, that is to say:—

(1) to obtain the release from custody of persons deserving of or fit objects of charity and commiseration who may from time to time be imprisoned in the Calcutta jail for debt;

(2) if at any time there be no such persons as aforesaid, or after the release of all such persons has been so obtained, to afford, to deserving persons who are discharged from the Calcutta jail after undergoing a term of imprisonment imposed for a criminal offence, such assistance as the Church Wardens for the time being may consider requisite to enable them to earn their living honestly; and

(3) after such assistance as aforesaid has been afforded, to afford relief to the deserving poor of Calcutta.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO—New Guinea.

Position of certain islands to the northward.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 139 of 1897) that the undermentioned information, relating to the St. David or Freewill islands, Stephens island and Five Fathom bank, is partly from information received from the Netherlands Government, and partly from the records in the Hydrographic Office of the Admiralty:—

1. St. David or Freewill islands:—From recent observations of the Netherlands Government steam-vessel Zeemeeuw, which observations confirm to a great extent those formerly made in the East India Company's vessels early in the present century, the St. David or Freewill islands are situated between the parallels of 0° 45′ and 0° 55′ North latitude; and the meridians of 134° 15½′ and 134° 19½′ E. longitude; and not as shown on Admiralty Chart No. 942*b*.

The islands, three in number, are surrounded by coral reefs; the southern island being named, according to Carteret, Pegun; and the two northern, Onello and Onatu. The native name for the group is Mapia.

2. Stephens islands, marked on Admiralty Chart, No. 942*b*, as situated in lat. 0° 2′ S., long. 137° 55′ E., were originally reported by Captain Carteret, H.M.S. Swallow, in 1767, and were sighted by him the day before he saw the Freewill islands. There is no record of the Stephens islands having been sighted by anyone since they were originally reported.

As Captain Carteret's position of the Freewill islands was 3° of longitude eastward of the present accepted position, it seems clear that Stephens islands cannot at any rate be in the position assigned.

The position of the Swallow on the day the Stephens islands were discovered, calculated back from the present accepted position of the Freewill islands, was 0° 5′ North latitude, and about 136° 5′ East longitude, and from this position the islands bore S. 2° W. (true) and S. 4° E. (true).

It is therefore not impossible that Carteret may have mistaken the high peaks of the Schouten islands (1,600 feet high) for two islands.

Stephens islands are placed, for the present, on the Admiralty charts, in lat. 0° 22′ S., long. 136° 10′ E., with the letters E. D. against them; the latitude assigned being that originally given them by Captain Carteret.

Five Fathom bank:—The Five fathom bank, shown on Chart No. 942*b*, as on the equator and in long. 136° 15′ E., should be in long. 135° 43′ E.

From it the high peak (1,600 feet) of Supiori bears South.
